Reparations Must Precede Evacuation, Poincare Says, Rejecting British Proposal

RUHR POLICY BACKED IN FRENCH NOTE

PARIS, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—Germany can obtain evacuation of the Ruhr only by paying reparations, she can assure attenuation of the rigors of the occupation by ceasing passive resistance and she can win no reduction in the amount she owes France unless the allied creditors of France see fit to give France credit for equal amounts on her war debts.

These are the conclusions of Premier Poincare's reply to Marquis Curzon's reparation note of recent date. The French government also expresses its belief that the allies can agree on methods of bringing about the execution of the treaty by continuing courteous negotiations.

The British proposals for a re-estimate of Germany's capacity for payment and Lord Curzon's suggestion that the question of legality of the occupation of the Ruhr be referred to The Hague, are rejected, and the French position is reaffirmed as remaining unchanged.

FRENCH POSITION REMAINS UNCHANGED.

France holds that a settlement of the question of the inter-allied war debts should wait upon final payment by Germany of fifty billion gold marks in reparations comprised in the A and B bonds, official opinion of the reply, as set forth in the summary in English given out today at the foreign office is that the note contains the elements of a practical solution of the reparations problem, but a careful reading of the communication shows that in the opinion of M. Poincare the only practical solution is for Great Britain to accept the French thesis in every detail.

The French position remains unchanged, according to the official summary of the reply issued in English at the foreign office prior to publication of the complete text.

Premier Poincare stresses the priority of reparations over other war costs as represented by the inter-allied debts.

"France never repudiated the debts she contracted during the war, either to England or to America, in the interest of the common victory," the note asserts.

BRITISH INFERENCE REFERRED TO IN NOTE.

France is also the creditor of the other allies for five or six billion gold marks, the summary continues, but "there can be no doubt but that in the minds of those who drafted the treaty, damages to persons and property were to be granted priority over war costs." Therefore, asks the note, is it to be supposed that "such war costs, which the allies agreed should rank after reparations after pensions and after the damages stipulated in the treaty, and which they do not claim from Germany, are now to be claimed by the allies from each other before Germany has even begun to pay up?"

Referring specifically to the British demand for the payment of

Women Refuse To Move; Street Gang Is Bested

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—(By Associated Press.) — Women afoot, on soap boxes and in rocking chairs, stopped excavation on Highland boulevard, the chief thoroughfare leading to Hollywood Bowl.

"You're taking your lives in your hands, ladies," replied the operator. "Orders is orders and we've got 'em."

But the women refused to move, so the men had to stop work. And it was resumed only when the foreman of the gang pledged himself to have the avenue "in good shape" by tomorrow night.

BOOKS WITHHELD UNTIL FEE PAID

Formal Complaint Against Berkeley School System Is Made.

BERKELEY, Aug. 22.—Charges that students at Berkeley high school are being refused free text books unless they pay fees in the student body association were made to the board of education yesterday by Mrs. Mabel Mitchell, 2505 Webster street.

That her daughter was denied books unless she paid a dollar fee for student body membership and a twenty-five cent fee for towel service was Mrs. Mitchell's statement. This, she declared, was a general practice at the school.

Superintendent of Schools H. B. Wilson substantiated statements made by Mrs. Mitchell that she had registered complaints with him more than a year ago and declared that he thought the practice at the high school had been stopped. He said that instructions had been sent to Principal C. L. Biedenbach of the school not to refuse text books to any student, regardless of whether or not fees were paid.

BOOKS REFUSED UNTIL FEE PAID.

"Despite the superintendent's orders against this practice, students at the present time are being refused text books unless they pay these fees," declared Mrs. Mitchell. "I am an ardent supporter of student activities and believe that every pupil enrolled at the high school should contribute to these, but I cannot see why the combination no win effect at the high school should be made. Text books are supposed to be free to children of the state. Through our school law, parents are forced to keep their children in school until the age of 18 years for the benefit of the child. Too often this is made difficult, even a hardship, because of the continual requests (and in this case a demand) for money. Furthermore, we cannot hope to teach our children the first principles of good citizenship unless we live up to the letter of the law."

Members of the board of education expressed surprise at Mrs. Mitchell's charges and Wilson's substantiation of them. "Certainly, if this matter had been brought to the attention of the board, this situation would have been remedied," declared President W. B. Herms.

WILSON ORDERS WERE NOT OBEYED.

"I did not think it necessary to bother the board, as Mr. Wilson was supposed to be directly responsible for the administration of the schools," rejoined Mrs. Mitchell. "Mr. Wilson is absolutely blameless in this. He gave orders which were disregarded. The high school authorities are the ones responsible."

"I heartily agree with Mrs. Mitchell," was the statement of Director Ida M. Blochman. "This situation should never have arisen."

Director Carl Bartlett declared that the matter had been called to his attention several days before the meeting of the board and that the charges had been substantiated by his son, a high school student, who declared that he was forced to pay fees before receiving his text books.

Superintendent Wilson declared that orders had been sent to Principal Biedenbach to eliminate an objectionable clause in instructions to teachers which read "fees should be paid by students before they get their books."

Principal Biedenbach at first denied that the practice was in operation at the school, but later explained that some plan was necessary to finance student activities. He declared that, with new instructions from Superintendent Wilson, the situation had been remedied.

PROBE INTO JAIL BREAK IS STARTED

County authorities today began an investigation into conditions at the county jail with a view to determining the responsibility for the escape last night of Robert G. Dean, who was convicted of robbery in the Superior Court and was awaiting an appeal of his case.

District Attorney Ezra Decoto would not state today whether or not a grand jury investigation would be made into the situation at the jail, and he declined to make any comment on the matter of Dean's escape.

"The grand jury will meet Friday but I don't say whether or not anything will be said about the jail," said Decoto. "The situation at the jail was brought before the jury a week or so ago, but nothing was done about it. I don't propose to start any action."

Frank Barnet, county sheriff for the past 20 years, was not at his office this morning and a statement from him concerning the escape of Dean could not be obtained.

USUAL PRECAUTIONS WERE NOT USED.

From the circumstances of Dean's escape as they were obtained from attaches of the jail and related by an officer of the county, Dan Ferguson, the deputy in charge, neglected to use the precautionary appliances available at the jail in order to prevent the man's escape. Dean was not in the cell purposely constructed for prisoners when interviewing their attorneys or visiting with friends, but was in the open corridor with two doors between him and freedom. At the time he was talking with Chester Case, who is arranging for the appeal of his conviction on a charge of assisting in the robbery of the State theater of about $2000 in February.

When Mrs. Hattie White, jail matron, wished to leave the jail Ferguson opened the inner door on the corridor, according to the report, and then, without closing the inner door, opened the outer door. The only obstruction between Dean and liberty was Ferguson, who was unarmed and apparently off his guard.

Dean immediately saw his chance. He dashed down the corridor, brushed aside Mrs. White and the unarmed guardian at the open portal and was free.

Ferguson, about 40 years old, chased Dean, 28, to Fourth and Clay streets, leaving Mrs. White as guardian over the remaining prisoners in the institution.

ESCAPED PRISONER STILL AT LIBERTY.

Dean is still at liberty, although sheriff's deputies and detectives of the police department have been searching for him since last night.

The escape of Dean furnishes a denoument for a series of threatened jail breaks and the finding of various weapons of assault and escape in possession of jail inmates during the past few months.

This marks the fourth jailbreak at the county prison during the 20 years of the administration of Barnet. During this period 17,000 prisoners have been received in the jail, but only three of those who escaped, including Dean, are now at liberty.

In 1919 four men escaped when "Red" Everett held up Sam Vandervoort, jailor, at the point of a revolver and relieved him of the prison keys. Everett took with him "Dago Louie," Tom Howard and George L. Hobbs. Howard and Hobbs never were recaptured.

Eight years ago Robert Bradley escaped and was recaptured at Stockton. Jim. Cumford escaped 12 years ago but was recaptured at Vancouver, Wash.

Two trusties who had been given the run of the prison took French leave upon one occasion. One returned voluntarily and the other was recaptured in Alameda.

Two Men Fight, Wielding Same Hammer in Turn

A FIGHT waged between George Volkmer and James Corrigan in a rooming house at 530 Franklin street, in which a hammer was the principal weapon, led to the arrest of both men last night.

According to the police, both men fought in a spirit of fine sportsmanship, each combatant turning over the hammer from time to time to the other, to be obligingly knocked on the head with it.

The arrests were made by police officers E. G. Nelson and James Bishop, who entered the rooming house when they heard a woman screaming.

Arrival at N. Y. Field at 4 P. M., Is Estimated by Aviator.

Pilots Wagner and Johnson used only three minutes in making the transfer here. Pilot JJohnson, fully recovered from his illness of yesterday, said he would fly about 10,000 feet high on the trip to New York to take advantage of the favorable winds encountered by the regular Cleveland to New York mail plane this morning which made the trip in three hours and 13 minutes, nearly a record flight. Johnson did not expect to stop at Bellefontein, Pa., he said.

U. S. POSTAL CRAFT HELD UP BY FOGS

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press). — Five mail planes were in the air today, the second day of the five-day test of transcontinental aerial mail, with a successful night flying record between Chicago and Cheyenne, and indications that Western mail which left Cheyenne, Wyo., at 8:35 p. m., mountain time, last night would reach New York before nightfall.

Due to storms and fogs in Wyoming, the mail which left San Francisco at 5:59 a. m., Pacific time, yesterday, was delayed all night in reaching Cheyenne, and shortly before noon, central standard time, today, was en route to Omaha on the eastward flight. Except for the interference of the elements, which held Pilot H. A. Collison at Laramie, Wyo., over night, the San Francisco mail in all probability would have reached New York within the 28-hour schedule.

TWO FLIERS LEAVE FOR SECOND TEST

Besides Pilot F. M. Allison, who left Cheyenne at 6:53 a. m., mountain time, for Omaha, with Collison's mail cargo, which he had taken into Cheyenne at 5:55 a. m., two other transcontinental fliers, those scheduled for the second day, had left their respective terminals at New York and San Francisco.

Pilot Shirly J. Short left Curtiss field, Hempstead, New York, at 11:01, the same time at which Pilot C. Eugene Johnson, although ill of bronchial trouble, had started yesterday. At 5:26 a. m., Pacific time, Pilot C. K. Vance had started from San Francisco.

R. L. Wagner, who picked up mail from Cheyenne, left Chicago and was nearing Cleveland in midday and Pilot H. G. Boonstra, who had left Cheyenne at 8:24 a. m., mountain time, for the final dash across Wyoming, Nevada and California with the mail Johnson took out of New York yesterday.

WESTBOUND MAKES BETTER TIME

Due to the storm and fog which Allison ran into in Wyoming and which thrice sent him back to Laramie last night, despite his determination to penetrate to Cheyenne, the westbound flight was making the better time, although every effort was being made today to make up lost time by pushing the east-bound relays, which started from Cheyenne when postal officials at Omaha realized the futility of further efforts of Collison to get through the heavy banks of fog and cloud ahead of him on his eastern journey. The westbound flight of New York mail of yesterday also was held up early today at Cheyenne because of weather conditions. Under the original schedule the westbound mail, on a thirty-hour schedule from New York to San Francisco, was due at Cheyenne at 4:15, mountain time, this morning.

Pilot Jack Knight reached there one hour and 25 minutes ahead of the schedule, but the fog to the westward caused the start of Pilot Boonstra to be held up, and although he started at 5 a. m., he was forced to turn back and the start to Cheyenne was delayed until 8:42 a. m.

FRENCH REFUSE TO LOOSE HOLD ON GERMAN RUHR

Poincare Answers Lord Curzon On British Proposal For Relief.

fourteen and one-fifth billion gold marks, the summary continues:

"We do not suppose that England intends to claim the sums owing her by the allies before reparations are actually settled. She will certainly be the first to realize that in order to pay what she owes, France must previously have recovered her contributive power, have repaired her grieveous losses and must be in a position to meet German competition with equal weapons.

SELFISHNESS IS DENIED BY PREMIER.

"It is, no doubt, to England's cover. It certainly cannot be to her interest that France should be diminished."

The summary begins by describing the note as "a general and sympathetic statement of the position taken by France," containing "the elements of a practical solution."

The synopsis asserts that France "never dreamed of pursuing a selfish policy in the question of reparations—a question that cannot be solved without due regard to the whole European interests involved."

Furthermore, she always took into consideration Great Britain's lamentable and persistent unemployment.

The occupation of the Ruhr was made obligatory, in Premier Poincare's opinion by what he calls the finances with the avowed intention of escaping payment of reparations.

GERMANY CAUSED HER OWN TROUBLE.

"Until the end of 1922," the note explains, 'Germany had not ceased to aggravate her financial situation. She did nothing to balance her budget. She maintained railroad rates lower than anywhere else. She increased the number of her functionaries and increased their pay. She admitted a large part of the taxes due from the most powerful manufacturers and even granted part of the taxes due from the most powerful manufacturers and even granted them indemnities and subsidies. She has reconstructed her merchant fleet, which is now competing with the British in American waters. She has undertaken an immense program of public works such as France was obliged to postpone."

Premier Poincare cited previous decisions of the allies to prove that the occupation of the Ruhr is legal. He mentions the rapid recovery of Austria as proof that Germany could have put her finances in order had she wished to do so.

The French program, he says, is "simple," for she asks "from the first two series of bonds twenty-six billions in addition to enough from the C bonds to pay the allied war debts."

REFUSES TO LOSE CENT OF REPARATIONS.

In the text the premier, replying to Marquis Curzon, frames his answers in a tone less sharp, but no less categorical, reaffirming the French resolution, "a hundred times repeated, not to renounce one centime of her reparations claim which is regarded as sacred and which does not resemble any other claim."

He repeats the determination of France not to give up the pledges she holds until after complete payment of reparations has been made.

Referring to the proposed re-estimate of Germany's capacity to pay, the reply says:

"We confess we are unable to understand what the British government means by capacity of payment and present capacity of payment. Germany's is equal to nothing, by will of the empire itself. All expert calculations are useless."

PASSIVE RESISTANCE MUST BE STOPPED.

The note then asks: "Does the British cabinet want to suppress Germany's debt entirely under the pretext that her capacity for payment has been provisionally annihilated?"

The premier replies pointedly to Curzon's intimation that Great Britain may soon be obliged to ask France to pay her war debt.

He says: "France has never repudiated her debts and never will, but she is convinced that no British government will ever apply to an ally the pressure that the London cabinet does not find it possible to apply today to the former enemies of France."

He repeats the assurance that France will attenuate the occupation of the Ruhr if Germany ceases her resistance and that she will evacuate the Ruhr in proportion as payments are actually made.

"France will not change her attitude on evacuation," the note asserts. "To ask her to do otherwise would be to justify the attitude of Germany, and in the words of Lloyd George before the supreme council in March, 1921, 'it would be the victors who would pay the cost of defeat and the vanquished who would harvest the fruits of victory.'"

BEST, TRACTOR FOUNDER, DIES AT SAN LEANDRO

Eastbay Manufacturer, at 85 Years, Ends Long and Active Career.

Daniel Best, founder of the Best Manufacturing Company of San Leandro, from which later developed the Best Tractor Company, died this morning at his home in San Leandro at the age of 85 years, following a brief illness.

With his death the Eastbay region loses one of its pioneer citizens, who had lived in San Leandro since 1886. Rest is survived by four married daughters, Mrs. Lynn Stanley of Oakland, Mrs. Frank Webster of San Leandro, Mrs. George Jackson of Fresno, and Mrs. Charles Manning of Sacramento, and by one son, C. L. Best of San Leandro, president of the Best Tractor company.

The funeral will probably take place next Friday, it is announced, but no definite plans have as yet been formulated.

CROSSES THE PLAINS.

Best came west over the plains from Iowa in 1859. The little band of pioneers had to fight several battles with Indians on the plains, and at last had their cattle stolen by the redskins, following which they had to continue their way on foot.

Best as a California pioneer, has probably done as much to promote agricultural development as any other man on the coast. He was born in Crawford county, Ohio, March 28, 1838, and was a son of John Best, and a grandson of John Best Jr., a soldier of the Revolutionary, French and Indian wars. All of the Bests were farmers.

PLACER MINING FOLLOWED.

Daniel Best showed marked mechanical ingenuity while yet a youth, although he had small opportunity of exercising it while on the farm. Good fortune came to him in 1859, when he crossed the plains to Oregon and started to work in a sawmill in Portland. Later on he became a logger, for which he displayed great skill and enjoyed an increase in pay from $1 a day to $6, when he was appointed head sawyer. For two years, from 1860 until 1862, he engaged in farming, and then went to the Powder river mines, remaining there until 1865. At Auburn he erected a sawmill. The state contained little in the way of equipment and he succeeded in erecting the plant without sending out of the state for a single piece of equipment except a whipsaw. With a partner he succeeded in turning out 2000 feet of lumber a day. Later he sold his mill to the Oregon Railroad and Navigation company and engaged in prospecting, taking out several hundred dollars in pocket gold. He prospected along the Snake river and in the fall of 1866 went to the Puget Sound country to manage a sawmill on the Chehalis river.

In 1865 Best came to California to visit his brother in Sutter county, the latter having crossed the plains in 1862. Here he conceived the idea for a portable outfit with which he could travel around the country and separate oats and barley from wheat. The first machine was finished in 1870, and in the fall he completed three more. In the same year he secured patents for this machine and in 1871 sold a half interest to L. D. Brown, who erected a shop in Marysville.

In 1874 the company which Best had formed purchased the Auburn canal ditch, 30 miles long, putting in a bedrock flume. The project was sold and Best engaged in placer mining.

Later Best returned to Albany by team and offered to run a mill three days for nothing, which resulted in a job. Best again took up the manufacture of his separating machine. From 1879 until 1885 Best had a branch in Oakland, and in the fall of 1885 moved to San Leandro. He built the combined harvester later, a horse-power machine, and in 1887 built the traction engine, which has been developed continuously until the Best Tractor is known over the entire world. On these machines there are over 35 patents.

Hunters Fight Wild Buffalo Herd for Life

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 22.—(By Associated Press.)—Cornered by an infuriated herd of buffaloes in Death Pass, on Antelope Island in Great Salt Lake, a party of hunters last Monday escaped possible death until the herd was dispersed after four of the animals had been slain, according to members of the party who reached here early today.

According to the story of C. O. Beardslee, one of the hunters, more than 100 buffaloes in the herd attacked the huntsmen, forcing them to take refuge in the pass. Backed against a wall, the hunters took positions and emptied their rifles, four of the leaders of the herd falling in their tracks.

The buffaloes suddenly veered and ran through a ravine after coming within fifty feet of the party, Beardlee continued. The slain animals today had been removed to Lagoon, Utah, where a barbecue will be held tonight.

Among those in the hunting party were Henry C. Lund, former city judge, Alvin E. Niles and Joseph Robinson, ranchmen.

Airplane Fleet Supports the Navy in Battle Raging in Morocco.

MADRID, Aug. 22.—(International News Service.)—Spanish warships supported by airplanes bombarded the positions of Moroccan rebels on the Alhucemas coast, doing extensive damage, said a despatch from Melilla today. Several thousand replacement troops are being sent up to the front.

The Infante Alfonso and the Infante Fernando of the Spanish royal family have rejoined their regiments for field service.

MELILLA, Morocco, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press).—The Spanish forces despatched to the aid of the garrison at Tifaruin, which was surrounded by Morroccan rebels have succeeded in entering the town after severely punishing the enemy, and relieving the garrison.

OPERATIONS ON BIG SCALE REPORTED.

MADRID, Aug. 22 (By the Associated Press).—Reports were current today that an operation on a large scale against the Moroccan rebels had been begun by the Spanish forces at midnight with the land and sea contingents acting in combination. Nothing official was given out.

Military aviators report that the Spanish garrison at Tifaruin, Morocco, continues to heroically resist assaults of the Moorish tribesmen, who are endeavoring to reduce it. The Moors have succeeded in closing in their position, but the Spaniards declare that all will die rather than surrender.

S. F. BAY REGION PRAISED IN TALK TO LIONS CLUB

Harbor Chief Addresses Body At Richmond; Prosperity Is Recounted.

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—The Bay district is just coming into its own as the principal shipping district of the Pacific coast, according to Charles Spear, chairman of the state board of harbor commissioners, who addressed the Richmond Lions club today.

"The Bay district is humming with the shipping industry today. Los Angeles is busy, too," said the speaker.

"When the whole line of merchandise is considered," he said, "San Francisco bay ships 90 per cent of the merchandise that is distributed from the Pacific coast.

"There is an investment in San Francisco alone of $50,000,000 on the waterfront. And it is still growing."

He invited the Richmond Lions club to make a tour of observation of San Francisco bay in the two municipal barges. The Lions will accept and will make the date on a Sunday within the next few weeks, before the rainy season, it was decided.

REDWOOD FOREST SWEPT BY FIRE; DAMAGE HEAVY

Man and Auto Are Hurled Through Air By Whirlwind From Flames.

EUREKA, Aug. 22.—(By Associated Press.)—Brush fire embers, scattered by an unusual whirlwind over six to seven square miles of timber land, started a number of small forest fires among the redwoods near Scotia, 30 miles south of here, late yesterday. The fires were reported under control at a late hour last night.

The brush fire was started in an effort to reduce the fire hazard, in the Crissey-Brown tract, south of Scotia, along the state highway. The whirlwind was of cyclonic proportions, fire-fighters said. It picked an automobile from the highway and set it down after turning it completely around, it was reported, while one man was carried over 30 feet and returned to earth unhurt. Great branches of trees were carried high in the air.

Fifty automobile loads of campers and others were held up when a part of the state highway was blocked by the fire, which for a time threatened to destroy the Crissey-Brown mill and other buildings.

Some damage to saw logs and to standing timber was reported. No survey of the damage done had been made as yet, but it was announced that the state highway would be reopened tonight.

'9-Cent Gas' Sign Is Turned Upside Down in Rivalry

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Gasoline sells for 6c a gallon for a few hours a day in Los Angeles, and proves that competition is still the life of trade.

Roy Gehr owns a filling station and also owns stock in a refinery at the Santa Fe Springs oil field. The refinery makes gasoline out of natural gas by a new and very inexpensive process, Gehr says.

That enables him to sell gasoline at 9c a gallon when the big companies are charging from 14c to 17c.

Gehr has a competitor on an opposite corner, who, backed by other refineries, has threatened to put him out of business by under-selling, Gehr says. Yesterday the competitor put out an 8c gas sign to compete with Gehr's gas. Gehr walked out and turned his 9c upside down and passing motorists blinked their eyes and found they could buy gas for six cents a gallon. Then the rush was on.

When business gets too rushing or whenever he takes a notion Gehr turns the sign back to 9c a gallon. Last night he sold gas at 6c for about five hours in all, and says he will do the same today. Prices elsewhere run from 10c to 17c, the latter being the basic price of the Standard Oil.

Detroit Street Car Profits Wiped Out

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 22.—Increased wages amounting to $600,000 a year granted platform men in the employ of the Detroit department of street railways, increased power costs and contemplated wage increases for other employees will wipe out the net profit of $1,000,000 made by the municipally-owned street car lines for the fiscal year, ending July 1, 1923, Ross Schram, assistant general manager of the line, said yesterday in announcing increased rates for street car fares. The fares will be increased September 2 from 5 to 6 cents with 1 cent for transfers. Nine tickets will be sold for 50 cents under the new plan.

COUNTY REPORT GIVES VALUATION IN SCHOOL UNITS

$47,540 Advanced for Work to Vocational Training in Districts.

Figures on the assessed valuation in the school districts of Alameda county, and on the amount of the state and federal apportionment for vocational training in the schools as provided for in the Smith-Hughes act, were announced today by David E. Martin, county superintendent of schools.

The total vocational apportionment amounts to $47,540.94. Of this amount, Oakland receives $40,461.56; Berkeley, $6124.12, and Alameda, $955.26.

The summary on assessed valuations shows a greater amount for the Oakland high school district than for the grammar school district. This is due to the fact that the Oakland high school district includes San Leandro, while the grammar school does not. The summary follows:

Alameda, $20,436,455; Albany, $2,482,116; Alvarado, $1,389,875; Antone, $103,800; Berkeley, $48,979,558; Castro Valley, $881,850; Centerville, $1,449,675; Eden Vale, $178,675; Emeryville, $5,829,950; Mt. ## Women Pugilists Featured in Berlin

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—"Lady boxers" are star attractions at the cheaper variety houses in Berlin, and attract many tourists to these places of amusement. There are several groups of women pugilists which spar in various cabarets and music halls, and they box with great vigor.

One of the best known female boxers has a nose which is badly deformed from having been broken, and another has a cauliflower ear.

Most of the female pugilists are young and extremely active. They are about as scientific as many of the men who pose as professional boxers, for the art of boxing is not highly developed in Germany.

Amundsen Plans New Pole Flight In Coming Spring

NOME, Aug. 22.—(By International News Service.)—Captain Raold Amundsen declared today that he would attempt another flight across the frozen top of the world from Spitzbergen next spring. The explorer arrived last night aboard the cutter Bear. He will await the arrival of his aviator, Lieutenant Oskar Omdahl, here before proceeding to Seattle, he said. Omdahl is coming on the schooner Holmes from Wainwright, where he has been stationed caring for the plane in which Amundsen hoped to make the 3000-mile flight over the Polar wastes.

The explorer told today of the accident which called a halt to his aerial conquest of the Arctic. An axle broke on the plane during practice landings and could not be repaired.

Amundsen declared that his present plane was too small to carry supplies, fuel and men trip, and that he wanted to seenough to attempt the perilous cure a larger one.

GIRL BAD CHECK PASSER IS HELD TO HIGHER COURT

Plea of Louise Vestal for a Continuance Proves of No Avail.

Louise Vestal, 24, was today bound over to the Superior Court by Police Judge B. C. Mickle. Her bail was set at $1000.

Miss Vestal pleaded with the court to have the case continued in order to allow her mother time enough to refund the money obtained from the checks she had passed in this state. She informed Judge Mickle that she received a letter last night from her mother in Marion, Ohio, in which the mother promised that all the checks would be paid. The continuance was denied on the ground that even if the checks were paid, it was not in the power of the police court to dismiss the case.

Miss Vestal was arrested July 15, when she attempted to cash a check at the Whitthorn & Swan department store. The girl was detained by Mrs. Agnes Wood, house detective for the department store, until Police Inspector V. J. Coley and Jules Sternitzky arrived. At the time of the girl's arrest, she was living at the Hotel Oakland.

Charles Walker, assistant cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank at Long Beach, was one of the witnesses for the prosecution. He told the court that she had cashed fictitious checks on the bank in the southern city amounting to $525. The two checks introduced against the girl were passed on the Propper Shoppe, 1330 Washington street. One was for $24.75 and the other $25.

A letter was received today by the court from DeWitt Vestal, of 153 Chicago avenue, Marion, Ohio, father of the prisoner, in which he pleaded with the court to be lenient with his daughter.

JACK RUSSELL AGAIN TO TAKE CENTURY ROLES

Comedian Returns From His Tour of East With Additions to Repertoire.

Jack Russell, comedian at the Oakland Century theater, who has been in the east for several weeks on an extended tour of the amusement centers, will resume the leadership of his company at the theater next week, starting Saturday, August 25, when he will be seen as a Mexican, an entirely new character, in "Across the Border," a production in which he will incorporate the entertainment ideas gathered during his vacation.

The comedian decided to take this tour throughout the eastern portion of the United States for the purpose of bringing back to the theater public of Oakland the newest developments in the stage technique of musical comedy revues. Among the novelties which he will offer will be the latest song numbers from New York, new methods of stage lighting which will enhance his colorful revues, the latest wrinkles in stage decoration, and colorful dances and costumes.

Russell has been at work during the past week rehearsing his company in a series of new musical comedy revues, of which "Across the Border" is the first. He will offer the series at the Century during the coming season.

In "Across the Border" the comedian will be seen in an entirely new character, that of a Mexican bandit. He received the idea of adding this picturesque character to his gallery of roles while on the Mexican border, where the locale of the revue is laid. The production will tell in humorous fashion and in Russell's inimitable manner the story of a beautiful half-breed girl who is coveted by a Mexican bandit, but who manages to escape across the border with her American sweetheart.

EXPERT TELLS OF NEW PARIS VOGUE

The day of feminine arms, ankles and throats is at hand, according to the last word from Paris. Skirts will be raised, yet will not be too short. Sleeves which now exist only in name, will be even shorter, and the neckline will be dropped.

This is interesting news brought back by Mrs. A. C. Kennedy, owner of The Gray Shop, who, with her husband, enjoyed an extensive tour through Europe this summer.

Mrs. Kennedy was impressed by the extremely heavy make-up used by European women and says the favorite shade is swarthy, giving them a healthy sunburned glow, quite effective, though artificial. Rouged lips, beaded eyelashes and sleekly bobbed hair go to make up a picturesque Parisienne.

The frocks Mrs. Kennedy brought back show a tendency toward black satin for street wear and for evening Orchidee, a new shade; yellow and white are mostly used—many beads, fancy metals, pretty laces and rhinestone studs are in great demand as trimmings.

Everything in ready-to-wear dresses, wraps and sports costumes will be seen in The Gray Shop very shortly—shipments are arriving daily with fresh surprises.

Mrs. Kennedy says there are chic women everywhere in Paris—and it is gratifying to discover frequently that they are American. She was impressed by the appearances of leisure everywhere, with the exception of taxis and motors.

When asked what was her greatest thrill during the trip she said: "Flying across the Channel and being in the air three and a half hours owing to the heavy wind. The sensation is something one can't describe—to see the earth slowly diminishing and finally puffy clouds obscure your vision entirely. A sudden drop and your heart stops beating till you feel a gradual rise again and you sail serenely on. The "drops" are caused by air-pockets of course, but one doesn't think of that—you frantically look around for the softest cloud to land on."

Mrs. Kennedy described the interiors of these machines as luxurious glass-inclosed drawing room suites—comfy wicker arm-chairs and cushions make the journey restful.

"I can understand," she said, "why they used airplanes during the war—the panorama is so distinct and, of course, with field glasses, intensely magnified."

Mrs. Kennedy recalled that in all Europe she did not see a pair of black stockings—Parisiennes will not wear them. Sunburned shades are all "the rage," worn principally with black satin or patent leather, she said.

AUTHOR TELLS MARITAL WOES

RENO, Nev., Aug. 22.—The long contested divorce suit of Talbot Mundy, noted author, against his wife, Harriet Rosemary Mundy, was called for trial before Judge George A. Bartlett in the district court.

Mundy told of his married life dating from August 13, 1914, up until the time of their separation in October, 1920, when he went to Jerusalem, and wrote his wife that they had best separate, and at the same time asking her to either sue for divorce or to permit him to do so.

Mundy testified that from a month after the marriage he led a miserable life and suffered unavoidable broken peace of mind through the actions of his wife. Religion, he claimed, was responsible for most of their disagreements by his failure to subscribe to the teachings believed by his wife.

While he charged cruelty in his complaint Mundy testified that he was never the object of any brickbats, neither was he cursed, but said their temperaments were so varied that it was impossible to live together in pence and harmony.

Attorney Belford offered in evidence 23 letters that Mundy had ritten to his wife during their separations, and most all contined numerous endearing terms. He also submitted a cablegram which was introduced in evidence.

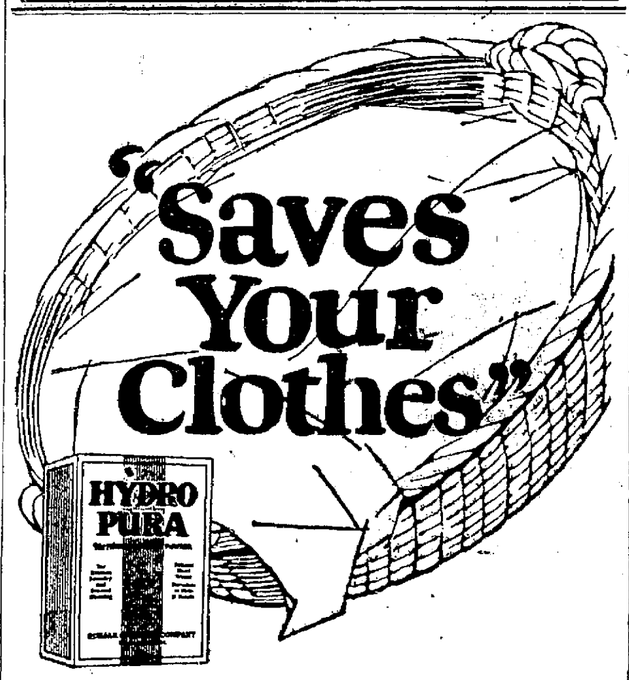
"Saves Your Clothes"



It is the hardness in hard water that ruins fabrics. Hardness caused by mineral salts which combine with the oil in the soap and form a white curdy scum. The scum sticks to clothes—can not be rinsed off, even in very hot water. It leaves its dirty finger prints on white clothes and fairly eats through delicate fibres.

Hydro-Pura saves your clothes because it softens the hardest water. Saves soap, too! At your grocer's—look for the package with the green band. Schalk Chemical Co., Los Angeles, Calif.

Spouse Refused to Pay Debts, Says Wife

George McDonald not only purchased the marriage license and the wedding ring with borrowed money but has since attempted to maintain the household on credit, Mrs. Victoria McDonald avers in a divorce complaint in which she points out the humiliation of such procedure. After forcing her to avoid payment of household bills, McDonald would move, she says, and because of this they never lived in a place long enough to call it home.

Disparity of ages is cited by Mrs. McDonald as an added cause to receive a divorce, stating that she is 23 years of age while she believes her husband is 50 years of age. Mrs. McDonald says she has found herself unable to conform to his ideals and so left him yesterday. McDonald is employed by a railroad.

Perfect Cleanliness

Old Dutch Cleanser gives you perfect cleanliness in the bathroom and all through the house. This means absolutely clean, not only free from visible dirt, but from hidden impurities as well. Everything you clean with it, therefore, is wholesome and sanitary.

The secret of the thoroughness and efficiency of Old Dutch lies in the character of its fine particles, which are free from hard, jagged grit. They are flat-shaped, made that way by nature. They erase the dirt without injuring the surface, and do not scratch or grind it off like sharp grit. Being flat, they do a greater amount of cleaning, easier and better, than anything else you can buy.

Old Dutch won't harm the hands because it contains no lye or acids. For convenience, keep a can in the bathroom as well as the kitchen. There is nothing like Old Dutch for perfect cleanliness.

SCIENTISTS DUE HOME WITH RICH ANIMAL RELICS

Four Expeditions Expected at Field Museum in Near Future.

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—Four expeditions of curators in the service of science, who have been exploring unchartered wildernesses in several parts of the world, are expected to return soon to their home institution here, the Field Museum of Natural History. The museum has several parties in the field at present.

Dr. E. S. Riggs is penetrating the unknown interior of Argentina in search of prehistoric animals, declared by scientists to be a most perilous task. The investigator has to face hostile tribes, irresponsible workmen and the danger of climbing precipitous cliffs in search of specimens. Sometimes he must employ a small army to bring back his finds.

Dr. Berthold Laufer, curator of the department of anthropology, is penetrating southern China in an effort to discover the century-old secrets of that land. He will make a study of the language and culture of strange aboriginal tribes said to have lived in China long before the Chinese came.

Dr. O. C. Farrington and a party is studying the diamond mines of Brazil. Dr. F. C. Cole is in Java, where he has been studying the customs and culture of the people. Contrary to the usual lot of the explorer, Dr. Cole is said by the curators to have been able to travel into the island's fastnesses by automobile with the greatest ease.

Dr. J. Allen Mason is in Colombia, where he has been studying the ancient civilization of that land, thought to have been destroyed centuries before the coming of the Spaniards. Another party is headed by Dr. W. L. Osgood, who will return soon from Peru and Chile, where he has been collecting rare tropical birds.

BABY STRANGLED.

BEND, Ore., Aug. 22.—Her jacket catching on the handle of the door of her father's automobile, 11-months-old Betty Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lindley of this city, was strangled to death yesterday when she fell from her bed in the automobile where she had been placed while her mother called on a neighbor. The mother returned in a few moments to find the lifeless body dangling from the door.

The will, dated July 23, 1915, leaves bequests of $1000 each to five children, Mrs. Margaret G. Ball of Milwaukee; Mrs. Dorothy Perin, Pensacola, Florida; Katherine and Barbara Weeks, and Richard G. Weeks, and to the mother of Weeks, Mrs. Margaret Weeks of Syracuse, N. Y. The residue of the estate, including real property and securities, is left to the widow, who is appointed executrix without bond.

Miss Mary Hooley Weds A. M. Gilhuly

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 22.—The marriage of Miss Mary Catherine Hooley and A. M. Gilhuly was celebrated at St. Leander's church here at 10 o'clock this morning with a nuptial mass. The mass was said by Rev. Father John Hunt, pastor of St. Leander's, and the marriage ceremony was read by Rev. Monsignor J. P. Cantwell of San Francisco.

Ray Hooley, brother of the bride, presented Miss Hooley, who was attended by Miss Phyliss Powers as maid of honor, the Misses Bertha Dale and Gertrude Gilhuly as bridesmaids and Miss Winifred Smiley as flower girl. The bridegroom was attended by Lester Murphy. William Mahoney and Charles Nelson acted as ushers.

Secret of His Success

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this country in a recent article said, "Whatever I am and whatever success have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration and the greatest helpmate in my life." Health is the first essential of every woman who wants to be a successful wife and to hold the love and admiration of her husband. If a woman finds her energy flagging and dark circles appear under her eyes, she has backaches, headaches, nervousness or "the blues," she should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the medicine which has restored to health 98 out of 100 women who try it.

FARMERS WARNED AGAINST PRICE FIXING FOR CROPS

H. E. Byram Cites Financial Troubles of Railroads As Example.

TOLEDO, Iowa, Aug. 22.—(By Associated Press.)—In an Chautauqua address here today, President H. E. Byram of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, warned farmers against price fixing for their crops, citing the "financial troubles" of the railroads as the result of an example of price fixing by the government. He declared that "irresponsible critics" of the railroads on "entered stock," who were responsible for the railroad valuation act, "were now anxious to discredit the findings of the interstate commerce commission, and adopt some other basis of value that would be more in accord with their prejudices."

Byram's chief argument against government ownership of railroads was that the farmers' tax burden, which now, "in some cases is charges on farmers' grain and livestock shipments" would be further increased "to make up for the increased deficit that would follow federal operation of the carriers."

SAYS TAXES TOO HIGH.

Byram pointed out the greater importance of taxes than freight rates on various farms in Iowa. In some cases, he said, the amount of farm taxes was greater than the total freight charges paid on corn and stock shipments for the year. He said that under government ownership or nationalization of the railroads, the tax burdens would be still greater because the government does not pay taxes on its own property, and the $305,000,000 of taxes which the railroads paid to the states last year would have to be made up by tax levies on the citizens, as well as further levies by the government to make up for the increased deficit that would follow federal operation of the carriers.

LOWER LEVEL FEARED.

"The railroad is an example of price fixing, and I think you will agree that the transportation prices as set by the interstate commerce commission have not satisfactorily disposed of the financial troubles of the carriers, nor has the fixing of rates by the government lessened the criticism of railroad rates. It is therefore not to be expected that the farmer would obtain any permanent relief from any price that might be set on his product. There are always more consumers than producers of any commodity, and the wishes of this majority would tend to hold any price arbitrarily fixed at a lower level than the producer would think proper."

Alleged Plan to Evade Debt Foiled

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—Suspecting that C. H. Young, a meat cutter, was planning to run away to evade a debt, Mrs. Alviro Corbo watched his room. When she saw him lower his valise from a window, she accused him and he struck her, according to her story. She swore to a warrant charging assault and he was put in jail in default of $250 bail.

Mrs. Corbo told the officers that she had advanced Young money to start a meat department in the grocery store which she and her husband, Alviro Corbo, conduct at 1600 Macdonald avenue.

BURGLAR ROUTED.

A burglar who attempted to break into the apartment of Mrs. M. F. Ines at the Laconia apartments, 1612 Harrison street, was routed by citizens last night when Mrs. Ines screamed for help.

NATION ASKED TO AID SEARCH FOR N. Y. BABY

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Police of 9000 cities and towns in the United States and Canada were requested in police circulars broadcast today to aid in the search for three-months-old Lillian McKenzie, kidnaped from her perambulator on a Manhattan street last Saturday.

The frantic mother, who yesterday was ordered to bed under a physician's care, called fervently for some news of her missing baby. She fell into a semi-coma after relatives had found her on a lone hunt through the streets for some trace of the child.

Three New York newspapers have offered rewards totaling $5000 for information that will lead to the restoration of the baby to its parents.

Police Station to Be Refinished

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 22.—Renovation of police headquarters here will be started this week, it was announced by J. F. Peralta, city marshal.

While the headquarters are being renovated, Peralta said, the offices of the city marshal, tax collector, superintendent of streets and health officer will be removed to the rear of the city hall.

Striking Employees Accept Settlement

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 22.—Representatives of the 6300 striking employees of the Public Service Railway company, accepted the settlement offered by the railway company. The settlement includes a 20 per cent wage increase and assurances of better working conditions. One hundred and fifty had been affected by the strike, which went into effect August 1.

AUTOIST KILLED BY TRAIN.

REDWOOD CITY, Aug. 22.—John Palazon, 40, Redwood City, was killed late yesterday when his automobile was struck by a Southern Pacific train about five miles north of here.

Spouse Accused of Threatening Wife

Frank A. Davidson, a plasturer, carried a loaded gun, and made threats to kill her, often flew into rages and beat and choked her and, in July, 1922, threw her out of the window and caused such a disturbance that neighbors called the police, avers Mrs. Rosina Davidson, 3814 Division street, in a suit for divorce. The wife asks for custody of two infant children, $35 a week maintenance and the community property, which includes an equity in the home and an automobile.

Temptation never fails to come to those who wait.

THE FINEST OIL is light in color and very delicate in flavor—just as the purest, sweetest sugar is white. For much the same reason.

White sugar does not happen to be white—it is made white. Raw sugar is dark brown. It is only when all the impurities and coloring and strong flavor are refined out of raw sugar that you have white sugar—pure sweetness.

Wesson Oil does not happen to be light in color. We make it that way. Raw oil is quite dark. It is only when all the impurities are refined out of it that you have a clear, light oil—pure goodness.

To make Wesson Oil we first choose the best oil to be had and then we refine it to a degree of purity and goodness that we do not believe is equalled by any other oil.

We do just that.

It does not sound like a very modest statement—but it's true. And you cannot expect us to be too modest about anything we are so proud of.

Wesson Oil is refined to a purity and goodness that we do not believe is equalled by any other oil you could buy—100% pure, rich, nourishing food.

We could not make it a bit better if you paid us ten times as much for it.

It is the most wholesome, as well as the most delicious, frying fat. It is excellent for making flaky pastry, biscuit, delicate cake and for all sorts of good things to eat.

And perhaps the most amazing thing about it is that it can be so good and yet cost so little.

RICHMOND FERRY GAINS ONE MORE POINT IN FAVOR

Printing of Ordinance to Grant Draughon-Gordon Permit Ordered.

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—Supervisors of San Francisco voted late yesterday to print an ordinance to permit the Draughon - Gordon Company to install a ferry between Richmond and San Francisco. This ordinance will come to a final head at the meeting next Monday afternoon. The vote to print was practically a test vote and follows the voting of last Wednesday, when the utilities and judicial committees decided unanimously to recommend the franchise.

This franchise has proved a bone of contention which will require court action, as evidenced by an injunction served late yesterday upon A. H. Draughon, head of the prospective company. The injunction sought to restrain him for applying for the franchise but, as no notice had been served legally upon the supervisors, they voted for it, anyhow. The injunction was issued by Judge Griffin of San Francisco.

The injunction was based upon the allegation that San Francisco was without power to grant such a franchise, as it claimed that San Francisco does not legally lie upon the left bank of the stream to be crossed by the ferry. The restraining order was issued by the request of M. Emmanuel. He is the head of an opposition company that is attempting to finance a ferry across the bay between the two cities.

Draughon claims that he is prepared to put in a line of modern, rapid ferries that will make the one-way trip between the two cities in thirty-five minutes. As soon as ultimate permission is assured, the company claims it will rush to complete the steamers which Richmondites feel will be a great asset.

'Realty Men Hosts Of Richmond Lions

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—Richmond Lions yesterday listened to a program staged by the Realtors who are members of the body. The committee in charge of the amusement consists of Isaac Lester, chairman, Elmer Vaughan, A. L. Paulsen and Harry Hayes. The official organ of the club, "The Sea Lion," made its first appearance. A musical and literary program was presented by the Realtors, the numbers being offered while the Lions dined.

CHARES DENIED.

MARTINEZ, Aug. 22.—Pleas of not guilty to charges of possession of liquor were entered yesterday by Charles Crenna, Luigi Vasconi and Antonio Vasconi of Concord before Justice of the Peace Frank Iass and trials of Crenna and Luigi Vasconi were fixed for September 7. Preliminary examination of Antonio Vasconi, against whom there is a prior conviction, was fixed for the same day. The three were arrested a week ago by the county dry squad.

RICHMOND

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—Investigation is being made as to whether the city cannot purchase paint and have the city warehouse at the municipal terminal painted by the day. The matter will be decided next Monday night.

The Richmond Club will resume meetings September 17, with a luncheon and a program.

Richmond councilmen have decided that it is a waste of money to resurface or further improve streets which have been temporarily surfaced. They have decided that if a street is worth paving it is worth paving well, and all petitions for the resurfacing of such streets will be laid aside.

The steamer Wai Kawa is loading with a cargo of oils and greases for New Zealand and Australia.

Richmond Y. M. C. A. Plans Yearly Program

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—A. W. Mueller, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Richmond, is back from his vacation of two weeks, spent visiting the associations in Southern California and studying their methods. His vacation followed a two weeks' session of the annual training school of the Y. M. C. A. at Pocific Palisades near Santa Monica, California.

Within the week the committees will be called together to plan for the annual program of the "Y" here. It will consist of a heavy program on social, physical and religious work, Mueller reports.

CITY WILL NOT REMOVE COLONY

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—City trustees are engaged in a discussion as to whether the city has the authority to segregate the nationalities in the city, and force certain persons to reside where they will not be objectionable to neighbors.

It was finally decided that Richmond, as a municipality, has not the right to prevent people from living where they please and that the Mexican colony, between First and Sixth streets near Macdonald avenue, so long as it continues to be sanitary cannot be forced to remove itself to another place. Letters from four other city attorneys, in addition to the opinion of D. J. Hall, Richmond city attorney, affirmed this opinion. Those who backed Hall in his legal stand were City Attorney R. L. Shaw, Sacramento; H. M. Johnston, Fresno; E. F. Britton, Bakersfield, and S. J. Higgins, San Diego.

Dr. C. R. Blake, city health officer, informed the council that water served to a certain section of town in the territory east of Twenty-third street should be boiled.

The council ordered the dance pavilion at Grand Canyon Park to be repaired immediately. Twenty citizens who live along Standard avenue protested against the widening and repaving of their street. The matter was referred to the city engineer for investigation with orders to report next Monday.

PONY EXPRESS HEADQUARTERS RAIDED BY DRYS

State Librarian Called Upon to Settle Question of Route's Terminal.

By H. C. PETERSON.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 22.—The local publicity committee of the Pony Express celebration has secured the official recognition of the federal officials at Washington, D. C., of the existence of the western terminal of the Pony Express riders at 1015 Second street, Sacramento.

The place was raided night before last by a federal rum rummaging crew. And concerning this particular building the question all over the state is: "Is San Francisco or Sacramento the western terminal of the Pony Express?"

To settle definitely this point the Native Sons had recourse to Milton J. Ferguson, librarian of the California state library.

"The first mail across," said Ferguson, "both eastward and westward bound, was carried between the two terminal express stations. Leaving these two single trips out, and technically they should be, the answer, historically, is:

"The two terminals of the Pony Express mail service were San Francisco and St. Joseph, Mo.

"But, and particularly note just how I express it, the western terminal of the Pony Express rider was Sacramento, at 1015 Second street.

"Only on that first ride did the pony start from San Francisco, going from there to Sacramento by river steamer, while the westbound rider took the same boat back from Sacramento to San Francisco, and riding from the waterfront there to the Alta office.

"That the coming Pony Express riders will enter San Francisco via Stockton and San Jose may not be historicaly correct, but will probably be more dramatically interesting."

Mrs. Axford Denies Husband's Charges

Replying to the divorce suit recently instituted by Louie E. Axford, Oakland optometrist, Mrs. Alice E. Axford today filed an answer and cross-complaint asking to be awarded the community property and $100 a month alimony.

The wife denies charges made by her husband that she constantly quarreled and nagged at him, that she was jealous, accused him of associating with other women and that she invaded his offices and spied upon patients. As a cross-complaint she says Axford's cruelty caused her to threaten to comit suicide once, that he was cold and indifferent and insisted upon her getting a divorce, telling her things which caused her grief and to become ill. They were married in Oakland, November 27, 1916, and separated April 17, 1922.

Bosque declared the political and economic conditions of Salvador are excellent and that much thought is given to improvement of the educational system.

Helen Godfrey Becomes Bride Of Louis Filley

From South Pasadena comes the story of the wedding of Miss Helen Louise Godfrey and Louis Jay Filley on Wednesday—one of the outstanding nuptials of the summer in La Ville des Roses.

The service was read at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus L. Godfrey, by the Reverend B. D. Scudden, pastor of the South Pasadena Methodist Episcopal church. A hundred guests attended the ceremony and the reception.

The vows were exchanged beneath an arch of white asters and greenery arranged in the pergola adjoining the drawing room to which a path of white roses led, massed on tall standards garlanded with satin streamers.

Miss Margaret Northrup sang Rubenstein's "The Vow" and "You" by Robyn, accompanied by Mrs. H. E. Andrews and Miss Elizabeth Cover, harpist. The bridal march was played by Mrs. Andrews.

The bride's gown was of white flat crepe and lace panel, simply draped, with which she wore a veil of tulle. A coronet of point lace held the veil in place with a circlet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Emily Huntington Miller was maid of honor. Her gown was of coral georgette and crepe satin. In contrast she wore a picture hat of dove tone haircloth trimmed in garden flowers and carried a shower bouquet of Columbia roses.

Miss Miller is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Williams of the Regillus apartments and a cousin of Mrs. Horace Hausch Hayes and Mrs. Clifton Ernst.

The little flower maiden, Nancy Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Garrett of South Pasadena, was in a bouffant frock of white carrying a basket of Happy roses.

Edward Pryor Filley was best man.

At the bride's table, arranged in pink and white roses and satin streamers were, besides the bride and groom, Miss Emily Miller, Miss Elizabeth Akerman of San Diego, Miss Mabelle Williams of Alameda, Miss Estelle Bean, Miss Nancy Garrett, Edward Pryor Filley, Fay Spencer Reeder, Robert Atwill and Roy Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. Filley are on a month's motor trip to Tahoe Tavern stopping at Santa Barbara and Del Monte on the way. They will tarry awhile in the bay region where they have many friends, the bride being a Mills College girl.

The bride, who has attended the University of Southern California the past semester, has been the incentive for many teas and luncheons since the announcement of her betrothal in June. Monday afternoon she was the honoree at a bridge luncheon at the San Gabriel Country Club, at which Miss Estelle Bean was hostess for twenty-five of the deb set.

Young Filley is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Filley of Fair Oaks avenue, a graduate of Stanford University and of Boston Tech. He is a Zeta Psi man.

After October 15, they will be at home at their new home now nearing completion at 1929 Edgewood Road, South Pasadena.

Purchase Home In Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Burtchael and their two children, Samuel and Claire, have returned to their home in Piedmont for a few days. They closed their Piedmont home last May and have been renting Marin county.

Last week they purchased the Radke estate in Ross and expect to make their home there. The new home is one of the most beautiful in Ross. The place with its old trees and shrubs was originally part of the Ross holdings and later belonged to the Bosquis.

After the Radke's had purchased the old home it burned down and they built the present house, said to be a copy of the Pierpont Morgan home in Newport.

Threats to Kill Laid to Husband

Fred Roderick declared that he loved other women, called her names, made threats to kill her and their oldest daughter, broke up furniture in a rage, beat her and once threw a bowl of hot gravy on their son, alleges Mrs. Rosalie Roderick in a divorce complaint. The couple were married in San Francisco, September 17, 1907 and have four children, whose custody the wife asks, with $100 a month for their support. Mrs. Roderick also asks to be awarded as community property the home at 1608 Fairview street, Berkeley.

Aviators to Seek Endurance Record

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 22.—Captain Lowell P. Smith and Lieutenant John B. Richter, army air service aviators, will attempt to smash the endurance record of Lieutenants Kelly and MacReady Monday when they will take off at Rockwell Field here on a scheduled 40-hour non-stop flight. The big De Haviland plane to be used in the flight will be refueled in mid-air at intervals during the trip.

TOOL KIT STOLEN.

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 22.—Loss of a tool kit valued at $50 was reported to the police here today by R. J. Barrett, an Oakland contractor living at 1024 Fifteenth street. The tools were stolen from a house under construction on Hollywood boulevard near Stanley road.

MISS ELLA O. GEHRKEN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Gehrken of Concord, whose betrothal to Paul Richardson was announced at the annual dinner at the Newgita House on Monday. The fiancee is a graduate of U. C.

Wedding Date Is Celebrated.

Miss Alice Mellin entertained at dinner Saturday night at her home on Woolsey street, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phelan Elliott in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary. The table was decorated with pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley, with rose candles in tall silver candlesticks. After dinner, music and games, and lots of tinware.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Elliott, Mrs. A. W. Martin, Miss Lucille Mellin and Mr. Charles W. Meighan.

Mr. Fusser—Aren't you nearly ready?

Mrs. Fusser—I wish you'd stop asking me that question. I've been telling you the last hour that I'd be ready in a minute.—Boston Transcript.

University Girl Is Betrothed.

A betrothal of particular interest to University folk was announced on Monday evening—Miss Ella O. Gehrkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Gehrkin of Concord, and Paul N. Richardson.

The wedding will take place early in the fall.

MACHINIST BURNED.

James Casal, 26, a machinist, burns on both arms and hands when the gas tank of his automobile caught fire late yesterday. He was treated at the Emergency hospital.

Arno Dosch From Berlin Visits Oakland

Summer brings an avalanche of interesting persons to California—to the Blue Bay. Too hot anywhere else, they say.

Comes now Arno Dosch-Fleurot with Mme. Dosch-Fleurot from Berlin.

Before the writer left for Europe, several years ago, he was simply Arno Dosch, son of a very beautiful mother, Mrs. Henry Dosch of Portland, and early-day friend of Mrs. Eleanor Martin of San Francisco.

Finding himself in many tight places on the Allied front as war correspondent, he adopted his mother's family name, and still holds it.

Mme. Fleurot is a Russian girl—Ania Sredinsky.

The former Mme. Dosch was the beautiful and brilliant Elsie Sperry, whose bon mots were repertoired at many a smart dinner fifteen years ago.

Acted like a charm

Her doctor was telling her what she must not eat. He had got as far as 'pastries and candy,' when she gently murmured

Pig'n Whistle

"Well!" he said, "if you stick to that make, you may take all you want. You cannot go wrong with things that have always been made from the best materials that money can buy."

She now thinks almost as much of that doctor as she does of her favorite food delights. And she looks better than ever she did.

LON CHANEY TO TAKE ROLE OF PARIS CROOK

Famous Film Actor to Be Seen at State Treater in New Thriller.

Lon Chaney, famous for his character portrayals in pictures, opens at the State theater today in his newest starring sensation, "While Paris Sleeps." Chaney became noted in such pictures as "The Frog," "The Miracle Man," "The Penalty," "The Shock," and others, but his work in "While Paris Sleeps" is said to equal if not excel anything he has ever done.

Cast as a Parisian underworld crook, the role fits him to a "t." Included in the supporting cast are Jack Gilbert and Mildred Manning.

Aged Alameda Wife Is Granted Divorce

When 70-year-old Mary E. P. Swoboda, 2304 Alameda avenue, Alameda, confronted her husband and an unidentified woman, the latter said: "Why don't you leave us alone. We are happy and we love each other."

This was the testimony which won a divorce decree for Mrs. Swoboda from Steven Swoboda, 40 years old, Superior Judge Mortimer Smith granting the decree.

The couple married September 15, 1917. Mrs. Swoboda testified that her husband learned that she had property and that this was his reason for the marriage. When she took him to task for allowing his affections to wander, he told her that "he would like a young one," she testified.

Former Arkansas Residents To Picnic

The Arkansas State Society of Northern California will hold a picnic in Live Oak Park, at Berryman avenue and Shattuck, Berkeley, Sunday, at 12 o'clock.

Announcement of the event was made by Colonel H. P. Rucker, president of the association. The meeting will start with a basket lunch followed by a business meeting and a program of entertainment. All former residents of Arkansas are welcome.

Berkeley Dentist Sued For Divorce

Her efforts to effect a reconciliation with Dr. Thomas E. Moore, Berkeley dentist, were repulsed by him and his treatment of her has caused her misery and ill health, alleges Virginia L. Moore in a divorce complaint filed here. The Moore home is at 2167 Addison street, Berkeley.

The Moores were married in San Francisco, March 25, 1912, and separated Saturday. Since April 25, Dr. Moore has refused to take his meals at home or converse with her, she says.

CURTAIN CALLS By Wood Soanes

TOMORROW night Jane Cowl will participate in a triumphant return to Oakland in the role that every actress dreams about playing, the little Capulet girl who had such a lot of grief with her romance.

During the past year reams have been written about Miss Cowl and her Juliet. She has been acclaimed as the greatest Juliet of all time. In the glare of this publicity the casual theatergoer is prone to forget her beginnings.

Miss Cowl is a native of Boston and will be 39 this December 14, according to the records. She made her debut in "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" in 1903. Followed then "The Music Master," Trinidad in "The Rose of the Rancho"; Mrs. Pettingill in "A Grand Army Man," and her succession to the Emma Dunn role in "The Easiest Way."

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

All this time Miss Cowl was sort of feeling her theatrical way, trying to find her forte. It came through Mary Turner in "Within the Law." In this play she made a tremendous hit and was shortly acclaimed as Broadway's principal weeping heroine.

In "Common Clay" she outdistanced her own record for popularity. "Simlin' Through" was the next big favorite and it was in this delightful piece that she made her first trip to the coast, breaking all records for attendance, just as she is doing now with "Romeo and Juliet."

In addition to being an actress, however, Miss Cowl has some success as a dramatist to her credit. She is co-author with Jane Murfin of "Lilac Time," "Daybreak" and "Information, Please," in all of which she starred in New York. Her local engagement at the Pantages theater will be limited to three days, starting Thursday afternoon.

FORTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

Mme. Modjeska is making another farewell tour which she says is "not another humbug farewell."

This was not a popular choice, it may be said in passing. The theatrical wiseacres decided that Peters had too little maturity for a Romeo. Which caused Miss Cowl to remark that in her opinion Juliet was about 14 and Romeo 16 when this love tragedy occurred.

At any rate, Peters played the part and was accorded almost as much praise as the star. He has acquitted himself so creditably that next season when "Antony and Cleopatra" is presented Peters is to be Antony to Miss Cowl's Cleopatra.

Incidentally, he will design the production, thus justifying the paternal hopes that he would some day be a painter of note.

* * *

Rollo Peters Was to have been a painter

In company with Jane Cowl is a young Californian who has risen to dramatic heights in recent years — Rollo Peters, son of Charles Peters, the painter of nocturnes, who has has habitat in San Francisco, where it was decided that young Mr. Peters would follow in his male parent's footsteps as a painter.

Peters first appeared with Miss Cowl in the Spanish play, "Malvaloca," produced early last season by the Equity Players in New York without much success. He made a favorable impression on the star, however, and she arbitrarily decided that he would be her Romeo.

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

The role of Juliet in America dates back to Mary Anderson, and, singularly enough, in the Cowl company is one Dennis King, playing the role of Mercutio. King began his stage career with John Drinkwater in England and was selected by none other than Mary Anderson to appear with her in "Pygmalion and Galatea" when she returned to the stage for a brief interval during the war.

* * *

Richard Fulton Russell, for many years a leading figure on the American stage, died on a Staten Island hospital at the age of 77 this week. He appeared to his youth in support of Edwin Booth and John McCullough. His wife was a sister of Ada Rehan.

* * *

Another old actor who is reported as seriously ill in London is Arthur Evelyn Liardet, former actor-manager and well known in America. He was a close friend of the late Joseph Jefferson.

* * *

Louis Mann has decided to go on tour with "Give and Take." His vaudeville excursion was not profitable and he has come to terms with A. H. Woods.

* * *

"The Nervous Wreck" is to be presented in New York, but Ernest Truex will have the role formerly allotted to Charles Ruggles, who played it at the Alcazar in San Francisco.

* * *

Arthur Byron will play Lonsdale's "By the Grace of God" instead of Norman Trevor, who will devote his atention to Milne's "Success."

* * *

"The White Cypher" will be the newest contribution to the mystery melodrama field. It is a joint product of Henry Leverage and Kate McLaurin.

* * *

"Enter, Kiki," the London name for the American success, "Kipi," is no more an electric signboard feature. The play did not strike a popular note in London. Perhaps it was the absence of Lenore Ulric from the title role.

* * *

In addition to preparing for an American revue this season, Andrew Charlot is redying a musical piece for Ethel Levey and Marie Dressler. The two actresses are providing the money for the staging. Miss Dressler's last London appearance was in "Philopena."

* * *

John Drinkwater's "Robert E. Lee" will be produced in America this month.

PERPETUAL YOUTH FOR WOMEN NOW AIM OF VORONOFF

Monkey Gland Expert Is On Trail of Help for the Weaker Sex.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The rejuvenation of women as well as men, and without the aid of the beauty doctor and the dressmaker, has been promised by Dr. Voronoff, the famous monkey gland expert. Dr. Voronoff explained during the recent international surgical congress that he was making experiments at the present time, and expected to be able to announce the secret of everlasting girlhood about November.

The announcement that he expected to make grandmothers into debutantes caused a sensation among the delegates, and many of them were frank in saying that they believed it utterly impossible. In fact some of them said he ought not to do it, one prominent social worker of London declaring:

"What the doctors should do is to find some means of preserving the strength of women of 70, so that they could give the benefit of their ripe experience to those in need of it.

"Women who have grown old naturally prefer nature to take its own course. There are women who would give anything to have their lost beauty and youth restored, but they are of the selfish type."

Dr. Voronoff refuses to discuss the subject further other than to say he has progressed to the extent that he is certain of success.

What's Happening in the MOTOR WORLD by Tim Houlihan

After running twenty-nine days without stopping the motor the Oakland six which was a feature of the salesrooms of the Purser Oakland Motor Company for the last three weeks, was then driven to Lake Tahoe during the night, without stopping on the whole trip, except for gasoline, is the word given out by Dick Purser, head of the firm here.

"This car has been operating for twenty-nine days, and without stopping the motor, the propellor shaft was connected, and the car lowered from its standards and driven out of the salesroom door, and then to Lake Tahoe over the Placerville road and returned here the next morning. Al Devoto of the Purser Company drove the car.

"The trip was made with the idea of showing that the car, which has been operating continuously for twenty-nine days, was still in good enough shape, without adjustments, to make the hard trip to Lake Tahoe and back."

Harold D. Knudsen, Chevrolet dealer here, was chosen chairman of the Motor Car Dealers division of the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association at their luncheon yesterday. Knudsen succeeds Howard B. Rector, who has led the organization for the last year. Robert W. Martland was re-elected secretary-manager and Charles L. Hebbank, treasurer.

Knudsen is well known in motor car circles along the coast and has built up a large trade here.

CITY'S TENNIS COURT EXPENSES ROLLED HIGHER

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—Tennis is said to be a rich man's game, and from the experience of the Richmond City Council it would seem that included in the cost is the expense of maintenance of private property within tennis ball range of the court.

Some of the items which the council is asked to meet in the way of expenses of the municipal courts in West Richmond, and which are figures in the cost of teaching the game, are as follows:

Damages to the garden crop of J. H. Murphy incident to the perpetual search for lost balls, $500.

Interest on that amount for a year, $37.50.

Damages to the 1923 garden crop of J. H. Murphy incident to the perpetual search for lost balls, $165.

Time consumed by Murphy in running tennis players off his premises, $280.

Several months ago Murphy protested to the council that most of the municipal tennis was being played in his back yard, and he did not think it was right. Last night he presented the council with his bill, amounting to $952.50.

Barling Bomber to Be Flown Tonight

DAYTON, O., Aug. 22.—After weather conditions had been observed at 10 o'clock today, definite announcement was issued at McCook Field headquarters that the great Barling bomber will be flown tonight at 6 o'clock. The huge craft was to have had its first trial yesterday, but rain interfered.

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—Eight Christian churches were represented in the conference of the Bay District Woman's Christian Missionary Societies here yesterday. The program was carried out as announced.

MANY STARS TO BE IN PERSON AT THEATER OPENING

Oaklanders Are Promised Treat at Fox-Oakland Saturday Night.

An event that promises to be of unusual interest to theater patrons of the Eastbay cities is promised in connection with the formal opening of the new Fox-Oakland theater Saturday night, when about two dozen screen favorites will appear in person at the theater.

Announcement of the names of the first eight stars with whom arrangements have been completed definitely was made yesterday by Managing Director S. Barret McCormick, following the receipt of a telegram from John Zanft, vice-president of the William Fox circuit. Zanft is now in Hollywood, completing arrangements to bring to Oakland two dozen international favorites who will arrive here in a special car Saturday morning, August 25.

According to advices from Zanft by wire yesterday, among those who are to come to Oakland on the special are Tom Mix and his famous horse, "Tony." "Tony" was recently the individual star of a feature photoplay that was said to be one of the most remarkable animal pictures ever screened.

Among well known stage beauties who will be present for the opening will be Bessie Love, Carmel Myers, Claire Windsor and Billie Love.

Edmund Lowe, well known to Eastbay theater-goers, is the star of the feature photoplay for the first week's program at the Fox-Oakland, entitled "The Silent Command," and will be present in person, as well as John Gilbert, the star of "Monte Cristo."

In addition to this list of stage favorites, arrangements are being made to bring to Oakland some fifteen additional stars whose names will be announced as soon as definite arrangements are completed in Hollywood by Zanft.

ARREST MADE FOR SEDUCTION

Tony Coming, Too

British Air Team Arranges Stations

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22.—Passengers arriving here on the Pacific Mail liner Colombia yesterday stated that the advance guard of the British aviation team, which will compete with an Italian team in a flight around the world, is now in Manzanillo, Mexico. This advance guard consists of 20 officers of the British army, navy and air service. They are making arrangements at Manzanillo for landing and fueling stations. The flight is planned for next year.

Delegates Chosen For Eureka Meeting

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—Delegates to the state convention of the Woman's Auxiliary to the American Legion at Eureka were selected last night by the Richmond chapter as follows: Principals, Mrs. W. A. Vickery and Mrs. Olive Reifschneider; alternates, Mrs. Clure Berty and Mrs. Lela Baker.

Plans were made at last night's meeting for a dance Saturday night at East Shore Park. Prizes are to be given for a fox-trot and an old-fashioned waltz.

Du Bose Memorial Carries On Unique Work in the Tennessee Hills.

MONTEAGLE, Tenn., Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—In the heart of the Tennessee mountains there is a school—the Du Bose Memorial school—where the students argue over the Pauline psychology while they sew buttons on their overalls; where a man chants Latin verbs to the swish of his broom, and the engineer at the sawmill talks classic Greek with his fellow workers.

Out of the truck garden cabbages are cultivated amid discussions of second century heresies, and fundamentalism versus modernism is threshed out over the milking of the cows. In one day these students buried the baby of a broken hearted mother, having first made the coffin, wrote Greek exercises, mended a wagon, and wound up by playing a winning game of baseball.

The school is an unique institution where men, long since past school age, but wishing to fit themselves for clerical orders, are trained for the ministry. They are poor men who come to this school, which is named after an Episcopal divine. There are two ex-sailors among them, one or two with army experience, some clerks, mechanics and farmers.

The school is co-operative. There are no tuition fees, and every one of the students work at some occupation about the farm and industrial plant for his keep and training. Rev. W. S. Claiborne, archdeacon of the Episcopal diocese of Tennessee, is the director of the work, immediately supervised by Rev. M. P. Logan, D. D., the warden.

Some of the men are married. The women sew, sweep, cook, mend, tend chickens, nurse any sick and are always busy. And all agree.

There are no hard and fast rules except that of co-operation. Perhaps never was a more uncertain adventure more self-sacrificingly translated into fact. Already men have gone out from the school and, in small spheres, become powers.

Do you know your hair will be getting gray if it keeps on?"

"I don't mind its getting gray if it only keeps on."

BAR MYSTERY IN BUSINESS IS ADVICE GIVEN

R. M. Neustadt Tells Ad Club That Public Confidence Is Requisite.

That modern business should "take the public in its confidence" and divest itself of whatever air of mystery may yet cling to it, was recommended yesterday to the members of the Oakland Advertising club at their weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland by Richard M. Neustadt of the Retail department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Neustadt said, in part:

"The public has come to the point where it realizes that the retailer should receive a financial return for handling the exchange of goods. But the manufacturers, wholesalers, have all put the finger of scorn on the retailer's nose and have accused him of being the profiteer. It took a government investigation, started by the United States Farm Bureau, to prove that the retailer is not getting all of the spoils.

"While the public mind may be relieved that the retailer does not get all of the money, yet it still holds a doubting attitude. The public now has no nigger in the woodpile and has begun to suspect the entire woodpile. The remedy is for business to kick off the mystery and take the people into its confidence. One big business after another is doing this, and retailers must also, if merchandizing would be placed on a plane of sound business principles."

Woman Sentenced To Learn State Vehicle Statute

Mrs. Eva Brown is devoting all her spare time to studying the motor vehicle act. She has more time to do this than formerly because she is unable to use the family automobile for sixty days.

It must be explained that Mrs. Brown has become a close, if not an enthusiastic, student of the state vehicle laws following her appearance before Judge Harry Pulcifer in justice court on a charge of speeding 40 miles an hour through Albany.

When Mrs. Brown confessed an entire ignorance of the vehicle act and admitted she only had a remote idea of having heard of it, Judge Pulcifer deprived her of the use of the automobile for 60 days and sentenced her to know the provisions of vehical act by October 16 when she must report and take an band protested against having the family machine tied up for the period, Judge Pulcifer offerred the alternative of Mrs. Brown doing her studying in jail. The couple decided to accept the former dictum.

MOTHERS WITH GOLD STAR TO HOLD CONVENTION

States Asked to Appoint as Delegates Those Who Suffered Most.

KANSAS CITY, Aug 22.—(By Associated Press.)—Governors of every state in the Union have been asked by the Kansas City chapter of the War Mothers to seek in each state the "Gold Star" mother who made the greatest sacrifice in the World War, with a view to sending her at her state's expense to the national convention of War Mothers in Kansas City September 29 to October 6, according to Mrs Howard Boone head of the local chapter.

"Twenty-three governors have already replied," Mrs Boone stated. "Most have promised aid, although some of them declare selection to be a delicate task"

Mrs. Boone said that the War Mothers have decided that the extent of a mother's sacrifice, by virtue of which she should be selected, would be gauged by the number of sons or daughters who died in the service of their country in the World War.

"This might not prove a strictly accurate basis for judgment" Mrs. Boone declared, "but it is the best we could devise". Mrs. Boone lost a son in the war.

The delgates sent by the states, Mrs. Boone asserted, will be the guests here of the Kansas City chapter of War Mothers.

Among the military men of prominence who have been invited to attend the convention are General John Pershing and Admiral R. E. Coontz, chief of operations of the United States navy.

Among other incidents in the program now in process of formation, will be the dedication to Jackson county Missouri, men who died in the war of a huge granite boulder which, will be set down amid the trees of Missouri's first "memory mile," near Kansas City.

Man Found Dead; Suicide Suspected

Frederick Komen, 76, who lived at 9328 East Fourteenth street, was found dead in his home today with a revolver beside him. All indications are said to have pointed to suicide. Komen had been despondent and ill over a period of two years.

Neighbors entered his room on hearing a shot and found him lying on the floor with a bullet hole in his temple. Policeman W. A. Meyers of the Eastern police station was summoned and he called in Dr. C. A. Monroe, who pronounced Komer dead.

Vollmer to Clean Up L. A. With 300 'Crime Crushers'

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Organization of a mobile force of 300 plainclothes policemen, to be known as the 'Invisible Division," was today announced by Chief of Police August Vollmer. The principal duty of this division of crime crushers," as Chief Vollmer styles them, will be to wipe out and clean up the hests of crime said to be known to the police. Acting Captain Henry L. Toomey will have charge of the division, which will be subject to instant orders to be sent anywhere.

Chief Vollmer outlined the duties of the new force as follows:

'We are going to use this force for surgical operations. There are several crime ulcers in the city and the invisible division will cut them out. # FASHIONS SHOWN AT FALL DISPLAY

Femininity, with an appreciation of its loveliness, made a pilgrimage today to the shop of Viviane and Jacques, Grand avenue at Webster street, there to be rewarded with the first fall showing of Fashion's latest decrees. The smart shop with its severe appointments was a splendid background for the bewildering array of models offered for inspection. Suits and coats; three-piece costumes; gowns for afternoon, dinner and evening; apparel for every occasion demanding milady's attendance were brought forth to the admiring gaze of scores of women who put aside pressing duties to catch a first peep of the new garments.

Black, taupe and brown predominated in the daylight gowns shown, each bearing its own scheme of decoration in exquisite embroideries—sometimes in royal blue, in silver or even in self-tones—in buttons; in rosettes of ribbons, in braids, or in furs. In the gowns designed for evening wear, a lavish display of color with apparently no favorite except the wearer's preference is offered.

Simplicity—that intricate, deceptive, alluring charm is the keynote to the entire wardrobe with which Viviane and Jacques have stocked their attractive store. Elegance is the distinctive mark in each individual garment. Coats—both top coats and those which are a part of the three-piece costumes—cling to the straight, smart line.

Model hats, finding their inspiration in the Paris shops or among the smartest of New York's creators, have been added this season to the local firm's offerings. While the tock is not a large one, each hat claims special attention. Bendel and Tappe models are featured.

Bags—the accessory which adds detail to the perfect costume—are a popular showing. The buyers for Viviane and Jacques have selected each bag in appreciation of the costumes which they are presenting. The big swagger bags today attracted particular attention.

French perfumes, imported for the convenience of Oakland patrons, give a popular department to the exclusive Grand avenue shop.

Adventure Wanted By Summer Reader

CHICAGO, Aug. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—The summertime reader would rather have a true account of pirates or shooting seals in the Arctic than even a love story, declares Nathan R. Levin, assistant librarian of the Chicago public library, who has been studying the tastes of the general reader for years.

"That does not mean that the love story has become unfashionable," Mr. Levin added. "It means rather that at vacation time everybody temporarily forgets his desire to get on in his own business or personal affairs and prefers to read about cinnamon-colored savages of the South Seas or trapping wombats in the wilds of Australia."

Taxpayers Paid $2205 in Refund

A total of $2205 is being returned to taxpayers in the Vallecitos school district due to the recent merger of that district with the Sunol and Sheridan school districts, it is announced by David E. The amount being returned was voted in bonds for construction of a school for the Vallecitos district and the bonds were sold, the money being held by the county treasurer. The merger then took place and since the money could not be used for any other purpose or for the combined district it has to be returned.

GAS TO DECIDE WARS OF FUTURE EXPERT STATES

Whole Armies Put to Sleep Not an Impossibility in Twenty-five Years.

NEW YORK Aug. 22.—(By Associated Press)—Whole armies put to sleep and taken prisoer in gas warfare is by no means an impossibility twenty-five years hence, Col. Raymond F Bacon chief of the Technical Division of the Chemical Warfare Service, A. E. F., says in a description of the possibilities of the future art of war made public by the American Chemical Society.

The $2,000,000 spent on the research organization did more toward winning the war Col. Bacon asserts, than any other $200,000,000 spent in other ways. One of the greatest lessons of the war has so far gone almost unheeded, according to Col. Bacon, who continues:

"To say the use of gas in warfare must be abolished is almost the same as saying that no progress must be made in the art of warfare toward making it more efficient or more humane If one reads of the great battles of history one will find that the victorious general conquered his enemy usually because of the fact that he so chose his position as to have his flank protected by river mountain range or some natural strong barrier.

"Much of the strategy of these battles consisted in maneuvering so as to obtain the advantage of position With the use of gas it is possible to saturate a piece of ground so that no troops can cross it, and thus make artificial barrier for the flank or protect the lines of communication Moreover these artificial barriers can be kept barriers for just as short a time as the strategy of the particular battle demands. These are but hints, but show the tremendous unexploited possibilities of gas in warfare.

"One can easily imagine the situation at the time the fighting was hand to hand with the spear or the sword and gunpowder was first introduced, which in those days perhaps permitted the antagonists to fight at a range of 100 or 200 yards. There muss have been a great outcry as to prohibiting the horrible new mode of warfare and it must have been felt that it was very unfair to stand off 200 yards rather than to meet in combat man to man

"But no one looking back on that period would attempt to say that it was possible to have staayed the hand of progress and to have prevented by any legislation or agreement the use of gunpowder in warfare Moreover the consensus of opinion today would be that the hand to hand fighting with spear and sword was more cruel and inhumane than the fighting with the gun and the bullet. Similarly at the present time we cannot effectually stay the progress of science, and to attempt to do so is not only unwise but is also preventing the possibilities of a really more humane type of war."

ECLIPSE PHOTOS HIGH IN AIR IS GIVEN APPROVAL

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 21.—(By the Associated Press.)—A new national park at Government Bluff, Door county, is being sought by Wisconsin conservationists with the likelihood that a move will be made by Senator I. Government Bluff, rises majestically above Green Bay on Lake Michigan, to a height of 250 feet. It is wooded with virgin pines and evergreen, giant remnants of the once vast Wisconsin forests. Waters about the bluff are regarded as unrivalled for bass fishing.

OAKLAND FOUR-YEAR-OLD FOUND IN SAN LEANDRO

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 22.—A bold wanderer, 4-year-old Billie, who lives with his parents at 1041 One Hundred and Fourth avenue, Oakland, yesterday afternoon entered the office of the city marshal here, seeking directions on a tour through an unknown country.

The boy, while he made plain that he did not know where he was, refused to worry about it, and made himself immediately comfortable in Marshal Peralta's large easy chair while he began experiments on a typewriter. Unable to locate any missing child in San Leandro, Assistant City Marshal Edmund Dyas was assigned to finding the boy's family for him. Dyas, getting into touch with the Oakland police, discovered that the boy had left his home on One Hunded and Fourth avenue at noon yesterday. Dyas returned the child to his home.

RUM BAN RAPPED AT DRY CONGRESS

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 22 (By the Associated Press).—Professor Warming of Copenhagen, summing up his impressions of a four-months' visit to the United States, told the delegates to the International Congress Against Alcohol yesterday that the prohibition of all alcoholic drinks was unwarranted.

"Home-brewed beer and wine should be allowed," he said, adding that he would be unwilling to vote for prohibition in Denmark unless 70 per cent of the population demanded it. He expressed the hope that the Volstead act in America would not "hamper" the European fight against alcohol to any great extent.

The Rev. Edwin Dinwiddie, Wayne B. Wheeler and William Bennett of the American delegation protested these deductions of Professor Warming, arguing that his impressions of America were those of a tourist.

SHOOTING OF MAN AT STAR'S HOUSE PUZZLES POLICE

L. A. Sleuths Still Mystified by Shots Fired at Son of N. Y. Millionaire.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—(International News Serice).—Renewed efforts were made today to sole the mysterious woundin of C. Goodwin Bradley, said to be the son of a New York millionaire, by an unseen assailant on the night of June 5, last, while he was at the home of Sigrid Holmquist, film actress.

In acnowledging he was the man wounded at the Holmquist home, Bradley admitted the shot was the the second fired at him from ambush within a few months. He said that during last May he was fired on late one night while returning to the home of A. R. Peck, with whom he was associate in a chemical company operating at Anaheim.

Before the first attempt on his life, Bradley said a member of a bootleg ring approached him concerning the purchase of 500 galons of alcohol. The bootlegger was later arrested and fined $5000.

Bradley said that on the night of the last shooting he and Miss Holmquist were on the porch of her residence during a dancing party when a shot grazed his wrist, inflicting a slight wound.

Bradley's theory of the shooting tended to discredit the belief that the shot was fired at Miss Holmquist, who had been mistaken for Mary Miles Minter.

Council Refuses To Raise Values

SAN LEANDRO, Aug. 22.—Decision to abandon the plan proposed by a taxation committee of the chamber of commerce here, suggesting an increase in assessed valuation of property on both sides of East Fourteenth street and Washington avenue, between Chumalia and Hepburn streets, here, was reached by the city council, sitting as a board of tax equalization, in special session last night. Edwin Duck was the only member of the council voting to carry through the proposed increase this year.

Decision to take this action was made following the hearing of protests of property owners in the districts effected expressed by A. A. Rogers and Judge W. J. Gannon, local attorneys. The proposed increase was represented as arbitrary and unfair.

MANY FIRMS BID FOR U. S. LINERS ON PACIFIC ROUTE

Stanley Dollar Confers With Chairman Farley to Renew Offer for Fleet.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Revived interest in the two fleets of government passenger and freight steamers being operated on the Pacific by the Pacific Mail company, as managing agents, was indicated today when the shipping board received inquiries from several sources as to the probable disposition of these services.

Stanley Dollar, head of the Admiral-Oriental line, had an engagement to confer with Chairman Farley today, when it was understood he would submit revised bids for the fleet designed to meet requirements set by the board. The Dollar interests offered to purchase the Pacific routes when the entire government fleet was put up at auction some months ago, but their propo- sal was held by the board to be inadequate in certain guarantees.

The present operators, the Dollar Steamship company, and certain Seattle interests were said to be included among those who have made inquiries regarding the Pacific

Lack of Truant Officer Is Puzzle

When there is no applicant for the position of city truant officer who can comply with the state requirements for this office? This problem faces school authorities here, as expressed today by W. O. Davies, superintendent of city schools.

According to Davies, Joseph Brown, the one applicant for the position of truant officer, is unable to satisfy the technical requirements made by the state officials for a truant officer.

Davies has attempted to regulate the matter, for the time being, through the office of the city marshal, but J. F. Peralta, city marshal, declares that he is as unqualified to act as truant officer as is Brown. Manuel Valance, constable, it is understood, is taking the same position.

Davies, discussing the matter today, declared that it is now necessary to take steps at the earliest possible moment to appoint an officer to the duty.

FUEL SHORTAGE HALTS RUM SHIP CLOSE TO SHORE

Artore, With 23,000 Cases On Board, Lying Off Point Arena.

The British steamer Artore, thought by Federal officials to be a Canadian rum-runner, is lying off Point Arena short of fuel and with 23,000 cases of liquor aboard, according to information brought into port yesterday afternoon by Captain C. G. Hoffman of the converted subchaser Cuitemoc, which carries cargo from San Francisco to Point Arena.

According to Federal authorities the Artore has been operating off the California coast for the past two weeks disposing of her cargo. Coast guards have been patrolling the coast in the hope of apprehending small craft that may be carrying liquor from the vessel to the shore.

Attention to the condition of the Artore was attracted when Captain Hoffman sought H. E. Farmer, chief deputy collector of customs, to obtain information as to the possibility of his carrying coal to the steamer without getting into trouble himself.

According to William B. Hamilton, collector of port, there is no law against the vessel entering the harbor if the ship is in distress and her cargo manifests are all in proper condition. Should the papers fail to cover her cargo properly, the liquor would be subject to seizure. If she carried proper manifests, the cargo would be sealed while she was taking on her fuel.

A telephone message to the home of Captain Hoffman last night is said to have revealed the fact that he had gone to sea in his craft to coal a ship. Search by both prohibition officials and customs officers failed to reveal any law or rule against his action.

World War Veteran Run Over, Killed

MANTECA, Aug. 22. — Leslie Lowe, 29, overseas veteran, whose parents live near this city on a ranch, was instantly killed at the Pitt River lumber company's camp Monday, when a truck ran over him. Details are still lacking. He was employed as an electrician by the company. During the world war he served in France with distinction. A widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lowe, and five brothers survive. The body has been shipped to Stockton to await funeral arrangements.

HUSBAND PLANS WIFE'S SURPRISE

"Hi, there, Joe! Oh, there you are on the back porch. I thought you weren't at home. I couldn't rouse anybody at the front of the house."

"Too much noise, I guess. I couldn't hear you. Come on in and talk to me while I work."

"Work! Well, I should say so. What on earth are you doing?"

"Painting, man. Can't you see? Little surprise for the wife when she comes back from her visit to her sister. She's been wanting me to paint the table and chairs for the breakfast nook for a long time. Decided to do it while she's away."

"Wait till she sees that high color you're using. I'll bet you'll paint it over."

"That's where you're dead wrong. The wife chose the color and bought the paint. It surely is a giddy shade, I'll admit. But, then you know how women go in for colors. Good gosh, man, think of their clothes."

"Golly, yes. They get by with a lot of colors that would stop traffic if we men folks wore 'em."

"Yes, I should say so. We doll up in our dull shades and feel conspicuous if we have a tie that is a little bright in hue."

"Speaking of clothes, I'm due to buy a new suit this week. Give me some good advice as to where to go."

"Oh, man, will I? Go to Cherry's at 528 13th street. The best assortment of fabrics and good materials and workmanship. Up to the minute styles, too. My sister buys all of her dresses and coats at their exclusive little shop for women at 515 13th street."—Advertisement.

Industrial Construction and the "Check" Seal—

ELECTRIC light, heat and motive power play such an important part in all industrial operations in the West, that money invested in buildings and other equipment, can return a profit only so long as the plant is reliably and abundantly served by the electrical installation.

Hence the importance of securing a "Check" Seal contractor to electrify your plant. This group of contractors operate under the "Check" Seal of the Pacific States Electric Company, the largest distributor of electrical merchandise on the Pacific Coast, and apply the principles for which the "Check" Seal stands. They know their business, charge a fair price, employ good workmanship and use materials which have been inspected and certified as standard.

Before you construct your plant consult with your engineer about "Check" Seal methods. The engineer appreciates the dependability of a "Check" Seal contractor in executing the electrical plans. Such contractors can be relied upon to supply an electrical installation which is satisfactory in every respect, and which will continue to be satisfactory.

TURLOCK FARMS EARN MILLIONS DURING SEASON

TURLOCK, Aug. 22.—Up to the beginning of this week the soil of the Turlock irrigation district had returned in excess of a million dollars to the tillers and the season has not ended. Conservative estimates have placed the total yield of the soil this year at $3,000,000. The prediction that the crops would total that much and probably more was made by A. Florance of the Westfall-Lane Company, growers and shippers.

The melon and cantaloupe crops had returned a million dollars up to midnight and the apricots, peaches and truck produce was not figured in. Figs and grapes will not be harvested for another week and they will also swell the farmers' bank account. The melons and cantaloupes that were shipped by auto were not taken into consideration and nine times out of ten truck shipments average one or two dollars more on a crate of melons and several dollars a ton on watermelons as they are all ripe when they leave.

Five hundred cars of watermelons averaging 12 tons to the car with an average price of $20 a ton would fetch $120,000 and for several weeks watermelons were between $40 and $50 a ton so an average price would probably be $30 instead of $20. However, all of the figures and estimates were conservatively made.

Over 1100 cars of cantaloupes, averaging 336 crates to the car, have been shipped and placing the average price at the low figure of $1.60 a crate the growers have received somewhere in the neighborhood of $720,000 and the casabas and honeydew shipments would swell the total with $75,000. The last two were figured at $40 a ton and growers were not paid that low price until a few days ago when $35 was the ruling figure.

Sweet potatoes have only moved in small shipments with one complete car leaving so far; tons of melons have been shipped out by truck and were not figured in the estimations, and the early truck garden crops with beans, hay and grain were not taken into consideration.

The grapes are just beginning to ripen and several vineyards have been contracted by shippers at a fancy figure. The fig harvest will not commence until about the first of next month and there seems to be an abundance of them now with a bare market.

Taking into consideration all factors the crops of this district will probably return $3,000,000 or more this year.

MERCED ITEMS

MERCED, Aug. 22.—"Joe" Hernandez, arrested Sunday morning by City Officer Tim Thornton, pleaded not guilty in City Recorder Harold Bone's court to a charge of having brandy in his possession. His bail was fixed at $500 bond or $250 cash, and his trial was set for September 20. Hernandez told the judge he couldn't speak English and asked for a ninterpreter, but became interested in a story he was telling the court to explain his innocence, and told it in English. The court took the story as fiction.

Rose M. Pickett yesterday morning swore to a complaint before Justice Bone against her husband, W. E. Pickett, for disturbing the peace. He entered a plea of not guilty and his bail was fixed at $100. Mrs. Pickett asserts that her husband yesterday broke up a lot of dishes and also struck her.

TRUSTED CLERK VANISHES AFTER CHECK ON BOOKS

WOODLAND, Aug. 22.—Roy H. Bush, who held a position of trust in the Diamond Match Company's office and lumber yard at Arbuckle, disappeared Monday after an auditor had gone over his books. There is said to be a shortage of $1000.

Bush is said to have driven from Arbuckle to Woodland in an automobile belonging to the company. He brought his wife and five children here in the machine and left them. He left an envelope addressed to his wife. The envelope contained two five-dollar bills and a note in which Bush is said to have told his wife that it was necessary for her protection and the protection of their children that he go away, as there was a $1000 shortage in his books. He asked her not to mention receipt of the letter, but Mrs. Bush not wishing to be a party to the alleged embezzlement turned the letter over to Justice of the Peace A. F. Binde at Esparto. A warrant charging Bush with abandonment and desertion of his wife and children was issued by Judge Binde.

Bush's home was formerly in Michigan. He is about 42 years old and his wife is 35.

TUNNEL ROAD ORDERED SHUT TO ALL TRAFFIC

MARTINEZ, Aug. 22. — The Tunnel highway is now running on an "off again, on again, gone again Finnegan" schedule.

Today and for the rest of the week until Saturday noon it will be closed to traffic and, under orders of the board of supervisors, traffic officers will be stationed at Bryant and Lafayette to see that an order closing the road to traffic between 7:45 a. m. and 5 p. m., is strictly enforced.

Grading and elimination of curves on Charles Hill is the reason for the closing. On the start of work by Mrs. Ellen E. O'Brien, contractor, the highway was kept open but interference of traffic so hampered work that the supervisors ordered it closed for a week. Saturday, barriers were removed by speed officers and traffic again permitted.

Yesterday, Mrs. O'Brien asked the supervisors to close the highway, declaring progress was too greatly impeded by traffic.

Traffic ordinarily using the Tunnel highway will be diverted via Moraga.

The net increase, however, is only $119,775 on account of the fact that the city water department property, heretofore assessed to the Watsonville Water Company for $49,210 and since transferred to the city, was deducted.

This was announced late last night, following the conclusion of the recount. "There were a few minor alterations in totals," it was said, "due to the fact that many ballots were illegibly marked or marked with ink and then folded so as to blot, but the results stand unchanged."

This recount of the tally was ordered by the voting board when three defeated candidates—Robert Britton, Leroy Anderson and Arthur Baldwin—demanded it.

Association officials and growers in general admitted with intense relief that nothing irregular was found in the election.

A renewed outbreak of ill feeling within the association was feared if any discrepancy in the tally was found, but with everything standing as formerly announced it is believed that the wrangling is at an end.

Runaway Speeder Dashes Down Long Santa Cruz Grade

LOS GATOS, Aug. 22.—Hurtling down the sharp turns and steep inclines of a dozen miles of the Southern Pacific railroad track in the Santa Cruz mountains from Glenwood, with the added speed given by its engine, a gasoline inspection car was shunted into a siding here and crashed into a boxcar after failing to be derailed by a series of iron bars laid across the tracks.

The car was being operated by a Western Union line inspector. He had dismounted in the middle of a tunnel near Glenwood to look over some connections. Starting out again in the dark, he threw in the switch and opened the throttle wide, shoving the car along the track in front of him. The motor responded instantly, and the sudden forward jerk of the car caused the driver to stumble on the ties. He fell, and the gasoline car chugged at full speed out of the tunnel and down the long grade.

Although he expected that the high speed of the little car would derail it at some sharp turn, the driver at once "cut in" on some telegraph wires and told the train despatcher of his accident. The train despatcher notified station agents all along the line, and they prepared for the hurtling car. The car leaped over pieces of iron laid on the rails to derail it, and continued to this city, where it was turned in on a siding.

DELINQUENT BOY HOME MOVE FOR SAN JOSE GROWS

National Progress Club Votes Favoring School After Talk by Leader.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 22.—A movement for a home here for delinquent boys is gathering momentum today following a most unusual speech made yesterday by J. J. McDonald before the National Progress Club.

McDonald, who is a farmer leader and interested in the problem of juvenile delinquency, attacked the method of sending boys direct to the state reform schools. He urged that there be built in this county a home where boys could be sent before being sent to Whittier and where they could be taught a trade, amid homelike surroundings. "I believe that nine out of ten of our so-called 'bad' boys could be saved in that way," he declared.

The National Progress Club placed itself on record favoring the movement and worked out a plan whereby the civic clubs and fraternal organizations will each appoint one man to serve on a committee which will work out detailed plans for the home.

He had then decamped and had come here, but his conscience began to get troublesome and at last he asked to be placed in custody. Ying is being held pending an investigation.

WEST SAN JOSE VIADUCT PLANS PUT ON DISPLAY

Citizens to Decide On Improvement At Rail Crossing On The Alameda.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 22. — Elaborate plans and specifications for a viaduct beneath the railroad tracks at West San Jose for the Alameda boulevard were on exhibition today in the office of City Manager Goodwin. Goodwin indicated that before the year is over the citizens of San Jose will be called upon to decide whether they will help build this viaduct or whether they will continue to allow the tracks to follow Fourth street—the latter situation having been protested against repeatedly.

According to Goodwin, the plan is to separate the grade of The Alameda and the railroad tracks and then to concentrate the Southern Pacific tracks at West San Jose instead of on Market street. The company promises to establish a modern depot, four 1000-foot inter-track platforms with subway entrances and, exits and large freight yards.

In return the city will be asked to vote $75,000 to defray its share of the cost of building the viaduct under the tracks for The Alameda. This viaduct would lower the Alameda at a 5 per cent grade for a couple of blocks and then raise it again. It would likewise raise the S. P. tracks for a similar distance and then lower them again to level.

The entire plan is awaiting the approval of the railroad commission, which will hold its final hearing on the matter August 28 in San Francisco.

Arthur Page's Death Recalls Early History

Santa Rosa Friends Attend Funeral of Land Owner in San Francisco.

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 22.—Fred Keppel, superintendent of the famous Cotati ranch, and George T. Trowbridge, who was the first manager under the Page ownership, yesterday attended the funeral in San Francisco of Arthur Page, principal owner of the rancho.

Page's death recalls an interesting story of early California life. While practicing medicine in Valparaiso, Chile, many years ago, Page's father helped prolong the life of an aged Spaniard, who so appreciated his efforts that he deeded to Page two land grants in California. The old Spaniard had received the grants under the Spanish government. However, Page would not accept the grants without paying something for them and insisted on giving the old Spaniard 25 cents an acre. As there were two grants of 16,000 acres each, this amounted to $8000.

In later years the physician came to California to see his land, and found that he owned a 16,000-acre tract in Sonoma county and another of like size in Solano county.

The family then removed to San Francisco, and the work of developing and selling off the land began. In the beginning the Cotati Rancho extended from within four miles of Santa Rosa almost to the city limits of Petaluma, 16 miles from here. From the early days the Page family has been the largest taxpayers in Sonoma county, and although the Cotati Rancho has dwindled now to 4000 acres, they remain the largest taxpayers.

The Solano county grant has also long since been broken up.

Dr. Bruce T. Cockrill was called from here Monday to go to Bloomfield and usher into the world the sixth child of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cliln of that town. The six children in the family were all born in different States.

Walter S. Price is the new president of the Santa Rosa Realty board, succeeding James H. Gray. Other officers elected are: George T. Reading, vice-president; J. R. Brown, secretary and treasurer; delegates to the State convention, A. F. Tomasi and George T. Reading.

In a proposed budget prepared by City Manager Abner E. Hitchcock, Santa Rosa's probable expenditures for the fiscal year 1923-1924 are placed at $211,417, and the income at $213,330.

Miss Gladys Gertrude Bachelder, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Bachelder of Sebastopol, was married in San Francisco Tuesday night to Joseph Rothgang, Santa Rosa business man. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. F. W. Williamson. The couple are on their way today on a motor honeymoon to the Pacific Northwest.

The betrothal of Miss Margaret Bertoni and Wesley Colgan, a nephew of the late Edward P. Colgan, at one time State controller of California, has been announced here. The wedding date has not yet been set. Both Miss Bertoni and Colgan are natives of Santa Rosa.

$2600 Subscribed at Opening Banquet Toward $10,000 Fund for Purpose.

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 22.—The Santa Cruz "all the year" campaign got off to a flying start Monday night when the banqueters at the dinner-smoker held at the casino grill subscribed, under the magic salesmanship of Postmaster Fred R. It served as a teilinz stimulant to the fifty men making up the teams of the go-getters, the all-year-rounders and the business-boosters, representing the Exchange, Rotary and Business Men's association, when they took the field in the active campaign yesterday morning.

Then J. D. Allen of San Francisco was introduced to "tell us how it can be done."

WALTER MAILS SHOWS THE SEALS SOME FLOSSY SOUTHPAW PITCHING AND WINS HIS GAME

HOWARD'S TOSSERS HAVE GOOD CHANCE TO FINISH IN FOURTH PLACE

Manager Bert Ellison's Errors and Mitchell's Wildness Help Oaks in Scoring Six Runs and Sewing Up Game in Fourth Inning

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Walter Mails, Oakland southpaw hung up his fifth straight win when he took the mound against the San Francisco Seals at the Oakland ball park yesterday afternoon. The big southpaw had the Seals feeding from his hands and turned them away scoreless and with eight scattered hits, while his teammates piled up seven runs, due mostly to the wildness of Oliver Mitchell who started on the hill for the Seals, and also to bad errors by Hal Rhyne and Bert Ellison. The latter made two bobbles which were very costly. It was the second straight shutout for Mails. In the last five games his pitching has been of big league variety as he has allowed only four earned runs in them, and recorded three shutouts.

Mails has not been getting all the credit due him for the five straight wins, probably because the fans overlooked the fact that he won that many games in a row. They overlooked it because Walter had won three in a row and was then injured and forced to rest for a couple of weeks. The intermission took the color off his work. Walter certainly twirled a clever game yesterday, and after his teammates got him a half dozen runs in the fourth inning, the contest was over. He bore down plenty in the first few innings, but after getting the big lead he took good care of his hurling arm. In the first three frames he fanned five batters, both Mulligan and Ellison passed out on three pitched balls.

Oaks Are Not Far From Fourth Place.

The victory yesterday placed the Oaks just one game behind the Vernon Tigers, and the chances of the locals getting out of the cellar this week are very bright. The locals have been playing high-class ball for nearly two months now, and the chances of them finishing in the first division are more than fair. At the present time they are seven games behind the Salt Lake Bees, who have a hold on the fourth rung. Yesterday the Oaks were a tail-end team meeting the league leaders, but judging from the form the two clubs showed, the Oaks looked like the leaders and the Seals the tail-enders.

Ray Brubaker, captain of the Oaks, was telling his playmates a few things when he was thrown out at first base for the last out in the third inning. Manager Bert Ellison of the Seals was trotting toward the third base coaching line and shouted, "You tell them, Brubaker, you are the brains of the club." That remark must have sunk deep into the skins of the Oaks, for they came back in their half of the fourth frame and piled up six runs. Brubaker had the laugh on Ellison, as the Seal leader lost his goat, and his two errors on easy ground balls had as much to do with helping the Oaks beat the Seals as did Mitchell's wildness.

Mails Waits for Walk When Bags Are Loaded.

Mails' coolness up at the plate in the fourth frame helped the Oaks to their first run. To start the inning, Guisto singled over second. Rhyne booted Cather's grounder. LaFayette laid down a bunt and all were safe when Mitchell's throw arrived at third too late. Read hit to Mulligan and Guisto was out at the plate, after which Maderas fanned. Mitchell pitched two perfect strikes to Mails. It looked like he would get out of the hole. But Mails stood right up to the plate and made the southpaw pitch. He waited out four wide ones and trotted to first base, while Cather walked home. Mails had worked Mitchell for a walk in the previous inning. The Seals' southpaw was through for the day, and he walked Massey to force in another run. Cooper beat out a hit to Ellison and Read scored. "Shovel" Hodge relieved Mitchell, and Brubaker, who was razzed a few moments before by Ellison, hit a roller at the Seals' leader. He booted the ball and then threw wild to first, two more runs scoring. Guisto, up for the second time in the inning, also hit to Ellison and he booted, Cooper scoring. Cather hit in the direction of Ellison, and it looked like he would not tackle the ball, so Rhyne raced over and made a nice play to retire the side.

Hodge pitched good ball after that, except in the seventh, when Cather's double and Pete Read's single scored one. Maderas got a hit in the same frame, but Mails fanned and Read was out at the plate in trying a double steal with Maderas.

Reds Gaining On Giants in National Race

Cincy Team Just Three and Half Games Behind Leaders.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—The New York Nationals could feel the Reds' breath coming hot in the backs of their necks as they started on the race toward the world series plate yesterday. The world's champions lost, 9 to 5, to Pittsburgh, after using four pitchers without effect. The Pittsburgh batsmen took five runs in the first inning and held their lead throughout.

While this was going on in New York the Reds won in Philadelphia by a score of 7 to 5 and climbed up a full game. They are now just three and one-half games behind the losing leaders.

In Boston the St. Louis Nationals bunched hits against Cooney in the sixth and Oeschger in the ninth, defeating the New Englanders, 8 to 2. Hornsby made a pair of two baggers.

The Robins lost again in Brooklyn when the Chicago Nationals landed hard on Dazzy Vance's delivery. Dazzy was exceedingly good in spots, striking out nine men, but the Chicago swatters seemed to find him often. Dutch Henry, who pitched the ninth inning, let in five runs. The Chicago-New York and the St. Louis-Washington games in the American league were called because of rain.

Rain prevented all scheduled games in the American league. The New York-Chicago game will be transferred to New York as the Yankees have made their last appearance of the season in Chicago.

The Chicago Nationals made a clean sweep of the Brooklyn series by taking the third game handily behind Vic Keen's swell pitching. Vic allowed only four hits. "Dazzy" Vance fanned nine Cubs in eight innings, but was unable to stop the slugging of the Chicago players.

George Grantham, star second sacker of the Chicago Nationals, increased his lead in stolen bases when he registered his 37th theft, and Heathcote, a teammate, got into the running by swiping his 30th.

"Sparky" Adams, since given the regular assignment at short, following Hollocher's retirement, has been playing a great game for the Chicago Nationals. "Sparky" grabbed off three hits and accepted nine chances without a slip in the final game against Brooklyn.

Pittsburgh won its game in the early innings by driving five runs across the counting station in the initial inning with Watson on the mound for New York. Manager McGraw juggled his lineup in hopes of getting a winning combination, but it was fruitless.

"Rabbit" Maranville had his batting clothes on, cracking out four hits in the batting bee staged for the afternoon. Rawlings and Grimm ran him a close second, with three blows each, while Jackson of the Giants poled two doubles and a single.

The St. Louis Nationals have booked an exhibition game for Galesburg, Ills., for September 5.

DOING A COMEBACK ---By Wood Cowan

With old Jess Willard trying a comeback and old man Adams' boy still pitching for the Pirates, it's no surprise to hear of a few of the bearded youths of aquatic fame diving into the briny deep and clipping a few seconds off some world swimming records.

Here's old Duke Kahanamoku, the noted Hawaiian water crawler. Why, he's been in the game since time was, it seems, and just the other day he splashed his fins through the stuff that runs under bridges for 100 yards and shaved the world's record, free style, time 55 3-5 seconds. Then he swam 25 yards in 10 flat.

We thought the Duke was back in the old home town on the retired list years ago, telling the natives how he did it when he was a boy. But evidently the spirit of the age has penetrated even the Hawaiian backwoods.

As a member of Uncle Sam's Olympic team at Stockholm in 1912, the Duke took about every swimmer in the world into camp. He's had all the fish imitating his style ever since.

It used to be the correct idea to retire from active sport competition on a fellow's 30th birthday, but since the flapper age most of our top notchers in every line of sport boast of two or three dozen grandchildren.

Bushers Steal 25 Bases in Three Innings

According to the College Avenue Merchants, a record was established last Sunday, when the C. A. M. nine pilfered twenty-five bases in three innings off Rigler, catcher for the Berkeley Modern Woodmen. The Merchants were able to steal at will, and had not the Woodmen quit after the beginning of the fourth inning the total would have been much higher. The score of the game was 16-0, nine of the C. A. M.'s runs being totaled in the second with one fluke hit, and a number of walks, fielders' chances, etc.

Some Baseball Trades That Were Failures

Swap Made by Ty Cobb That May Have Cost Tigers a Flag.

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Sports Editor.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(United Press).—After having guessed good and wrong, several major league managers are prepared to argue that there are no brains, science or judgment in trading and it is just a question of luck in getting the good break on a swap.

The only consolation in discarding a worn-out king that fills a straight in another man's hand is that others have done it before, and the old baseball alibi covers the offense: "How can you beat it?"

The most outstanding example of a good trade that went wrong happened in the case of Ty Cobb and the failure of a deal to turn out as the Tiger leader had reason to expect it, blew what was generally regarded as a good chance for Detroit to win the pennant or be way up there.

Howard Ehmke wasn't doing much good with the Tigers. Cobb didn't like him, and the Detroit fans figured that the club could get along without him.

Cobb made then what looked like a slick move when he traded Ehmke and Hollings to the Boston Red Sox for Del Pratt and Rip Collins.

In return for what was regarded as excess baggage, Cobb got a good second baseman, whom he expected to fill a big hole and make the Tiger infield. And in Rip Collins he acquired a pitcher of ability, who looked to be just about ready for stardom.

As Detroit figured that Cobb had secured all of the best of the deal, so the Boston fans thought that they had received the worst of it, and Harry Frazee was censured for the last overt act in breaking up a great ball club just to fatten his pocketbook.

It wasn't long until the whole color changed. Pratt fell down at second base and Collins was a terrible "bust" as a pitcher. The Tigers collapsed and fell out of the running.

On the other hand, Ehmke pulled a sensational reversal of form with the Red Sox and turned into one of the best pitchers of the season.

• • •

Then there was the case of the Cleveland Indians, who turned "Stuffy" McInnis loose because he was thought not worth the big salary called for in his contract. Speaker had Guisto ready to step on first base and he was judged to be worth more in "Stuff's" place than in a seat on the bench. Guisto was given the regular assignment. His health went bad and Speaker had to shift Brower, an outfielder, to first.

McInnis also was instrumental in making the management of the St. Louis Browns look guilty of bod judgment. The Brown bosses kne wthat George Siller was not going to be able to play and that they would need an experienced first baseman. They made out a sound while "Stuffy" was around looking for a job, and when he was grabbed by the Boston Braves, the Brown management had to take a castoff rookie from Brooklyn to fill the Sizzler's place.

• • •

Uncle Wilbert Robinson, the fat boss of the Brooklyn Robins, stands as the best and about the only wise swapper of the season.

Robby has some extra outfielders and he needed a first baseman, as Schmandt had failed to deliver and he wasn't very keen about experimenting with Schlieber, a rookie.

He offered Hy Myers, one of the most popular players on the team, to the St. Louis Browns for Jack Fournier, a "worn-out" first baseman, who had been benched by Branch Rickey in favor of Bottomley, a young player.

Brooklyn went into a rage when the deal was made, and critics all around the circuit wondered what kind of hypnotism Rickey had used on Charley Ebbets to get him to agree to the deal.

Myers went to the Cards and continued to slip, as he was slipping with the Robins, but Fournier started playing the game of his life and got into a hitting spree that has kept him up with the slugging leaders all season.

• • •

SHERRY SMITH CAME BACK.

While Brooklyn did make a clever deal in that case, the Robin management pulled one when they let Sherry Smith, their big southpaw, get away to the Cleveland Indians. Smith looked like he was through, it is true, but he came back to life with the Indians and turned into a winning pitcher.

• • •

Cotton Tierney didn't have what Bill McKechnie thought were the qualifications of a second baseman on a pennant contender and the Pirate chief traded him to the Phils. Even in such lowly environment, Tierney started to shine. It wasn't a tough break on the Pirates, however, as they secured Johnny Rawlings in the deal, and Rawlings is a high-class, reliable ball player.

• • •

If Cobb now had Ehmke, if the Cincinnati Reds or the Indians had Fournier—but they haven't.

BALLARDS TRIM RICHMOND.

Ballard's All Stars won from the Richmond All Stars by a score of 7 to 3. Duncan pitched a fine brand of ball, allowing but 4 hits. The score:

Andy Smith Is Worrying Over His Big 'Bears'

California Coach Has Many Big Gridiron Problems Yet to Solve.

BERKELEY, Aug. 22.—What is Andy Smith going to do? That is the question which predominates on the campus as the fall semester starts. Football is already in the air. What is Andy going to do?

But it is not what Andy is going to do, for he can be relied on to do athing thoroughly and well, but what he is going to do it with.

Andy is again confronted with the problem of building a championship eleven and he knows how to do it as proven by records of the last three years. The Bruins have been champions. Can they keep it up?

SMITH IS CONFIDENT.

Andy Smith is confidnt that they can, but not overconfident, for that is not Andy. He has lost nine good men through graduation and these will leave a gap which it will not be easy to fill. Of course, he has the freshman team of last semester and twelve men from last year's team to draw on, but it will not be an easy matter to develop a championship aggregation.

In a few weeks California Field will again be trampled by the cleats of aspiring football men. The veterans are on their toes and waiting for a chance to get back into the moleskins.

Captain Nichols, Burgess, Perry, Spaulding, Nickleman, Evans, Horrell, Witter, Beam, Hufford, Dunn and Newmeyer are all from last year's Varsity and are back on the campus ready to get into the game.

END MEN WORRY.

End positions are going to be the greatest source of worry as things now stand and the loss of Morrison and Nesbit has also left a hole in the backfield. The loss of these two men leaves no one for the booting end and in all probability Witter will be groomed for this position as he has shown considerable ability along this line. Jimmy Dixon from the Freshman team is another possibility. A likely man that Andy Smith will probably take great pains to condition is Francis, who showed up extremely well on the freshman team as tackle but who also has possibilities as an end.

The preliminary games will afford the Bears a good chance to round into fit shape for the strenuous conference schedule. The first preliminary game will be with St. Mary's on September 29 and the preliminary season will wind up with the Olympic Club on October 13.

WOODMEN ARE TROUNCED.

Four innings of hectic baseball was enough for the Berkeley Modern Woodmen when the College Avenue Merchants scored sixteen runs with but three licks. The Merchants ran wild on the bases, and garnered twenty-five stolen bases during the duration of the short contest.

O'HAGEN AND YOUNG FISHER BOX AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

SEQUOYAH AND CLAREMONT GOLFERS MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN SAN FRANCISCO TOURNEY

LOCAL MAIN EVENTERS ARE CONTENDERS FOR MIDDLEWEIGHT CROWN

Ray Pelkey Strains Back and Is Out of Special Event; Crack Preliminarians Engaged to Furnish Entertainment For Local Fight Customers

By BOB SHAND.

Local fans will be given an opportunity of looking over two real contenders for the middleweight title when Jimmy O'Hagen and Young Fisher tangle at the Auditorium tonight. In the east where good middleweights are plentiful O'Hagen and Fisher are recognized as top-notchers and either of them would not be worse than even money with Johnny Wilson, the title holder. The boys are out here vacationing more than anything else and they will be back around Gotham when the Fall season opens and the purses grow fatter.

Fisher has not boxed here before, but his record is plenty good enough to convince the experts that he knows his stuff. Any fighter that can lick the champion must have the goods and Fisher was given the unanimius newspaper decision over Wilson a few weeks after Johnny fell heir to the title. Fisher defeated most of the other contendes for the crown.

O'Hagen Is Popular With the Local Fans.

O'Hagen is one of the most popular boxers to appear here in a long time and one of the few eastern boys to make good in the four-round game. Jimmy showed oodles of class in his bouts with Pelkey and Melcar and down south he decisively defeated Bert Colima and Gordon McKay. Fisher is said to be a better fighter than Colima, which is considerable recommendation. Both boys like to wade in and deliver the best they have, which means a battle from the opening gong. O'Hagen will have the edge on skill, but the Fisher boy is a rough and ready individual who never backs up, at least this is what Frank Tabor says, and Frank saw the Syracuse lad box several times in the east.

Ray Pelkey has developed a kink in his back and will be unable to meet Frank Farmer in the special event. Ray was going along nicely in his training until Tuesday morning, when he discovered something was out of place. Manager Bert McCloud called in a flock of chiropractors, osteopaths, chiropodists, manicurists, policemen, firemen, Boy Scouts, doctors and nurses and the consensus of opinion was that little Ray should foregoe the pleasure of meeting Mister Farmer in the ring tonight.

Good Preliminaries Back Up Main Event.

One little four-rounder's misfortune is another's gain, so Al Hoag will pick up a useful medal by entertaining Mister Farmer in place of Mister Pelkey.

Farmer boxed here a few weeks ago and although he didn't get the decision, it was generaly agreed that he gave Jack Reeves a man's sized licking.

Gene Cline vs. Eddie Mahoney.
Bud Simmons vs. Jimmy Dime.
Teddy Seidman vs. Sammy Compagno.
Battling Buck vs. Bobby Burns.
Johnny Buell vs. Jimmy Rizzo.

Old Tham Langford, who was recently knocked out by Clem Johnson, is a main-eventer in Los Angeles tonight. He boxes Rocco Stramaglia, the gent who butted Dempsey at Great Falls.

* * *

There will be but one boxing show in San Jose each week. The rival promoters got together the other night and signed a peace compact. They will show on alternate weeks. Two shows every seven days was too much for the fans.

* * *

Chick Roach and Hank Roberts will box the top bout at San Jose tomorrow night and the gallery fans will be asked to contribute $1.65 to the worthy cause.

* * *

Billy McCann will probably appear on next week's card here. The Cleveland boy made quite a record in the islands and would like to tackle any of the local lightweights.

* * *

Harry Wills May Not Fight Firpo at All

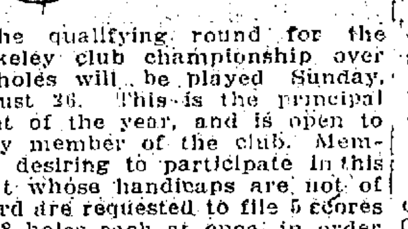
Paddy Mullins, Negro's Manager, Balks at Bueno Aires Go With "Wild Bull."

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Although Tex Rickard has signed Luis Firpo and Harry Wills to a contract to fight a heavyweight battle in Buenos Aires next April, Paddy Mullins, Wills' manager, balks at the match unless Firpo defeats Dempsey at the polo grounds on September 14.

"There wouldn't be the slightest point," said Mullins, "in fighting Firpo in the Argentine unless he held the world's heavyweight championship. Wills wants a fight with the champion, whoever the champion is, and not with an ex-contender. If Firpo knocks Dempsey out on September 14, Wills will be ready to sign up for a bout; not otherwise."

The negro fighter's manager declared he had received no word from Rickard concerning the proposed match, nor had he heard anything about it, except through the newspapers.



The qualifying round for the Berkeley club championship over 36 holes will be played Sunday, August 26. This is the principal event of the year, and is open to every member of the club. ## Firpo Once Was Bootblack and Bottle Washer

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 22.—Firpo was a bootblack before he became a boxer. He never was a drug clerk at all. He did odd jobs as a manual laborer and stevedore but never mixed drugs or chemicals.

Recent arrivals from Buenos Aires now at his training camp say that he once did wash bottles in a drug store but never was a pharmacist in any sense of the term.

"De Forrest is an excellent trainer," explains one camp follower, "but he has certain drawbacks to Firpo. The primary one is that he does not know Spanish, and Firpo notwithstanding the presence of interpreters, is irritated and bewildered by the speaking of a foreign language I have known Firpo for more than fifteen years. I know his weaknesses as well as his virtues in the boxing game."

Fresno Signs Two More Ball Players

FRESNO, Aug. 22.—Two players were signed and one released by Manager Cliff McCarl in an effort to strengthen the Fresno Valley League club. Forrest Cady, catcher, was turned loose and Oscar Stanage has been secured to fill his place. Dennis Wylie, veteran coast league fly chaser also accepted Fresno terms and will report here for the game with Dinuba Sunday, which has been transferred to Fresno from Dinuba. Stanage was with the Tigers earlier in the season.

Plan Soccer Boom In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Soccer players and fans of southern California were to meet tonight at the Los Angeles Athletic club with Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Soccer Football association. Cahill is touring the Pacific coast in an effort to popularize soccer.

One plan of Mr. Cahill to make the game of more general interest on the coast is to induce high schools to include it in their major sport schedules.

KNIGHTS FERRY, Aug. 22. — Scores of fishermen from up and down the valley have hocked the banks of the Stanislaus for several days, lured by tales of myriads of salmon trout biting viciously, but alas! While there are "myriads" of fish in the water and all hungry enough, it transpires they are not salmon trout, nor any kind of trout, but a large white fish so full of fine bones that it is almost impossible to eat them. They bite eagerly, but are not game fish in any sense of the word, being lethargic, though large. They range in length from a foot to 30 inches and furnish sport enough if one cares for this kind of fishing.

Rock Laying Starts Today At U.C. Field

ROCK laying on the playing field of California's eMmorial stadium will begin today. This statement by William H. Cagle, superintendent of the California stadium construction, definitely assures the completion of the bowl for the Stanford game, November 24.

More than 50% of the concrete superstructure has been completed in record time. About 150 yards of concrete are being poured a day and more than 200 workmen are laboring on the oval to assure its completion by November 24.

Approximately 800,000 feet of lumber have been used to make concrete forms, with a force of eighty-three carpenters engaged to lay them. Eighty thousand concrete steps will take the spectators to their seats.

Jack Dempsey Not Training Hard for Bout

Champion Will Take It Easy For Few Days, Says Manager.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 22 (International News Service).—Jack Dempsey's training efforts up to this moment never will cause his family any worry about the possibility of his suffering a nervous breakdown.

The champion, ever since his arrival here, has been taking things very, very easy. His sparring partners do not need any false whiskers to assist them in deceiving him when he begins throwing punches. For the very fact that Dempsey has not yet buckled down to real work, has caused him to burlesque sparring rther than train in strenuous fashion. There's a reason—perhaps. It is explained in this way by Jack Kearns:

"The champion's greatest fault lies in the fact that when he once tears into work he doesn't know when to slow down. He's been overtrained for nearly every one of his important fights. He won't be overtrained. I am making him go along slow and easy now and will make him stick to that routine for a little while longer. Then when I figure it is time for him to tear loose he will do the tearing and will continue to tear along right up to the moment he jumps into the ring with Firpo."

"And then what?" inquired the innocent bystander.

"Well, then," replied Kearns, "he wil ltear right into Luis and when he gets through they'll be tearing sheets apart so as to tie Luis together."

Meanwhile Dempsey boxes a bit each day, plays pinochle, sleeps, eats, takes long hikes and occasionally sprints along the roads.

Stars Survive In Big Doubles Test

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 22.—Among the survivors of the second day's play in the national tennis doubles championships are Johnston and Griffin of San Francisco. Anderson and Hawkes of Australia also came through.

R. Norris Wiliams and Watson M. Washburn eliminated Harvey Snodgrass and Wallace J. Bates, the California players. Alonso, Spain, and Wallace Johnson, New York, eliminated Vincent Richards and Dean Mathey.

Tilden and Brian Norton of South Africa were also winners. Tifey defeated Pierre Hirsch, Paris, and Lawrence B. Rice, Boston.

Anzacs Will Play Tennis In Japan

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 22.—The Australian Lawn Tennis Association has instructed J. O. Anderson to accept an invitation for the Australian Davis Cup team to visit Japan on its homeward journey from the United States.

Captain Anderson also was requested to invite the Japanese to play a series of return matches here.

Pittsburg took Concord into camp by the score of 13 to 6 on the latter's grounds. Babe Driscoll drove out a triple and three singles out of four trips to the plate for the winners.

Brentwood defeated Crockett by the score of 9 to 6.

Jim De Forrest Warns Champ To Watch Luis

Declares "Wild Bull" Is Dangerous and Will Worry Dempsey.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22. — Jimmy DeForrest, known as the "maker of champions," sang an old tune in a new tempo today by revising his original estimate of the chances of Luis Firpo, the Argentine man eater, against Jack Dempsey on September 14. His remarks, in effect, constitute a warning, the champion would do well not to dally over long with the thought that Firpo is a pushover, i. e., an elegant polished term meaning sap.

The statement is somewhat at variance with DeForrest's declaration at the conclusion of the Firpo-Willard conique that it would be suicidal to seed the senor out after Dempsey at this stage of the immature proceedings. However, many a man has put a clean collar on an old shirt.

WILL BE HARD FIGHT.

"Dempsey is up against a tougher fight than he realizes, if he fails to take the coming match seriously," quoth James. "Firpo is not to be trifled with. He is a dangerous fighting man. However, I will repeat what I have said before, that Firpo is not yet ready for the championship."

This qualification, seemingly, was not prompted by spleen. Until recent weeks, James was Firpo's trainer, but has been replaced by one Angel Horatio Lavelle, a sartorial riot just in from Buenos Aires. DeForrest seems to have taken the change in fortunes philosophically and with the best of grace. eH is still interested in Dempsey in spite of the fact that the champion dropped him overboard to trim ship after DeForrest had trained him for the Willard affair at Toledo.

De FORREST IS SURPRISED.

"There is no trouble of any kind between Firpo and me," said DeForrest. "The coming of Lavelle was really a surprise to me. When Firpo left on his barnstorming trip through the west he slapped me on the shoulder and declared in broken English that we would stick together to the end. He didn't send word to me that he was making a change. He just went ahead and made it."

Vallejo Boy Will Box Bud Ridley

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 22.—A young contender, Tod Morgan, of Vallejo, Cal., who used to attend high school in Seattle, will tackle Bud Ridley, of Seattle, Pacific featherweight champion, in six rounds here tonight. Each lad has a record marred with few defeats, and Ridley's victories include stopping Sailor Walters in the fourth round at Bremerton, Wash., Wednesday night and winning from Charlie Moy on a foul in Vancouver, B. C., Friday night.

Other bouts on the card are Jimmy Rivers, Tacoma lightweight, against Johnny Mack of Pittsburgh, and Russ Pierce, San Diego featherweight, against Roy Small, Tacoma.

San Francisco Boy Wins Junior Match

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 22.—The field of players in the national junior singles championships tonight was reduced to seven with three fourth round matches remaining to be played. In a fourth round match today Edward G. Chandler, San Francisco, defeated H. G. Orser, New York, 6-0, 6-2.

Willing to Pay Jack $250,000 To Fight Wills

Manager Paddy Mullins Is After Kearns to Bind Match With Dempsey.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Paddy Mullins, manager of Harry Wills, is keeping right after Jack Dempsey.

Simeon Flaherty, his financial man, is willing to post $50,000 to bind the match.

"If Kearns wants $250,000 for Dempsey's signature to a contract I will give it to him," declares Mullins. "Let Kearns name his own terms.

ANXIOUS FOR MATCH

"My one idea is to get Harry Wills in the ring with the champion. Just before Dempsey and his manager left for the Gibbons fight at Shelby I had a talk with Kearns and he assured me as soon as the fight was over he would come back and fix things up with me for a go with Wills. Well, that was the last I saw of him until last Monday, when I met him and we went up to Dan McKetrick's office and once more discussed the fight. For the second time within a few weeks Kearns told me not to worry, that Dempsey was willing to take Wills on and that things would be fixed up shortly. With this assurance from Kearns I went down to the Boxing Commission with Simon Flaherty to bind the match. Flaherty wants to promote the match and he doesn't care if he only gets five cents out of it for himself. He is willing to charge it all to charity, for he is my friend and also Wills', and he wants to see Harry get a square deal.

OPTION ON EBBETS FIELD.

"He has an option on Ebbets Field to stage the match there, and plans have also been drawn to enlarge the seating capacity. When we appeared before the Boxing Board we presented all these facts and also told them we were ready to post $50,000 or any other amount as a guaranty of good faith in the matter.

"When the commissioners heard our case they told us to get Kearns' signature on a contract and then there might be some action in the matter. Now, that's what puzzles me. One week ago I was told to get a promoter, and when I brought the promoter before them they told me to first sign up with Kearns. Why, I thought we signed the papers more than a year ago. Only a few weeks ago Commissioner Muldoon told me that we had signed for the bout once and that was enough. Now they tell me to go out and get a new set of signatures. It certainly is beyond me to figure what it's all about."

Millionaire to Train Firpo for Dempsey Fight

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Horatio Lavalle, a wealthy sportsman from Buenos Aires, is in Atlantic City to take charge of Luis Angel Firpo's training for his Dempsey fight at the Polo grounds on September 14.

"Firpo should win easily," says Lavalle. "I have studied moving pictures of Dempsey's fights and believe that he will be found wanting when he meets Firpo.

Lavalle is former amateur heavyweight champion of Argentina. He owns a $100,000 grain and cattle ranch on the Pampas, 160 miles from Buenos Aires. He is 28 years old and a college graduate.

Lavalle is an educated man and critics say that he will show himself to be too shrewd for Jack Kearns in the management of the fighters before the go.

Jack Dempsey May Box in a Charity Bout

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, Saratoga Lake, N. Y., Aug. 21.—Charles Schwartz, Foxhall D. Keene, and others of the racing elite from Saratoga Springs, saw Dempsey, world's champion, go through his paces today in training for his bout September 14 with Luis Angel Firpo.

Schwartz, Dempsey's opponent Saturday night in a four-round exhibition bout for charity, was third man in the ring when the champion went through three rounds against George Godfrey, giant negro. The crowd was amused when the champion handed Schwartz a few of the blows supposed to be intended for Godfrey.

Al Demaree Is in Good Standing Now

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Al Demaree, former New York National pitcher and manager of the Portland club of the Pacific Coast league, who was declared ineligible last year for playing semi-professional baseball in Chicago, has been reinstated, he announced here today. The action, he said, was taken by President J. H. Farrell of the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, and leaves him a free agent.

Tim O'Dowd Loses To Frank Garcia

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 22.—Frankie Garcia, Los Angeles featherweight, last night was awarded a referee's decision over Tim O'Dowd of Atlanta at the close of their ten-round scheduled fight. Garcia outpointed O'Dowd, according to the referee, in almost every round.

Local Golfers Take Matches In S. F. Event

Miss Barbara Lee Shows Great Work in Winning Across the Bay.

By W. D. McNICOLL.

Mrs. C. F. Ford entered the second round in the championship flight of the women's San Francisco City championship when she defeated her clubmate, Mrs. J. C. Cushing of the Claremont Club, 5-4. The winner was playing her usual dependable game and although Mrs. Cushing was hitting long tee shots, she failed to equal her more experienced opponent's accuracy and congratulations were extended at the 14th, where the ex-State champion was four up.

Miss Alice Knowles of Claremont was up against one of the best exponents of the game from across the bay in Mrs. Phil Wand, but put up a plucky fight to the short 16th, where the Claremont Club captain extended congratulations.

Miss Barbara Lee, the youthful Sequoyah representative, won her match yesterday by 4-3. Her opponent, Mrs. H. A. Irving, is a regular competitor in tournaments events in San Francisco, but found the school girl from Oakland equal to the occasion. Miss Lee meets Mrs. Frank Sheedy today. The latter created the big surprise yesterday by eliminating Mrs. Mead Hamilton, a regular first flight player.

Miss Martha Ransome, the Diablo representative, although defeated 4-2, played well against her more experienced opponent, Mrs. C. C. Hotchkiss, and gained valuable experience that will help her in future competitions.

Mrs. Brent Potter, the champion of the Lincoln Park Club seems destined to reach the final, her game yesterday was much better than in the qualifying round. Mrs. Emil Sutro, her opponent, was given few opportunities to score, and finally succumbed at the 14th five down.

Sea Is Too Rough For Charley Toth

"My Rheumatism is gone—"

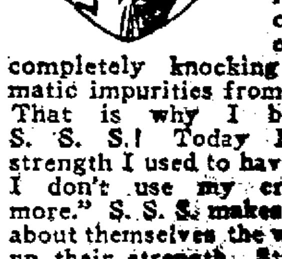
"THERE are thousands of you men and women, just like I once was—slaves to rheumatism, muscle pains, joint pains, and horrible stiffness. I had the wrong idea about rheumatism for years. I didn't realize that increasing blood-cells had the effect of completely knocking out rheumatic impurities from the system. That is why I began using S. S. S.! Today I have the strength I used to have years ago! I don't use my crutches any more." S. S. S. makes people talk about themselves the way it builds up their strength. Start S. S. S. today for that rheumatism. You'll feel the difference shortly.



S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

THE HARBOR DISPUTE.

Oakland's harbor is its chief asset.

Recognizing the fact that nothing contributes more to the city's growth and prosperity, the people, generally, are in favor of harbor improvement. They would see the actual waterfront facilities made larger and better with a view of meeting the needs of the present and the future.

It is unfortunate that there has arisen in the City Council a dispute regarding land purchase. Even with the Council and all interests a unit, it is always difficult to put forward and carry a bond issue, but when members of the Council are not agreed and cast reflections to be detrimental to the public interest. Unfortunately it is likely to cause a loss of confidence in the whole plan.

There is a hesitancy on the part of the public to endorse a plan to purchase industrial land unless it can be conclusively shown that the land is essential and absolutely necessary to the development of the harbor proper. With that demonstration would have to be another just as conclusive, that the price is not unreasonable.

The utmost care must be exercised in submitting a project, that it is one which will stand the closest scrutiny. The general public must have it demonstrated beyond doubt that the money will be utilized solely in furnishing facilities for the handling of shipping of all descriptions.

Generosity on the part of the people and the realization of the harbor needs, it is likely, would carry such a bond issue.

ANOTHER ECLIPSE.

In the old days when there was an eclipse of the sun men took to their huts and cowered in fear. The reappearing light brought with it new resolutions and it is probable that while the lesson of alarm was upon them the general behavior was improved. There could be no more terrible omen, no phenomenon more inexplicable than a sun which refused to shine.

Today men know when to expect an eclipse and have figured out when they have occurred in the past. The shadowing of the sun is tagged, photographed, and timed and discussion of it brings along another argument, that of a man named Einstein and his disputed theory. A group says that the last eclipse proved Einstein was right and another group says that it did nothing of the sort. The bending of light has been demonstrated. Whether Newton or Einstein has been vindicated is still a question.

There will be another eclipse on September 10. Then the telescopes, motion picture cameras and scientists will meet to record and calculate in the brief interval. Science has accomplished a number of important things because of these observations of a shadow on the sun, but perhaps the most important is the banishing of fear and superstition.

CANAL BUSINESS GROWS.

Business at the Panama Canal for the fiscal year which has closed presents an almost uninterrupted succession of record months. In the twelve months ending with June 1923, 3,967 vessels passed through the gateway as compared with 2,736 during the fiscal year of 1922. The increase is 45 per cent.

Here in figures is told a story which is much more eloquent than was predicted by the warmest friends of the canal. It was not so long ago when the cities on the Pacific were being told by trade and traffic experts what could be expected with the opening of the canal. No one ventured an opinion that each canal operation would see a large increase over the previous one and that a 45 per cent would be recorded in a single year. The Panama Canal is being enlarged and there is talk of another waterway.

The increase expressed in tonnage was 63 per cent. In tolls the gain was 56 per cent, and the cargo tonnage carried this year was 79 per cent higher than that of 1922. May and June of 1923 were the two highest months in the history of the canal.

There are many interesting facts to be found in the "Panama Canal Record" which is issued by the Governor of the Panama Canal. It is shown that vessels coming from the East Coast of the United States through the canal and to the Pacific, increased in tonnage from 250,806 in 1921, to 805,406 in 1923. The tonnage destined for the West Coast of the United States, which of course includes this port, increased in the same time from 143,217 to 696,567. Practically the same gain is shown in what the West Coast of the United States sent to the Atlantic for the gain here is from 116,521 to 638,527. Here is shown in good round tons of freight something of what the Panama Canal is meaning to the Pacific Coast.

More than anything else, the Atlantic Coast has sent manufactured goods to the Pacific. In return our largest shipment is mineral oils. Cold storage, which was still a comparatively small item in 1923 fiscal year was nevertheless three times as great as in 1922. It will be larger next year. Right now the oil shipments figure most prominently in the totals from this Coast with lumber coming second. A fruit and produce chapter is about to be written.

MANUFACTURERS' EXPOSITION.

Accomplishments of the Eastbay in industry, the variety and quantity of manufactured output, are better understood by the citizens in general than they were two or three years ago. In spite of the fact that those two or three years have brought more than two hundred new manufacturing plants to the community this wider realization has come.

Perhaps the growth of Oakland and the Eastbay into the leading industrial center on the Pacific Coast is responsible for a justifiable pride which, in turn, has caused men to look for the facts and master the details of city development. Certainly enterprises like the "Know Your Own City" movement and the Eastbay Manufacturers' Exposition have been of aid.

The Manufacturers' Exposition will be of service each year. To the thousands of newcomers to the Eastbay it will present the whole story of industrial greatness. To the older citizens it will reveal the latest chapter, the record of another twelve months, in relation to that which has gone before. When close to one hundred new industries come to Oakland in a single year one can see how important is this opportunity for an informal introduction to the public.

The new industry is no more important than the old one except in its indication of city growth. In the established plants of the Eastbay this year many additions have been made, programs have been enlarged, and new products perfected. Three years ago the first Eastbay Manufacturers' Exposition was held and more than 120,000 persons were shown what is being done in the factories of their community. Last year, the second exposition eclipsed the first and established itself as among the most important contributions to civic spirit. It furnished that knowledge of achievement upon which firm belief in the Eastbay is based; it astonished the thousands with the proof of our manufacturing greatness.

Next month, from September 22 to 30, the third annual Exposition will be held. It will reflect the industrial development by being much greater than the second, even as the second show was larger than the first. It is the object, of course, that the Exposition be complete. A single manufacturer who does not participate will defeat the ideal.

With the manufacturers of the community solidly and enthusiastically behind the project and with the date of the Exposition coincident with that of the Fiesta de Laguna, there is unusual opportunity this year for the Eastbay to impress its industrial advantages and achievements upon its own citizens, the state and the country.

CLIMBING.

A certain man who was a tramp sat in the shelter of a little cliff that shielded him from the chill of autumn winds and felt in his pockets for a few grains of tobacco wherewith to fill the bowl of his disreputable pipe. Two small stones near at hand supported tin cans whose outer surfaces were black with smoke from the fire beneath, and in one of the cans there was coffee and in the other a savory stew that perfumed all the air. With his pipe alight, the man leaned back against the wall of the cliff and smiled in complete contentment.

"Tobacco, food, an appetite and liberty," he murmured. "What more can mortal ask?"

One year later the man passed that way again but he was no longer a tramp. He had come up in the world and was a prospector. A patient burro carried his kit of tools and his supplies of food. The man made camp in the lee of the cliff and set about the business of preparing supper. There was food in abundance, and the air was sweet and warm.

"What a life?" said he. "I wish to Heaven I had a decently comfortable chair out here."

Another year passed and now the man stood before a nickeled basin in a Pullman car and studied his reflection in the mirror above. With countless thousands of dollars in the bank and other thousands daily adding to the total of his wealth, he was traveling in quest of entertainment. For the first time in his life, to employ his own phrase, he was riding the cushions. At present he was shaving, and in a little while he would make his way back to the dining car and consume a generous breakfast.

"It's a darned strange thing to me," said the man, as he lathered his chin for the second time, "that these infernal dressing rooms can't be made a little more convenient."—Baltimore Sun.

Food for Naught.

Endurance Dancer Dolly Varden
Has in hat a fruitful garden
As she dances garden grows
Under Cookie Charlie's nose.
Lima beans, potatoes sweet,
Help to stir the twinkling feet;
Serve to save the prancing pair
From passing into rarer air.
Charlie gazes in the garden,
Then remarks to Dolly Varden:
"Dollie Dearie, why the deuce
Don't you grow a Charlotte Russe?
Mealy Spuds, Plebeian Bean
Make a dancer far from lean.
Don't you know your Natty Knight
Has a dainty appetite?
In your garden-growing hat—
So your Charlie won't get fat—

No, Not the Dove!

Sir: Recent rumors to the effect that Miss Prudence Hecklebury has chosen the goldfish as her official party emblem has caused unrest in the American colony here.

Her selection of this mammal as emblematic of the principals of her party is entirely out of accord with her previous views and statements. Furthermore, I make no hesitation in stating that her selection is both unfavorable and undesirable to a host of her sincerest supporters.

Inevitably we approach the point where the logical question to ask one is how came Prudence to select the goldfish as her official party emblem. What does the goldfish signify? Alas, we are at a loss for words and our mind refuses to function! The majority of the fish involved in this controversy spend their days begging for crumbs in an ordinary fish bowl; still others in small lakes, surrounded by pleasure-loving humans. Why, then, did "Our Prudence" make this unwise selection? Isn't pleasure forbidden in the "Almost Perfect State"?—and we have always understood "Our Prudence" to be strictly in favor of such a state.

As critic I hope I have shown Prudence the error of her ways. As loyal supporter, may I now suggest an emblem suitable and in accord with the principles of Americanism? Surely the White Dove, significant of Peace, and with no vices, is a selection of which "Our Prudence" could well be proud of.

Another booster,

F. A. M.

Neuvitas, Cuba.

• • •

The Goldfish has never been officially selected. It was suggested by one of Miss Hecklebury's many admirers because it has no legs, we believe.

We have not consulted Miss Hecklebury with regard to The Dove as an emblem, but we do not think that she will approve of The Dove. Was not The Dove one of the emblems of Aphrodite?

A great deal of difficulty attends the task of selecting a suitable emblem for Miss Hecklebury. If we look to the vegetable species we find them cursed with the habit of fermentation, and Aunt Prudence is against fermentation. If we glance at the animals, we find them guilty of the crime of having allowed themselves to be created male and female.

If Miss Hecklebury is elected it will be a signal victory for Morality over Nature.

EXCERPTS from the NATIONAL PRESS

Medford Mail Tribune: "The next session of Congress, so the news says, will 'see important religious legislation enacted.' Government control of the soul, ought to result in some meddling that is meddling. What is really needed is a law prohibiting citizens' conscience stricken from a miserable life of petty orneryness, from sticking their noses in anybody's business but their own."

Detroit Free Press: "At tragic cost, we Americans have learned something about the immensity and weight of the burden we have gradually been piling on the shoulders of our chief executive. Our new knowledge should not only bring into the fruit bearing period, the over long discussion regarding ways in which the president can be given a measure of relief; it ought also to teach us a lesson that will make us slow to criticise the man in the White House when he does not seem to be measuring up to all our expectations, and when he shows the imperfections of judgment inseparable from human nature."

Seattle Times: "The spokesman for the International Association of Dancing Masters asserts that there will be a revival of the old-time waltz. Well, it does seem a long time ago that the expert waltzer used to balance a glass of water on his head while making progress about the ballroom floor."

Correspondence New York Herald: "In this great cosmopolitan city where perhaps a fifth of the people call pretzels and potatoes bretzels and bodadoes, where practically all of the people take a catch as catch can grab at the pronunciation of the Spanish diminutive for coffee shop and almost never get it correctly—caf-fay-tay-ree-ah— and where all the place names of the Southwest derived from the Spanish are invariably mispronounced, may I suggest, with New York to be thrillingly entertained soon during ten days with wild Western horse roping and cattle sports, that the Spanish word meaning a cattle round-up is pronounced ro-day-o, with the accent on the day, and not roady-o?"

New Bedford Mercury: "We have the greatest esteem for President Coolidge, but in giving credit here and there to the sources of his elevation, the friendship of Frank W. Stearns being especially exploited, let us not forget the part played by the late Commissioner Curtis of the Boston police department. It was Commissioner Curtis who framed the issue, that no union of the police force should be affiliated with the Federation of Labor and that no police officer who participated in the strike should ever be restored to the police force."

Department of Agriculture Bulletin: "The buffalo herds on the game preserves maintained by the United States Department of Agriculture have been increased this season by the birth of 118 calves. Of these ninety-two are on the Montana Bison Range, sixteen at Wind Cave Game Preserve, South Dakota; eight at Niobrara Reservation, Nebraska, and two at Sullys Hill Game Preserve, North Dakota."

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS

Everything today is a laboratory. Theorists are running about here and there making a study of conditions. When a young man kisses his first girl, there is an instrument at hand for recording his blood pressure. A suspect, innocent perhaps as a new born babe, is shot full of dope to see if he is telling the truth. The home is no longer the "poor man's castle," for the bell may ring at any hour of the day to admit an investigator to pry into family affairs. There is no moat about the modern castle wide enough or deep enough to keep officialdom out.—Watsonville Register.

We view with mixed felings the experience of one Fred W. Swahler of Santa Rosa. Swahler had just been married by a judge and had paid the usual fee. He then produced a bottle of wine and suggested that all drink to the health of the bride. Instead of drinking to her health, the judge fined the groom $20. Obviously, the judge was not carried away by the spirit of the event. If the groom had urged the judge to kiss the bride, no doubt the request would have been granted with avidity.—Modesto News.

A woman I know who was remodeling her rooms and enjoying that frenzy of having everything clean which every woman knows had a large collection of Indian baskets. In their dirty state they adorned the old dark walls of her halls. I wonder, if any one knows how dirty an Indian basket can be? This one sensed it one day and—oh, I know it was dreadful speaking from the standpoint of "art values"—but she took them one by one to the kitchen sink and scoured them with a brush and Pearline. They came out beautiful. Clean, they harmonize with the new, soft-colored lighter paper. Dirty, they looked awful on it.—Clare Davis in Stockton Record.

"Lovers' Lane," that section of Richmond highway between the municipal tunnel and the wharf will no longer be the scene of nightly "petting parties" if plans now being formulated are carried into effect. Chief of Police Wood plans to take drastic steps to prevent future parties as a result of protests received from many mothers that their daughters have been active principals in such affairs.—Martinez Gazette.

Genial Lou Cunningham up to the present time has lived a life at which no one could take offense, but whether this can be truthfully said from this time on is going to be questionable, in view of the fact Mr. Cunningham has just received a carload of garlic which he intends to plant on a 50 or 75 acre patch. Experiments show garlic will do well in this section.—Ukiah Dail[illegible] that [illegible] five o[illegible]

THE HERMIT

Embittered by some early grief or hurt
He turned his back upon the world and fled.
Far from the smiling roads he built his shed,
Leveled his needs to trousers and a shirt
Uttered no speech beyond a sentence curt,
And year by year alone he ate his bread.
Each June the birds sang sweetly overhead
Yet still enraged he groveled in the dirt.

Poor Hermit, frowning at the smiles of men
Did you forget that all must suffer woe?
Had you no faith to lean back upon then?
Scarce beats a heart that has not borne a blow
These brave and singing men who pass along
Have all known grief felt hurt and suffered wrong.

CAPPER'S SURVEY.

Senator Arthur Capper wields a tremendous influence among the western farmers, and his periodical, Capper's Weekly, has a circulation of close to 600,000. In his travels through the agricultural States, Mr. Capper finds little sympathy with the Minnesota plan of having the government buy and market the wheat crop. Neither has detected any demand for an extra session of Congress to consider more relief legislation for the farmers. The Western Republicans are not disturbed over conditions, and have little interest in the third party idea. Senator Capper says they are waiting for President Coolidge to develop his policies, which they hope will be friendly to them. Of course, their hope is going to be realized. No class of our citizens can prosper unless all classes prosper, and the friendliest policy that the President can adopt foward any class, including the farmers, is that which will contribute most to the welfare of all.

A SHAFT TO HARDING.

Kansas farmers are planning the erection of a granite shaft on the spot where the late President Harding shocked wheat while on his western tour. It will be a memorial to Mr. Harding as a dirt farmer. One of the outstanding features of the Harding administration was the legislative program designed to assist the agricultural interests. It has been of marked success in accomplishing its object. All except the wheat farmers report a most successful season. The large wheat acrenge, combined with the falling off of the European demand for that grain, have brought about a reduction in price that no amount of legislation could have avoided.

PERSONAL HEALTH SERVICE

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author.

RELIEF OF NEURITIS.

It stands to reason that there is no particular remedy or treatment which can give benefit indiscriminately applied in all cases of neuritis. The treatment must be adapted to the individual requirements, for the causes and manifestations of neuritis are seldom alike in any group of cases—real nerve inflammation, that is, and not the vague aches or pains which some folk ascribe to "neuritis." Sound treatment of neuritis therefore calls for the knowledge and skill of the physician. Persons afflicted with what is or what they imagine to be neuritis often prolong the disability and postpone recovery by trying this and that treatment which purports to be good for neuritis. The usual duration of an attack of neuritis is several months; even in the slightest cases which may be reasonably assumed to be nerve inflammation the duration is several weeks. It is erroneous to refer to fleeting aches or pains which last only a few hours or a few days as "neuritis."

In severe neuritis the first essential is rest. If the inflammation is limited to one nerve, say the sciatic nerve or the musculo spinal, the affected limb is placed in a suitable dressing, splints, sling or other support which will retain the limb in a comfortable flexed position without any voluntary muscle action.

Warmth or heat applied by various means will generally afford much relief to the pain of neuritis. In sciatica, prolonged hot sitz baths, the water containing a handful or two of Epsom salts or of plain salt, give much comfort. Heat applied by various kinds of electrical apparatus is perhaps not so good as moist heat, though it is handier to use; sometimes the machinery itself impresses the patient. The application of electricity is quite another matter and may be of great value in certain cases of neuritis. Of course electricity should be applied only in such form or at such times as the physician deems advisable. Electricity can do harm when applied without knowledge of the pathology of neuritis.

In the later stage of neuritis, after the acute inflammation has subsided and the pain has ceased or become less severe, massage of the region affected is a useful adjunct of treatment. Among the nerve functions which are impaired when a nerve is inflamed is the regulation of circulation in the muscles and the skin of the region affected. Massage aids in maintaining better circulation. It would be a grave mistake and perhaps cause serious harm to begin massage in the earlier stages of neuritis—a mistake which some misinformed victims make to their sorrow.

Still later in the course of neuritis a carefully adjusted system of exercises for the affected group of muscles aids in restoration. When to begin exercises and what exercises to employ is even more important for the physician to decide than is the question of using electricity or massage.

FIGHTING A BIG FISH.

Berne H. Hopkins of Denver, fishing from his cruiser, Kickapoo last Sunday, brought to gaff the largest marlin swordfish of the season, and is the first Tuna Club member to bring one of these fish to gaff this season. It weighed 149 pounds. The marlin put up an interesting scrap, and leaped out of the water more than twenty times. Mr. Lawton, who was a guest of Mr. Hopkins at the time the fish was fighting, expressed great admiration for the skill and dexterity shown by Mr. Hopkins. Being the first Tuna Club member to land a marlin, Mr. Hopkins will have his name engraved on the gold bar of the McMillan medal for landing a swordfish.—Catalina Islander.

DON'S DRIVE IS SWELLING MEMBERSHIP

Four Thousand On the Rolls Expected by Inlensive Campaign of Peralta Hustlers; Plans For Fiesta

When the street cars unloaded their first consignment of strap-hangers this morning the Dons of Peralta were ready to segregate the business men who had not yet joined the organization and take them over to the membership campaign headquarters to be fitted to a sombrero. In other words, the one-day aggressive membership drive of the Dons was just that.

New members were signed up before they reached their offices and stores this morning. Other new members were convinced of the virtues of the order over their counters and at their operating chairs. More new members were marched into the Obapesla ring to the accompaniment of luncheon crockery. And still additional new members were subscribed over the telephone, on the curbstone, and on the links during the afternoon.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE.

The Dons had set their sights at 1000 new members and they went out in the morning to bag the limit. The morning was not far gone before it was evident that the limit was being cut away in good-sized chunks.

When the smoke of the day's firing has cleared away and a count is made the Dons expect that they will be well over the 4000 membership which they consider necessary for the successful presentation of La Fiesta de la Laguna.

For those who have not yet assimilated the idea of the fiesta, the Dons explain that the event is planned as Oakland's bid for national recognition. La Fiesta is to be a week of carnival with such a program of spectacular parades, pageants and festivities that it is expected to bring 200,000 people to the Eastbay region during the fiesta week of September 24 to 29, and carry the names of the Eastbay cities to all parts of the nation through the incidental advertising.

VARIED FIESTA PROMISED.

Don Max Horwinski, president of the festival organization, promises that the celebration is to be the biggest thing of its kind the Eastbay region ever has known. Opening with a concert of a community chorus of a thousand voices, the fiesta will continue through an extensive program of water procession on Lake Merritt, a grand ball, an athletic meet, fireworks, an industrial exhibition and closing with a large dramatic production in the Greek theater.

The organization of the Dons is to be a permanent affair, and La Fiesta de la Laguna is to be an annual event. Throughout the year, between the festival seasons, the Dons expect to stage a number of social functions, entertainments and jinks for the exclusive benefit of the members of the organization. To date the order has staged several rallies and evenings of fun-making in the municipal auditorium for the benefit of the new members undergoing initiation. Two more of these jinks will be held before the big celebration.

Included in the festival organization are the cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Piedmont, Emeryville, San Leandro and Albany.

Judge Dunn Tells of Making Edison Round Table Knight

"How he personally knighted Thomas A. Edison at West Orange, New Jersey, on July 26, was told by Judge Jesse J. Dunn, international president of the Loyal Knights of the Round Table, at the luncheon of the Oakland Round Table at Hotel Oakland today. Edison is the second honorary knight for life of the Loyal Knights of the Round Table. The first honorary known of the Round Table was Luther Burbank, who was knighted at Hotel Oakland January 31.

"Thomas A. Edison and Luther Burbank," declared Judge Dunn, "have truly exemplified in their lives the Round Table ideal of constructive and unselfish service to humanity. Every home in the land, every farm and garden, every mansion, cottage and tenement, has more food, flowers, clothing, light, power and music—more substance, beauty and joy, because Thomas Edison and Luther Burbank have lived.

"The entire world owes them homage. The bold experiments and achievements of these two men have far surpassed the most adventurous deeds of the valiant and daring knights of old.

"There is nothing that annoys Thomas A. Edison more than to be called a wizard or a genius. He says that 'genius' is one per cent inspiration and ninty-nine per cent perspiration."

Adventurous Texas Girl Finds Friend, Home Here

Dreams came true today for Mrs. Anna Henderson, the 22-year-old girl who, disguised as a boy, beat her way from Texas in a box car that she might see a mighty ship come through the Golden Gate. In Oakland she has found a home and a friend. These gifts came about through her arrest on Saturday night for a violation of the "sleeping out" ordinance and the publication of her naive story in the Oakland TRIBUNE Monday.

Mrs. William H. Leazy, 1523 Twenty-ninth avenue, a southern woman and the wife of a marine man, this morning appeared in court with Miss Ella Flynn, adult woman probation officer, to whom Mrs. Henderson's case was referred, and requested the court to permit her to take the young woman into her home.

"I'm going to settle down now," was the bashful comment which Mrs. Henderson made to the friendly offer. She went happily off with her new friend, still garbed in her boy's outfit of khaki pants, soft blue shirt, leather puttees and sport cap. Already she has forgotten that she wanted to go to Fresno to work in vineyards.

Mrs. Leazy is a Mississippi woman with kindly memories of Texas. Her people have been prominent in the history of the southern state as judges and statesmen. Her husband's work has taken her as companion to many interesting parts of the world. She has experienced much that Mrs. Henderson started out in search of.

"That girl is going to have her chance," Mrs. Leazy pledges.

Pretty clothes, discarding the masculine garments; a comfortable home in the midst of a gay flower garden; daily automobile excursions into the nearby county—these are the immediate comforts which await the girl who on Saturday night sought a place to sleep in a box car at Third and Jackson streets and who needed food and did not know where it was to come from. As the memories of three days in the city prison, where she was kept because no one quite knew what to do with her, fade plans for the young woman's future will be made by her volunteer hostess.

Mrs. Henderson began her journey from Texas on foot and in box cars four months ago, according to her story. Once she was thrown off a freight for stealing a ride and many nights she went to sleep hungry. Her mother died when she was a child, and she confesses to know little of her father or sister. Married at fifteen, the death of her husband and babe left her practically alone in the world. Ambition to see the world as it was compassed in the Golden Gate and the big ships passing through lured her to California, where her troubles culminated and brought her a friend.

200,000 TONS OF GRAPES RUINED BY MILDEW, IS CLAIM

Worst Damage in Fresno and Lodi Districts, According to Exchange Head.

Approximately 200,000 tons of California's estimated crop of 800,000 tons of grapes of all varieties have been destroyed by mildew, sunburn and windburn, it was announced today by E. M. Sheehan, president of the California Grape-Growers Exchange. The worst damage is in the Fresno and Lodi districts, with a "spotted" condition in a number of other localities, he said.

The wine grape crop is estimated at 400,000 tons, and the other varieties at a like amount. The wine grape loss alone is 100,000 tons, Sheehan said.

The members of the Exchange have been asked not to offer any of the damaged grapes for sale, although they might be used for some purposes, Sheehan said.

Florida's 1923-24 citrus crop will be a heavy one, according to reports of the Florida Citrus Exchange upon citrus conditions in that state for June.

Heavy June rains are said to have put Florida groves in good condition, and June bloom is reported in many districts. A considerable new acreage is expected to come into bearing next year, helping to increase the season's crop.

However, there is no reason to fear overproduction, since the Exchange has been anticipating increased production and is prepared to care for all marketing emergencies, it is said. At the present time this organization has a sales force which covers every important market center in the United States and Canada, and the Exchange will continue its advertising effort for increased consumption next season.

Bricklayers Earn $20 A Day in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 22.—Bricklayers and stone masons are preparing to insist on an increase from $1.50 to $1.75 an hour on November 1. This would bring bricklayers' wages on a level with those of the plasterers. Bonuses which enable some bricklayers to earn $20 a day are general and it is expected that the bonus system would be continued under the increased scale. There is a shortage of bricklayers, many having recently left here for Illinois.

EASTERN MARKETS

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Higher quotations at Liverpool gave strength to the wheat market on this side of the Atlantic during the early dealings. Offerings increased, however, after the start, and the early advance was checked. Predicted frost for parts of Canada failed to materialize and fair and warmer weather is expected in the domestic wheat regions. There was some scattered commission house business on both sides of the market, but trade was light and prices soon became steady. Opening prices, which ranged from unchanged figures too ⅝c higher, with December $1.04⅝ to $1.04¾ and May $1.10⅛ to $1.10¼, were followed by a little further rise and then a decline to a trifle below yesterday's finish.

Revising sales gave the September corn delivery a weak start, opening ⅛ to ½c lower, with demand light, while December and May were unchanged to ⅜c up, with December 65⅝ to 65¾c.

Oats started ¼ to ½c higher, with December 39⅞c, and held close to the opening figures.

Santa Fe May Build Electric Line to L. A.

President Storey Says Surveys Made and Cost Under Consideration.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Decision on the proposed extension of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway lines from Bakersfield to Los Angeles, and the practicability of supplying such an extension with electrical energy, will be withheld for several months, until reports are completely digested, it was stated here by W. B. Storey, president of the company.

"The San Joaquin Valley extension remains in a neculous state," said Storey. "I have merely authorized surveys to be made determining the costs of the available routes, and until the reports have been thoroughly studied no decision can be made. It may be a matter of months.

"If the line is finally authorized, electrification may be considered but this possibility is dependent entirely on the cost of operation, and whether the original expense will justify the abandonment of steam power."

Revelations of a Wife

WHAT CLAIRE THOUGHTLESSLY AND UNINTENTIONALLY DISCOLSED.

Our taxi turned from Fifth avenue into the rabbit warren of streets which is in Greenwich Village. And after a series of turns and twistings through narrow streets and around corners which left me without the slightest vestige of direction, it abruptly stopped before a small apartment house. It was of the type which, a number of years ago, replaced many of the old houses of the village, and are now in turn being shoved out of the way by the new and fantastic architecture which holds sway there.

"Here we are," Dickey spoke for the first time since his sulky outburst at me. "Just tote those bags up to the fourth floor, will you please?"

The chauffeur gathered up the bags, and, when Dicky had helped us out, we walked into the tiny, scrupulously-clean tiled vestibule, and waited while Dicky unlocked the vestibule door in feminine fashion both Claire and I took in the names over the letter-boxes as Dicky struggled with the unfamiliar key.

Two bore a single name, evidently that of the conventional head of the household. Of the others, most were inscribed with three or four names apiece, indicating that a group of women, or a group of men shared an apartment. The one in which I was most interested showed the names of Robert Bliss, Elizabeth Bliss, and there was one other which bore the legend George Brill, Margaret Gates, and at which Claire Foster turned an excited face to me.

"What do you know about that?" she whispered. "We have distinguished neighbors."

A SUPPRESSED RETORT.

I recognized the names as those of two of the most radical members of our new literati. Married, as they themselves explained, only out of deference to the ridiculous prejudices of old and ailing parents, as otherwise they would have flung the outworn and useless old rite to the winds, the possessors of a small daughter whom they were rearing according to the ultra-modern ideas, they had occupied much space—for too much, I thought privately—in the magazines and newspapers. But they were undoubtedly good copy. I had supposed Claire Foster to be far too worldly wise to be at all impressed by their names, but she evidently was still an enthusiastic curious and credulous child beneath her armor.

A caustic retort as to the desirability of her adjective trembled on my lips, but I suppressed it.

"Yes," I answered, as we waited for Dicky and the chauffeur with the luggage to lead the way up the unfamiliar staircase, "they would probably die of disgrace should ever the wife be addressed by her husband's name instead of her own."

"Don't you believe in a wife having a separate identity?" she asked wideeyed.

THE CHAUFFEUR IS INTERESTED.

"Then what's wrong with the name plate?"

We rounded the first landing as she put the query. I waited until we had reached the second before replying. I did not care to reveal to her my own private opinion that the people we had been discussing were shrewd press agents of themselves, who managed to keep pretty constantly in the limelight with their frekish views and actions, and I needed a few seconds to keep that conviction out of my answer.

"Not a thing," I said lightly. "It's all a matter of personal taste, don't you think? For my own part, I prefer the name card over the apartment to which we are going. Robert Bliss, Elizabeth Bliss. That gives the wife a separate identity, and yet has dignity. But, don't mistake me. I neither approve nor disapprove of the other method."

"Well!" she giggled nervously, as we mounted the last flight of steps. "It isn't a question which we'll settle here. There are none of us anxious to have our names over the door downstairs."

I knew that she supposed she was speaking in a voice inaudible to anyone but me. Her fresh, young voice, however, has far more carrying power than she dreams, and the words sounded clearly in the deserted hall. I satisfied my self with a quick glance around that the hall was deserted, then as my eyes came back to the open door of the apartment in front of us I saw the chauffeur waiting for Dicky to count out his fare, cast swift, furtive looks at both Claire and me. And when Dicky had paid and dismissed him, he managed cleverly to give all three of us another look as with apparent assiduousness he inquired if there was anything more he could do for us.

"BLACK GOLD"

A Mystery Detective Story of Alameda County

By GEO. C. HENDERSON

CHAPTER 11.

Love and Tortillas.

SYNOPSIS.

Napoleon Knott becomes involved in a treasure hunt for lost go'd when Captain Soto Mayor and Felipe Ramon both are attacked and their feet burned to torture them into revealing the secret. Soto Mayor dies and old Felipe crazily rejoices because the secret is now safe. "They'll never make me tell," he declares.

Knott, by a ruse, gets to see Felipe's feet, finds red marks on them, tells Old Felipe Soto Mayor has sent him and induces the recluse to go with him to the Nuevo Mundo. When Old Felipe finds Captain Soto Mayor dead he laughs wildly and declares that his "secret is safe."

Knott tells Inspector Scott, who arrives on the scene, something of what he has discovered. They decide the same thug did up Soto Mayor and attacked Felipe. Two police officers searching the ship unearth shovels, picks, retorts, other treasure hunting tools. They decide the Captain was hunting a gold mine. One of the crew tells that before death Captain Soto Mayor kept motioning toward a statuette until his daughter took it in her hands, and kept saying "oro negro," meaning "black gold." Inspector Scott threatens to arrest Racquel and the crew.

Night comes, revealing Knott, Scott and the officers still on the Nuevo Mundo, awaiting doctor's permission to see Racquel, who is greatly perturbed. Stone conspires with Boogerty to prevent Knott from falling in love with Racquel. The "armored cruiser" Invincible, manned by youngsters from the Dump, playing at naval warfare, is chased away by Inspector Scott as it hovers around the Nuevo Mundo.

Answering the scream, the Inspector, Napoleon Knott and the others enter the girl's stateroom to find Racquel, clothes torn, cowering back in terror, while Boogerty sits astride Old Felipe, holding his hands to the floor. Knott consoles Racquel, who tells how the old recluse had entered her room to attack her when the negro interfered. In order to distract Knott's attention from Racquel, Boogerty blows on the police whistle, and goes into contortions, as per his agreement with Stone. He says he is "breakin de spell of Venus." Knott begs Racquel to let him be her big daddy. On the floor he finds the broken statuette, with a sheet of onion skin paper protruding from the severed neck. Evidently Old Felipe was after this. It might explain why the Captain was so anxious his daughter should take the statuette. Knott picks it up. Racquel demands its return. Knott argues that it is evidence. They are about to agree when Boogerty again interrupts with his whistle blowing and contortions. Racquel grabs the document. Knott chases the negro out and, returning, finds she has locked the door against him.

Stone reveals that Knott is very susceptible to feminine lure; that he has lost other cases, because of this susceptibility, and charges that already the fat detective is crazy about Racquel. Finding it impossible to quiz the girl, Inspector Scott leaves Knott and an officer on guard and goes ashore with Stone, Old Felipe and the negro. While Knott is on guard, alone, a form sneaks aboard. It is Red Dan, powerful crook boss, Knott's most deadly enemy. He knocks on Racquel's door and presents her with letter of introduction, but Knott by clever strategy prevents him talking with Racquel and ushers him off the ship. Red Dan gives Knott until 10 o'clock to leave the city under pain of death.

(Copyright, 1923, All Rights Reserved).

"That's a bad bird to get in wrong with," declared Truesdale, uneasily as Knott joined him. "I heard him hand you your traveling orders."

Knott shrugged his shoulders as he dropped into a deck chair. There was nothing about his expression to indicate that he feared Red Dan or his gunmen or anything else in the world for that matter. None of the color had left his apple-red cheeks nor was the twinkle in his eye dimmed. His serenity could not have been more complete if he were a thousand miles from all trouble at a summer resort, with nothing to think of except personal enjoyment.

This attitude puzzled the officer.

"Red Dan is a false alarm," declared Napoleon Knott, nonchalantly, as if dismissing an unimportant subject. "You hit the hay, Truesdale. I've got some things I want to think over. I'll stand watch."

Truesdale studied the plump countenance of the detective several seconds, trying to search out the real feelings of its owners. Then without further parley he moved away.

Dawn found Napoleon Knott standing by the rail, watching the door of Racquel Soto Mayor. Daylight, cold and dispiriting, tinged the world with a yellow hue. Early morning horse vehicles, garbage wagons and vegetable carts rumbled across the bridge. These were followed by street cars, at first nearly empty, later loaded with sleepy eyed men gloomily going to another day's toil.

Before the automobiles of business men began the steady daylong procession, the crew was astir on the Nuevo Mundo and the odor of food came from the galley. Loud yawnings and groans told him of the approach of Truesdale, who came on deck, stretching his great body.

"Couldn't sleep," he growled. "Kept dreaming of a crazy man fighting with an army of negroes. I'm going ashore and get some eats."

He stood in the bow, patting his chest and inhaling stentoriously.

Charley Martin, seeing Truesdale motioning to him, rowed out to the launch and came aboard looking rather sheepinsh.

"One of Red Dan's men stuck me up," he explained, hastily, before Knott could question him. "I couldn't give any signals. Then when I saw you chasing Dan off the ship, I knew everything was O. K. so I didn't turn in any alarm. Come on Truesdale, I'll take you ashore."

Knott descended to the little dining room where he found a small table spread for two. Before he could ask about the other breakfaster, Racquel appeared in the doorway, clad in a crimson dressing robe, her hair neatly combed, looking as fresh and unworried as if she had just come from a hot shower bath.

"Good morning, Meester Knott," she saluted, gravely, taking her seat with eyes downcast." You do not have too moch sleep eh?"

"Not too much," replied Knott, smiling at her manner of speaking. "Did you rest well?"

She passed him the hot tortillas, thin, flat Mexican pancakes made of corn flour, and poured a large cup of black coffee, which proved to have an atrocious flavor. The swarty waiter, a cigarette dangling from his lip, brought in a heavy plate containing two orders of fried eggs, covered with a red sauce.

Racquel did not reply to his question but instead devoted her attention to the repast. For his part Knott could not eat for watching her. Miss Soto Mayor undoubtedly plump. Perhaps some day she would be fat. But just now she was a very wholesome looking creature, with full naturally pink cheeks, that dimpled when she smiled, a generous mouth, dark eyes of extraordinary depth and expression, and black and glossy hair of such quantity that she had difficulty in keeping it under control.

She raised her eyes suddenly and found him staring at her. Then she dropped her long lashes and pretended not to see the telltale crimson that colored the fat man's face and reddened his neck.

"You are going to tell?" she queried.

Knott regarded her thoughtfully. "If it will help find that murderer, I must tell," he said. "You see I have a duty to perform. The police trust me because I shoot square with them. I can't betray them, even in a single detail. I must know what is in that document."

"But I do not want you do that?" she objected petulantly. "It belongs to me. No one must see it. She smiled winningly. "You will not tell, eh?"

Knott's first impulse was to succumb, to promise, to yield to this girl who had won his heart so easily. However he was not a man to be goverened by first impulses and so he shook his head.

"I will show you the paper," she said, suddenly, before he could reply. "I can make nothing of it. It is impossible to read. I will show it to you after the police go away. It is hid very good. No one can find."

Napoleon Knott beamed.

"Now you're talkin'," he approved. "Leave it to Papa Knott. He'll pull you through."

Derisive laughter interrupted them. Both looked up to see Inspector Scott and John Stone standing in the doorway.

"Three cheers for Papa Knott," proposed the Inspector, grinning. "Papa has'nt been wasting any time. Who ever said that Tootles was a slow old bird?"

Racquel Soto Mayor swept to her feet and regarded them so haughtily that both lost their merriment immediately.

"I beg your pardon for the interruption," apologized Professor Stone, as both men retreated.

The rapport was broken. Knott and the girl could not continue their conversation. Racquel went to her room and the detective joined his friends.

"Truesdale was saying Red Dan has given you yours," said Scott. "I'd advise you to take a little run to Los. When Dan says thumbs down, it's curtains. No one can beat that gang of killers. You might escape a dozen times but they'd get you in the end and if someone hanged for it there'd be a dozen others to take his place. We can give you a police guard for a while but that won't save you. Your servant's waiting at the pier with your car."

Knott straightened his tie and shined his shoes by rubbing them on the back of his trousers.

"Who asked for a detail of harness bulls?" he retorted. "I'll look after myself, Scott. Don't fret over me. What does headquarters report?"

"Not a clue on this affair," replied the inspector. "I'm going to question the girl and the crew all over again. If something don't come of it, I'll just let it ride and see if the crook artist will uncover. That old crazy man of yours has gone plumb cuckoo in the can and they've removed him to the Emergency Hospital."

Knott limped toward the gangway.

"I've got a rendezvous with a murderer at 10 o'clock," he said. "I'll see you later. You look like you'd dreamed of crazy men yourself last night, Scott."

"I worked," retorted the Inspector. "A taxicab driver disappeared. We found his blood stained machine on the Stockton road, beyond Livermore. It's another mystery."

"Who was the driver?" asked Stone.

"Fellow named Tom Cannon," was the answer. "Quite a character around here. Known as the son of 'Bloody' Cannon, the notorious Indian fighter of the early days. They claim that 'Bloody' Cannon used to catch the Digger Indians and sell them as slaves, or something [illegible]."

He stopped speaking abruptly as he noticed the startled expression on Stone's face. Napoleon Knott was frowning at his assistant.

"What the h-l's the matter with you?" Scott broke in. "Do you know about this Cannon affair?"

Professor Stone looked at Knott and then lowered his head. He had made another blunder. As a criminologist, he was not panning out very well.

"Oh you might as well shoot it," said Tootles. "We were following a private tip, Scott, "continued the fat man. "Just on a wild chance, I detailed Stone to locate a queer acting man, carrying a box, who tackled a taxi driver downtown for a ride. And that taxi driver was Tom Cannon."

"So the Cannon crook is another oro negro, foot burning affair," he exclaimed. "I thought it looked mighty queer. There's not a clue. We can't find the body and there's no evidence in the ditched taxi."

"What do you know about it, Knott? How did you ever connect up a dark man carrying a box, with this treasure hunting outfit from Mexico?"

"I'll tell you about that," he said, "after I've beaten Red Dan. He's going to kill me at 10 o'clock. But I'll give you one tip. Find the party who kidnaped Tom Cannon and I'll show you the murderer of Soto Mayor."

"She Was a Wholesome Creature With Full Pink Cheeks That Dimpled When She Smiled." —Posed by Aida Milan y Alva, Community Players.

"You have discover who keel my father?" she asked, speaking in a low tone, her expressive hands flashing out in a gesture which was both natural and dramatic.

Knott cleared his throat.

"No, but I will find him," he assured her. "Of course you know why they attacked your father."

She flashed him an enigmatic glance.

"Perhaps I do," she assented. "And perhaps I do not."

Tootles was a bit puzzled. He had expected more frankness from her. There was character in her face, in the firm lips, in her steady eyes, in the mobile features and the proudly carried head. This should spell honesty and sincerity, according to Knott's method of character diagnosis. But in this girl he found a strange evasiveness that troubled him and made him uncertain of his own judgment.

She looked at him soberly and her dark eyes searched his blue ones. Then she allowed a grave smile to illuminate his face.

"You see I do not know what to say," she explained. "They have keel my father. Everywhere are strangers. Who keel him, I do not know? Who are my friends, I do not know? You have the honest look. I have heard my father speak about you. Maybe you will be my friend."

A warm glow suffused Napoleon Knott. He reached across the table and touched her hand.

"Sure I'm your friend," he said, heartily. "I'll find who croaked your dad. And I'll get that black gold for you. Just leave it to me. I will tell you something. Your father called on me about this matter at my offices and engaged me in this case. That is why I consider myself privileged to step into this affair."

"No!"

"Yes, that is true," persisted Knott. He asked me to get information on this person Carillo."

She studied him for a time and then nodded her head as if satisfied as to the accuracy of this statement.

"But what for you send away the Senor Giroux?" she demanded, wrinkling up her forehead and accompanying her words by another indescribably appropriate gesture. "He have a letter of intrdauction from one friend in Mexico. I do not like you to be discourtesy to my friends. He was such a beautiful mans."

"He was a beautiful mans, all right," snorted Napoleon Knott. "That fellow was Red Dan Giroux, gambler, saloon man, dance hall proprietor and boss of one of the most dangerous bands of crooks in the country."

"Oh," exclaimed Racquel, and by her intonation and the shrug of her shoulders she expressed a mixture of disbelief, surprise, disappointment and accentuated interest.

"I did not tell the bulls about the paper you have," said the detective, changing the subject. "I wanted to talk with you first."

"The bulls!" she queried. "What the toros have to do?"

The STORY of JACKIE COOGAN As Told By His Mother

To ZOE BECKLEY

Jackie and Pricilla See Their "Rushes."

Jackie rarely sees his own pictures in regular movie theaters. We do not like him to think any more about his screen work than is absolutely necessary, and he doesn't seem to care about it anyway. Once in a while, however, he sees the "rushes" and acts as his own critic.

When a number of scenes in a film play have been taken, the film containing these scenes is hurriedly developed, printed and rushed to the projection room. Every studio has its own projection room—the larger the studio, the more they have, sometimes upward of a dozen. They are simply dark rooms with a screen at one end and a number of chairs, so that the producers, directors and the players themselves may get an idea of the various scenes they have just taken part in.

"Daddy-dear," asked Jackie one day, "can I take Pricilla to see some of the 'rushes?' It's the first play Pricil' has ever acted in, and she wants to see herself. I'd like to see her, too, Daddy, I always thought Pricil' had the makings of an actress."

Permission was granted and the two small creatures trotted off to the projection room. Pricilla sat demurely in a chair, Jackie on the floor hugging his knees.

The lights were switched off and the scenes that had been shot a day or two before, were flashed upon the screen, before the little audience of ten or twelve. Now and then through the pitchy blackness a voice could be heard, criticizing:

"Don't think the action's fast enough there, Bill; better cut it or take the scene over and speed things up!"

"Right-oh."

"Good night! Who put that title on? It's rotten!"

More silence, with only the whirring of the picture machine in the cubby-hole at the back of the room, and the scratching of somebody taking rapid notes with pad and pencil.

"Oh, boy, Pricilla," suddenly pipes Jackie out of the black corner where he sits, "oyu did that dance fine! You aren't so bad, Pricil' at that!"

"I think I'm just lovely!" Pricilla's tiny treble trills out of the dark. "I'm always going to be a actress, aren't I, Daddy Coogan?"

"Ugh-hugh," comes absentmindedly from some unseen quarter, presumably Papa Coogan's chair, where he is intently watching for faults on the flickering silver sheet before him.

Complete silence again, each onlooker intent upon his or her own business with the picture—how to cut it, how to title it, where to make re-takes, how much it should be shortened. They have forgotten the children. But suddenly up pipes Jackie again:

"Now, everybody watch! This is the part I like best! It's where I throw the bottles at the robbers——"

The youngster keeps quiet for a moment, but the bottle fracas proves too much for his self-control.

"Oh, BOY—that's where I soaked him!" he bursts out. "Gee—I'm good there, Daddy-dear—"

"HUSH!" from Daddy.

A pause, and then:

"Oh, Daddy, I've just got to holler for a minute! Remember I'm a Prince in this picture, all dressed up and everything and it's terrible! You don't know how good it feels to get into those old duds for a minute and slam those robbers with bottles."

A Mystery a Day

THE BRAGANZA "DIAMOND."

Declared, if genuine, to be the largest diamond of which there is any record in the history of the world, the gem known as the "Braganza" has had a history as unusual as that of any of the precious stones of the Orient and a fate that has puzzled historians and gem collectors alike—for it has either vanished or, as is considered more likely, has been kept from public gaze because of the fact that it is not a diamond but a white topaz.

Reputed to have been found in the River Abaite, some miles north of the Rio Plate in South America, on August 21, 1797, by three criminals who had been banished into the interior, the gem that was to be known as the Braganza first purchased the freedom of its finders and was then presented to Don John VI of Portugal, "who had a hole drilled through it and wore it suspended around his neck on gala days." The stone, which was valued by Delisle at £300,000,000, was said to be about the size of a goose egg and its weight was usually approximated at 1680 carats or over eleven ounces.

In his discussion of this gem, as magnificent as it was mysterious, Edwin W. Streeter, F.R.G.S., says: "The fate of the stone after the death of Don John, appears to present a mystery which is as yet unsolved. According to all recent authorities, however, the Braganza would seem never to have been removed from the Portuguese treasury where it is jealously guarded against all inquisitive sightseers. For obvious financial motives, the Portuguese government is naturally anxious that, whatever its true character may be, it should continue to be regarded as a genuine diamond. On this point the strongest doubts have been entertained and Murray tells us that 'Mr. Mawe, who had attentively examined it, informed me that he considered it to be a Nova Mina or white topaz, and not a diamond at all.'

"The history and fate of this stone are still further beclouded by writers who have confused it with another gem known as the 'Regent of Portugal,' also reputed to have been found near the River Abaite. This gem is of round shape, weighs 215 carats and its value has been estimated at 396,800 guineas (approximately $2,000,000).

"But there does not appear to be any one who can say with authority what became of the largest diamond in the world—whether it still reposes in the vaults of the Portuguese government at Lisbon, whether it has been cut into smaller and more easily saleable stones or whether, as seems most likely, it was not a diamond at all, but a comparatively valueless topaz. Unless the latter supposition is true it is hard to conceive of the continued but unannounced existence of a gem weighing more than eleven ounces and valued at the stupendous sum of £300,000,000."

The smallest crystal wireless set ever produced has been made by a London firm. It is called "The Butterfly" and is mounted on an ordinary finger ring. The base is only one inch long by three-quarters of an inch wide. The diminutive proportions of the set by no means impair the efficiency, for four pairs of headphones distinctly picked up music forty miles away.

Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE FEATHER GAME.

One evening after supper Uncle Wiggily said to Nurse Jane:

"I think I shall go for a little walk. May I have the pleasure of your company, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy?"

"Thank you," replied the muskrat lady housekeeper, "but I shall stay on the porch, as I expect Mrs. Wibble-wobble, the lady duck.

So Uncle Wiggily hopped away from the hollow stump bungalow all by himself.

"Be careful not to stay out so late that the Bob Cat catches you!" warned Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

It was a pleasant summer evening, with the sun just going to bed on a soft, fleecy blanket of clouds in the west.

And just then he heard a voice say:

"Come, brothers and sisters, let us play our regular evening feather game."

"Hum! I wonder who that is?" thought Uncle Wiggily. Then, looking up, he saw, sitting on the branch of a tree, a number of birds with notched tails. "Ah, the swallows," murmured the bunny to himself. "They always fly at evening time, I shall watch them."

'Have you a feather?'

Uncle Wiggily sat down on a stump beneath the tree and, soon, one of the swallows called down to the rabbit, asking:

"Have you a feather that we may use in playing our game?"

"I am sorry to say I have not," answered Mr. Longears. "I wear a coat of fur—not feathers. But if you would like a little loose fur——"

"Thank you," twittered one of the swallows, "but we need a feather that will float in the air. Ah, I see one!" he cried, and, darting down, close to the ground, the bird picked up in his bill a tiny white feather. It had blown off the breast of Grandfather Goosey Gander that day. But, having many more feathers, Grandpa Goosey did not mind losing one.

"Now for our game!" twittered the swallows.

"What sort of a game can you play with one feather?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Do you tickle one another with it?"

"Not exactly," answered the swallow who had picked up the feather. "But if you watch you shall see."

The bird, carrying the feather in its bill, darted through the air. Suddenly it let go the white, fluffy thing.

"Oh, you've dropped it!" cried Uncle Wiggily. But before the feather could fall to the ground, another swallow skimmed swiftly through the air and caught it in his bill, just as a boy catches a baseball.

And then the feather was carried up in the air and dropped. But each time, before it could touch the ground, one of the swallows darted after it and picked it up. One after another of the birds caught the feather on the wing.

"This is our feather game—we play it each night," said the largest swallow.

"It is a very nice game," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Yes, and I know another nice game!" growled a voice behind the rabbit. "It is the game of nibbling your ears!" And out popped the bad Bob Cat. He caught the bunny in both claws and held him tightly.

"Come, brothers and sisters!" twittered this swallow. "We must save our friend Uncle Wiggily!"

"We'll tickle the Bob Cat on his nose with the feather! We'll tickle his nose so much that he'll have to let go of Uncle Wiggily to scratch and then the rabbit can get away. Come! Tickle the Bob Cat with our game feather!"

One after another of the birds darted toward the Bob Cat, carrying the feather. They darted by the bad chap, lightly tickleing his nose with the feather. At first the Bob Cat would not let Uncle Wiggily go. But, after awhile, his nose began to tickle and itch so much that he roared out:

"Oh, I must scratch! I simply must scratch myself!" So he raised his paws to scratch his nose and of course, he let go of the rabbit.

So, you see, it was a good thing the swallows played the feather game, and, if the egg beater doesn't dust salt on the sugar cookie and then give it a bath in the cat's cradle, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the pepper hash.

CAPPY RICKS

By Peter B. Kyne

He Discusses the Hard Luck Story and the Ready Touch

"An idea has just occurred to me," said Cappy Ricks one day after luncheon, as Mr. Skinner, his general manager in charge of the Ricks Logging & Lumbering Company, and Matt Peasley, president and general manager of Cappy's Blue Star Navigation Company, drapped into the liter's office for a cigar and a discussion of the Ricks affairs in general. Cappy paused—a dramatic pause—and looked them over.

"Your ideas are usually valuable, sir," said Mr. Skinner. "Don't hoard them."

"I've come to the conclusion that since I retired from business ten years ago I have more business to attend to than I ever had."

"Well, I'm rapidly drifting into the banker class," cappy complained. "At least I'm asked to make a lot of unsecured loans. And some wag on the street must have sold my name to a string of promoters as part of a sucker list, because of late I'm bombarded with flashy literature that seeks to dazzle me with promises of profits beyond the dreams of average avarice. In the good old days it used to be gold mines in Mexico or rubber plantations in Guatemala, but of late years the sound of oil gushers has captured the public imagination and as a result there is considerable tearing of hair and gnashing of teeth. heard in the land. Skinner, I want you to issue orders in the general office that the first man or woman there who lets an oil-stock salesman in on me gets set back one year on time allowance toward a coveted increase in salary."

Cappy sighed. "Pity the rich, or those credited with riches," he complained. "I think the average human vulture figures that as a man grows old he grows kindlier and hence, easier. And I don't know but that's pretty sound philosophy. When I was younger I could turn down a ready touch from a no-good son of a horsethief as easily as I could wrap myself around a steak with mushrooms. Now I find myself developing a lot of belated sympathy for the toucher just because he IS a no good son of a horsethief. Moreover, I have discovered that for ten dollars I can, quite usually, get rid of a nuisance for life, because, once the touch has been made, the toucher seldom has the courage to face the touchee again while the debt remains unpaid. I have also discovered that while the toucher's demands are usually modest, he generally asks for twice as much as he expects to get; consequently, now-a-days, my philanthropy among the unworthy has been reduced 50 per cent."

"Well, I suppose somebody has to help take care of the misfits of this world," Matt opined.

"Oh, I don't mind doing far more than my share toward taking care of life's misfits," Cappy protested. "The boys that rile me are the snappy ones, well-dressed, putting up a big front, pretending to be that which they are not and which they do not intend to be if they can avoid it. I'm getting fed up on polite crooks. I was up at a meeting of the board of directors of the Marine National Bank this morning when we considered a loan of one hundred thousand dollars to the Oriental Import and Export Company, which is the name under which an amicable wastel, Albert T. Dickman, has been doing business in this city for ten years. We had a statement of his net worth but, listed among his liabilities, I failed to find an overdue promissory note for six thousand dollars due to the Ricks Logging and Lumbering Company. So I excused myself from the meeting, drifted around to the cashier and ascertained that Dickson had a credit balance of twelve thousand dollars in his account. In order to be on the safe side I just naturally attached it and entered suit on that overdue note."

"Yes, Dickson called up about noon time," said Mr. Skinner, "and begged me to call off the dogs. I didn't know anything about the suit so I—"

"Skinner, if I didn't keep an eagle eye on this business I'd be so deep in red ink folks would mistake me for an Indian. Why do you suppose I'm a director in six banks, if it isn't because it's a fine way to get a line on our creditors' credit? Dickson was trying to borrow money under false pretenses. I caught him at it and tossed him in the air. Now, I don't think Dickson is dishonest—that is, I think he would prefer to be honest, all things being equal—but he's in a jam and frightened and took the one fatal chance which failed."

"His loan would have gone through if he had had the courage to tell the truth about his condition. Now, if he busts, we're safe and we should worry about him! Why didn't he take a chance on human nature and the natural sympathy of one business man for another? We've all been up against it at one time or another, and a hard luck tale from a man who has always kept his credit clean is something that almost any human being will listen to respectfully and sympathetically. If he had told me his sorrows we would have renewed his note for ninety days or six months to help him out.

"No, Skinner, I cannot feel sorry for Dickson. I'm a hard, cruel old man when a man who never had any credit, never wanted one and never tried to get one, but who, nevertheless, begs a loan on a fictitious credit, runs up against me. If a man needs help on something he really belives in, I'll help him, even if I do not believe in his proposition, because it's a terrible thing to have to go through life without somebody to believe in one, but verily I say unto you, my brethren, take an ax-handle to the man who says: 'I say, old man, loan me a hundred until pay day, will you? Absolutely, I'll give it back to you then.' Such a man is a fraud, because if he gives your hundred back to you on the first pay day, he's still a hundred in the red ink and has to borrow it again from somebody else. Meanwhile he has stabilized his credit with you and paved the way for another ready touch three months hence, and in the interim he has not been thrifty with the hope of emerging from his red ink. Skinner, it requires courage to be thrifty, because thrift means self-denial and weaklings deny themselves nothing. So in the long run somebody is stuck for that hundred and it is never the prudent man who is.

"On the other hand, if a poor but honest fellow says to you: 'I need a hundred worse than I need salvation, and I've elected you to loan it to me. I don't know when I shall repay, but I'll try to get square with you sooner or later'—such a bold fellow will quite usually touch my hard heart. And I've observed that quite usually I get it back.

"Speaking of adroit touches, I am reminded of a dissolute fellow who claimed my friendship, despite his faults, many years ago. He was a newspaperman, doing waterfront for a local rag, and frequently called upon me for a story. Well, sir, one day this chap met me as I came out of the Merchants' Club and besought an interview. I was in a hurry and told him so. I even made the mistake of talking too much, for I added, further, that I was en route to my tailor's (which was none of his business) and begged to be excused.

"'One moment, Mr. Ricks,' said the pest. 'A peculiar question of credit arises in my mind. Now you are a very rich man and I have observed in all tailor shops a sign which reads: 'A deposit required with all orders.' Does your tailor hold you to this rule?'

"'No,' I replied, 'he does not. When I go in to order a new suit of clothes I usually pay him for the last one.'

"His shifty eyes brightened. He looked down at his shabby trousers, which had a tendency toward lace at the bottom, and sighed, 'I need a new suit very badly,' he mourned, 'but unfortunately I have no credit with tailors. They always hold me to that rule about the deposit, and I never seem to have the deposit. As a result I'm very, shabby.'

"I was about to sympathize with him, but he waved away my proffered sympathy. 'I have a bright idea, Mr. Ricks,' he declared. 'Suppose you hand me a twenty dollar bill now. Then I'll walk down to your tailor's with you. To be seen entering his shop as a familiar of yours will tend to stabilize my standing with him instantly, despite my somewhat neglected appearance. I will help you select your cloth and when you go to pay him for your last suit discover that you are twenty dollars shy of the necessary amount. Without a moment's hesitation turn to me and say:

"'Hill, I find I'm twenty dollars short of the amount necessary to pay this excellent fellow what I owe him. Let me have twenty dollars until I can get back to my office, when I'll send you a check to cover.'

"To this I reply: 'Why, with pleasure, Mr. Ricks. Are you quite certain twenty is enough? Let you have a thousand if you want it!' But you insist that twenty is ample and I will give it to you. The tailor will be impressed. He will think I am, without doubt, a rich, but careless business associate of yours, for have you not borrowed twenty dollars from me in his presence? My credit rating will at once be assured. I will order a suit of clothes and quite overlook that 'deposit required' sign. By the time the clothes have been made I will have had two pay days and the tailor will have been paid. The next time I order a suit there will not be the slightest difficulty.'

"Well, the brilliance of his plan intrigued me mightily. I knew he wasn't worth two squirts of swamp water, but his psychology was without a flaw and, after all, stupidity is the one crime I cannot forgive. And he was not a stupid man. So, with a mental resolve to protect my tailor provided my protege happened to back-fire, I fell for his scheme just to see how it would work out. I gave him the twenty dollar bill and he walked with me to the tailor's, where the little play was pulled off according to schedule. At the proper moment I turned to him and said 'Bill, I find I'm short twenty dollars of the amount necessary to pay this excellent tailor. Loan me twenty dollars.'"

"What did he do?" Mr. Skinner queried.

"He looked me calmly in the eye,' Cappy replied, and said with the most wonderful, child-like sympathy on his face: 'Mr. Ricks, I'm mighty sorry, but I haven't got a red cent with me!' Then he said he had to be running along—and he did, taking my twenty dollars with him. He never gave it back and to the day of his death he laughed at me every time he met me."

"I suppose he died in the City and County Hospital and was buried in Potter's field," said Mr. Skinner.

"I regret to inform you he was not," Cappy replied, with a far-away look and a gentle, prescient smile. "He lay out drunk one night and contracted pneumonia. He only lasted three days, but he spent those three days in the best hospital in town and I buried him in a paid grave and erected a small tomb rock over him, commemorating his virtues. In his rascally way I think he was one of the most honest men I have ever known."

A NEEDED CHANGE.

Vacation days—
That come each year—
When brain is dull and life seems drear—
Renews our zest in routine life—
And takes us from a world of strife—
But for awhile—
But even a short space of time—
Brings back the smile—
That had been drowned in sighing—
Our doctor tells us—"take a change—
Go out where everything seems strange—
Forget your trials—
Let nature polish up your face—
And then the miles—
As we go plodding down the lane—
Will lure again—"
They are obsessed—
With but one thought—that life means gain—
To think of rest gives them a pain—
To me it's funny—
For every waking hour they strive—
To gain more money—
And never think to go away—
But for a day—
Not knowing that forgetful prank—
Means more than money in the bank—
I asked a man the other day—
When he'd away—
To mountains or to cool sea-shore—
My foolish question seemed to bore—
"Vacation-days to me are jokes—
Such things are but for lazy folks"—
But one night in the news I read—
Old Vigorous was confined to bed—
With nerves all shot to pieces—
And soon he died and left much coin—
To willing aunts and nieces—
Not long ago a brother came—
A member of my craft—
He'd been advised to take a change—
For he was going daft—
That day he walked around with me—
It seemed to fill his heart with glee—
To let him pack my load—
He talked shop every walking hour—
And his eyes glowed—
When I let him deliver mail—
And every morning without fail—
I found him waiting keen for me—
And his eyes held a dog-like plea—
He longed to pack—
My heavy sack—
Full well I knew this willing nut—
Had both feet in a dismal rut—
What could I do?
He'd mope along the whole day through—
If I said—no—
He longed to have a little fun—
Ere he must go—
He left me with a yearning strange—
'Twas such a change.

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

IT had been a stormy interview and Andrew Blake, as usual, came off best. Wood Blake, his son, closed the library door behind him, stood for a moment looking at the floor, then turned back.

"All right," he said as he opened the door for the parting words, "you will have your way. I will not marry a chorus girl, as you call her, but I'll take no further orders. I'm going West to make my own living. Goodbye!"

Outside he thought it over. There was no backing out now. Well, he had a little money. Someone in college had told him there was always a job in the Dakotas or Minnesota harvesting grain. Wood Blake bought a ticket, decided he would change his name to Tom Brown, and started out to do the first real work he had ever tried.

It was not far from Fargo that "Tom Brown" got a job from leather-skinned and angular Filbert Todd.

"Don't look as if you were any good, but the choosing isn't wide at present. I'll give you a try and if you don't eat more than you're worth, it's a bargain."

The farmer's scornful look was a challenge to the young man, who responded by giving his full strength to the back-breaking task. Lacking in skill, he made up somewhat by willingness and persistence. At the end of a week which seemed months long he was in the good graces of Todd.

"That's right," said the farmer, "pitch in and eat all you wanter. You're earning your keep, young feller, and your pay, besides."

That was enough, Wood decided. He could quit now with grace and seek a job in a city. He straightened his aching body and was about to announce his intention when Todd snorted in exasperation.

"If that ain't just like me, I've left my long-distance specks in the house. Trot after them, will you? You'll find them in my room."

Into the farmer's bedroom Wood ventured on his quest—and there on the bureau he saw a picture of Trixie Treble. Here in Dakota, in a farmer's house, was the photograph of the girl for whom he had [illegible]

Todd eyed him keenly. "That's may daughter, but she ain't got no foolish name like Trixie Treble. Her name's Todd, like mine. Toodles Todd. And she's a play actor in Noo York, and a good one."

"Sure, she's a good one," Wood's agreement was enthusiastic. "Say, loan me the horse tonight, I want to drive to town."

In town Wood sent a telegram which caused some excitement in the dressing room of a theater in far off New York. Trixie Treble read it, gave a shrill laugh and quit the company flat.

"This troupe will have to struggle along as best it may," she announced. "I'm going back to the sticks. Who wants to buy my ruffles?"

"What do you think," he asked of Wood, "of a daughter who will leave a leading position in the largest New York theater to pay a visit to her dad?"

"I think," said Wood, "she's a bit all right and what's more, that's what I have thought for months." Then they let Todd in on their secret.

Old Andrew was glad to capitulate.

"Nothing could be better," he said to his wife. "A sensible girl from the grain belt will be just the kind to keep him steady. I'd rather he would marry a farmer's daughter than any social butterfly around here." The blessings were wired and Toodles and Wood started East on their honeymoon.

"Farmer's daughter or chorus lady," said Mrs. Wood Blake reflectively as the train neared the city, "I am the same girl and good enough to be any man's daughter-in-law. What's more, as soon as he learns to like me, I'm going to tell."

The Why of Superstitions

By H. Irving King

BONFIRES.

Bonfires as we know them in this country now are not expressions of popular superstition but they have their origin in superstition and in Scotland and Ireland in quite recent times the bonfires lighted at certain dates were clearly survivals of ancient superstitious rites as are, likewise, the midsummer fires lighted in certain parts of England.

In the old days, says one writer, these fires "Blazed on every hill and in every farm. No field was fruitful into which a burning brand had not been thrown, no horse or cow which had not been touched by fire that night."

These "needfires" were of old set burning in all parts of Europe, though the date upon which they were lighted appears to have differed in different localities. As a rule, however, they were midsummer fires and were supposed to symbolize the reaching of the sun to its highest point in the heavens. Even today in many parts of continentl Europe bonfires are lighted upon the evening of St. John's Day.

In this country the bonfire has become simply an expression of general joy over some great event or at some great anniversary. But originally these fires were undoubtedly connected with sun-worship. The fact that in some places these fires are still called "bale-fires" is thought by some authorities to indicate that they were once lighted in honor of Baal, the Phoenician sun-god. Others dispute this and connect the fires with gods indigenous to Europe. That they are survivals of sun worship in some phase is, however, abundantly proved. This is not in antagonism to professor Frazer's theory that they were originally fires for human sacrifice—they might well have been both. About these "bale-fires," "real fires," "needfires," etc. of which our bonfire is the modern popular representative enough has been written to make a small library.

"Ah, the little flowers!" uttered J. Fuller Gloom, wiping his perspiring brow. "How I envy them!"

"What a pretty sentiment!" returned Tennyson J. Daft, the versatile versificationist. "The flowers are the smiles of Nature, beaming up at us as we pass and whispering to us—"

"Yes. They remind me that they came from under the snow. I wish I could put a drift about two feet thick over me, right now."

The Observer, when out motoring the other night, for some distance trailed a machine, on which was painted in outline letters, the following legend, which answers a multitude of questions from careless drivers:

"Not bashful—just careful!"

A Memory Out of the Misty Past

A really good story achieves immortality—it never dies and it never should. For proof of the truth of this consider the following tale which, in various forms has been current ever since its birth, thirty-odd years ago:

A distinguished citizen of Louisville—so the most popular version has it—went to a dinner one night and stayed late. It was 2 o'clock in the morning when he reached his home afoot. In front of the house was a very small yard, hardly more than an ornamental grass plot; and in the exact center of it stood a maple sapling with a two-inch butt. The Kentuckian made for the door, but tacked off at an angle and bumped into the little treelet. He made a fresh start, executed a wide and uncertain detour—and came back smack up against the maple. This time he put his back against its swaying trunk in order to be sure of getting the direction right—and off he went again, plowing up the grass. It wasn't any use—he circled the lawn twice, but he finished up holding on to the sapling.

Thereupon he sat himself on the earth with great care, removed his hat, his shoes and his dress-coat, and rolled up the dress-coat for a pillow; and as he sank to rest beneath the stars he muttered in a voice of resignation: "Lost, by Heavens!—lost in the midsh of an impen'trable forest!"

Listen, World!

IS SHE THE MOST SELFISH CREATURE ON EARTH—OR THE SANEST?

AND then, there's the matter of Selfishness. Dr. Thomas Wood, of Columbia University, says it's the besetting sin of the younger generation. Particularly amongst the girls—.

"The American girl is interested too greatly in one thing—herself. It was self-interest that was the cause of the birth of the flapper movement. The same interest was responsible for the abolishing of chaperoning, the originating of the shimmy and other modern eccentricities of the younger feminine generation," says this disapproving gentleman.

Well, how about it? You're inclined to agree with him, aren't you? The Younger Set is surely a noisy assertive, inconsiderate bunch. They do think of themselves.

Think it over. Haven't human beings always thought about themselves? Haven't they always wanted pleasure and prosperity? They have. And they've always been frightfully depressed when they didn't get it. In that respect, the Younger Generation is exactly like all the Older Generations. But here's the difference—

The Older Generation had meekness pounded into them from the day they could toddle. Particularly the ladies. The Old Fashioned Girl's fate was entirely in the hands of her Papa, Husband or God. If they didn't make her happy she had no alternative but to bear her lot with resignation and get fitted for a martyr's crown.

It never occurred to her that her fate might be as much her own affair as the more intimate duty of washing her ears or mending her stockings. She would have considered it blasphemy to attempt to solve her own destiny. And she was fittingly paid for that wormy attitude.

The American girl of today has no illusions as to who should control her fate. She doesn't consider it blasphemy to try and boss her own life. SHE considers it COWARDLY and STUPID to leave that task to anyone else. She considers unnecessary suffering as disgusting as unnecessary dirt. She's going to avoid it if she possibly can.

If she possibly can't, she'll be a good sport and stand it. But she will not be a martyr. She'll think of herself first, because she considers that her main duty. She believes that in the long run it's far better to think of yourself first and fight for yourself first than it is to involve a whole lot of people in sadness and confusion just because you won't attend to your main job.

Selfish? Perhaps. But it's infinitely better for the progress of humanity than that spinelessness which wrapped the world in mildew for a million years.

Boosts Along the Way

It isn't often that THREE boosts come in one letter, but here is the proof: One for Barbara, who wanted information on nursing; one for C. E. Montgomery, who has been carved and served with pains, and one for lil' ME.

Friend Geraldine:

The enclosed is for Barbara, who wishes to enter the nursing profession:

Make a selection of th best hospitals in Oakland and San Francisco. Address the superintendent of nurses of these different institutions and ask them to send you an application blank and literature pertaining to their hospital training school for nurses.

These pamphlets will give you exact information regarding age, wearing apparel, remuneration, education and length of course. Select a modern hospital, the very best you can find, for this reason: After having graduated, it is from your hospital you will have to secure your cases on institutional positions.

And now, Barbara, a wee bit of advice. This career calls for intellectual quickness, industry and the power of bearing fatigue. Do your best, keep busy, be anxious to please, ready to cheer.

To C. E. Montgomery:

I am much disposed to think you are a good old scout and am thanking you right now for your patience and good humor, and also for the many nice things you said to Barbara regarding our profession.

I wish you from this day on a good strong heart, a broad deep chest and a stomach which shall never again know nausea existed.

To Geraldine, our friend, just a little crumb of comfort. We readers of your column may not at times be very quick with the correct interpretation of all things said and done therein, but I do say to you that I would give the world for your cheerful temper, your knowledge is delightful and your wit truly most good natured. You correct ignorance into an amiable simplicity and render deformity itself agreeable.

Sincerely yours with good wishes,
A REGISTERED NURSE.

I'd like to take all that boost to myself and keep it, but I know that a newspaperwoman's temper can't "stack up" very highly 'longside a nurse's. Just the same I do appreciae it a lot, and here is my hand.

COZY CORNERS IN CHURCHES FOR LOVE-MAKING!

What is the reply of the churchman, and what is the answer of the boy who "hangs out" at the corner pool room?

We have Go-to-Church-Sundays, we have "movies" and socials, but do we have the sort of open-house that would bring in the man from the billiard parlor and the little girl who spends her evenings in dance halls?

Geraldine:

Just read where a sky-pilot down south has joined in with a New York brother of the pulpit in advocating that nooks be set aside in places of worship for the use of young folks in love-making.

Say, you know Jerry, there's one church I would join. No foolin'.

That parson said several mouthfuls when he chirped in this wise:

"You can't control love-making itself because young people will court in their own way, but you can do much through the church to govern the conditions under which they meet each other."

Then he tops it off with this:

"Religious education, especially, should teach the social relations of boys and girls, call it love-making or what you will."

I was born in a big city; I was educated in a big city; I've had all my employment in a big city; I am—a charter member of the Order of Curbstone Kids.

'Course I haven't stayed at the curbstone. I graduated to the pool room, then to the corner saloon, then to—well, never mind. Anyway, I've done my share of what this clergyman calls "love-making." I didn't do it the right way because I didn't know how. And I didn't know how because I never was told. But I was told the wrong way. And so were all the rest of the Curbstone Kids, both boys and girls.

This preacher man is going to come in for a lot of hard sledding 'cause he has the backbone to come out for something he believes is right. But he'll get nothing but praise from us older Curbstone Kids who have been "through the mill." Whether knowingly or not, this religious person has hit upon something real BIG. And when these so-called reformers get hep to themselves and line up with him they'll notice a distinct falling off in the flapper and sheik population.

Give him a hand, Jerry, he deserves it and he needs it.

CAKE EATER.

That's a mighty fine letter, Pal, but would you really go to a church "open house" if the opportunity offered? I am not doubting your sincerity, and your boost for Dr. Henry E. Tralle of Michigan is fine, but, honestly, would you go?

I think that the Order of Curbstone Kids would shy at the idea, would feel self conscious and would fear the "goody-goody" jibes of their fellow lodge members if they even hinted that church in any guise was alluring.

Perhaps the Rev. Dr. Tralle can evolve a meeting place where Curbstone Kids will go. A man who believes that RELIGIOUS EDUCATION SHOULD TEACH THE SOCIAL RELATION OF BOYS AND GIRLS ought to be able to work out a scheme to bring in the girl from the dance hall and the boy from the pool hall.

I hope that some Oakland minister will answer this letter and I'd like to know the opinion of some other members of the Royal Lodge of Curbstone Kids. Cake Eater started something—who'll finish it?

The Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy

by Johnny Gruelle

Copyright by JOHNNY GRUELLE. All Rights Reserved.

RAGGEDY ANN and Raggedy Andy and little Ned Gnome were enjoying the sodas at the magical soda water springs when Wanda Witch came along and with her magic changed the vanilla soda water into green soda water.

Wanda Witch thought, when she changed the soda water and made it green, that she was spoiling the soda water. But instead of that, she only changed it from vanilla flavor to lime flavor, and the Raggedys and little Ned Gnome liked it better than ever.

"IT'S A POP CORN BALL GROUND!" RAGGEDY ANDY LAUGHED.

The two sister Witches wanted to capture Raggedy's so that they could take Raggedy Ann's magical Wishing Pebble away from her and take Raggedy Andy's magical Wishing Stick away from him.

Little Ned Gnome was avery good friend of the Raggedys and he did not wish the two mean little Witches to capture Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy. When Wanda Witch ran home, she said to herself, "I'll bet when I get Winda Witch to help me, we will capture both Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy, then we will take away their magical Wishing Pebble and Stick and we can wish for a whole lot of nice things!" So she ran home as fast as she could go. When Wanda Witch reached her home, there was Winda Witch waiting for her.

"Didn't you capture the Raggedys?" Winda Witch asked.

"No, sir!" Wanda Witch replied, "I came to get you to help me!"

"Then I will take all my charms with me, Wanda Witch!" Winda Witch replied. So she put all her magical charm in a little bag and she and Wanda Witch got upon the flying broom and sailed through the woods after the Raggedys and little Ned Gnome.

Now little Ned Gnome and the Raggedys had grown tired of eating the candy covered cookies off of the cookie bushes, and they each had drank fifteen silver cups full of soda water, so they left the soda water spring and walked away.

Then, when they heard the two mean little old Witches coming after them on the flying broom, Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy and little Ned Gnome crawled into a hole in a tree.

"Aha!" Wanda and Winda Witch cried, when the flying broom brought them right to the tree where the Raggedys and little Ned Gnome were hiding. "Now we have them! They cannot get out of the hole in the tree and we will reach in and pull them out!"

"Maybe the Raggedys will bite if we stick our hands in the hole in the tree, Winda Witch said. "No they won't," Wanda Witch said, "For they are only rag dolls!" So she reached into the hole in the tree to catch the Raggedys. Then Wanda Witch reached in too. But, before they could catch the Raggedys, the hole in the tree closed tight upon their hands and held them fast.

"Now we must run out the other side of the tree!" Raggedy Ann said as she caught little Ned Gnome's hand and Raggedy Andy's. They ran and ran until they came to a clearing where pop corn came shooting up out of the ground and rolled around in a lot of candy."

"It's a pop corn ball ground!" Raggedy Andy laughed as he picked up some of the balls and tasted them.

INVESTORS FROM CALIFORNIA FIND FIELD IN ARIZONA

Careful Management of Its Big Corporations Finds Favor With Bankers.

By FRANK G. STEWARD, Resident Manager of Stephens & Co.

The lively interest of Californians in the development of their own state has very evidently not blinded them to opportunities across their borders for profitable investment. The case of the Arizona Power Company of Prescott and the Southern Arizona Power Company of Nogales strikingly illustrates that California bankers and big investors generally are taking pains to acquaint themselves with possibilities in Arizona, and that their studies of conditions in that state have convinced them of the certain growth and future prosperity of enterprises in that region.

New York, where investment money usually is sought, is too far away for successful dealings by industrial pioneers. Unfamiliar with the situation in Arizona, the Wall Street men are difficult to convince, but Californians, being of the West, and knowing Arizona and knowing both the latter's limitations as well as possibilities, take a different attitude, and capital on a rapidly increasing scale is being invested by coast interests in its enterprises.

BONDS ARE PURCHASED.

For instance, the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company has purchased a large block of one of Arizona's securities and this company is notable for the careful scrutiny it gives all investments for the safeguarding of its funds. Stephens & Co., through its several California offices, is handling several Arizona issues and finding a ready market among far-seeing Californians.

This is as it should be, for beyond the profit involved to the individual investors the development of Arizona, neighbor state with interests paralleling those of California, means a greater West and, hence, a greater volume of business on the coast.

Another point which impresses itself is that Arizona's reliability in respect to her business corporations is known better to Californians than to eastern financial men, probably, and this may have a bearing on the willingness of the former to invest in Arizona enterprises substantially and confidently.

GOOD MANAGEMENT.

The careful watch over Arizona's industrial activities, especially with regard to those new concerns seeking outside capital, that is kept by the Arizona Corporation Commission, is having a healthful effect. The state, as a whole, is benefited immeasurably by the successful efforts of the commission to keep the Arizona corporations above board in their dealings with investors, and enforcing the law relating to permissible indebtedness.

There can be no better movement to cement the interests of Arizona and California than to have it known that money invested in the latter state is safe and that the financial men of the western coast are convinced of the state's sure development and prosperity.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

By H. S. SCOTT.

New high prices for the movement were established by a number of industrial stocks in today's New York market before the general list turned heavy again in response to concentrated selling of the railroad shares.

Sales approximately 650,000 shares.

The deadlock in the miners' wage conference brought fresh selling when the market opened. Losses of a point or more were recorded on initial sales by Baldwin, Gulf States Steel and Stewart-Warner Speedometer. Oils were again in supply, but the losses as a rule were small.

Overnight selling orders were well absorbed and the market headed upward again with practically all of the early losses recovered except in Pan-American A and B, which were off 1 and 1¾, respectively. DuPont advanced 2 points and American and Lima Locomotives, Loose-Wiles Biscuit, Mack Truck, Chicago Northwestern, National Lead and Sloss Sheffield Steel climbed a point or more above yesterday's final quotations. Jersey Central, making its first appearance in weeks, sold at 205 as against the previous sale of 182. Foreign exchanges opened irregular.

Short interests covered extensively during the morning when it became evident that their efforts to depress prices were meeting with stubborn resistance. The recent upward trend also had attracted some fresh buying power with the result that a brisk rally was in progress during the morning. Buying was influenced in part by reports of dividend increases, large orders for equipment and higher metal prices. Equipments supersede the independent steels as the market leaders with food, motor and other industrial shares and specialties falling close behind. Oils continued sluggish. Among the stocks to sell 2 or more points above yesterday's final quotations were Baldwin, American Car, American Brake Shoe, Dupont, Mack Truck and National Lead. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

Prices of securities made a further substantial advance on the basis of the liquidated condition of the market and more optimism in views concerning the industrial outlook. American Can reached 100, Gulf States Steel 83⅞, Baldwin 133½ and U. S. Steel 93⅞. As exceptions to the general trend, Sinclair Oil preferred dropped four points to 82, a new low level for the year, and Foundation broke 2½ to 70¾.

The closing was easy. Weakness of the railroad shares, several of which dropped 1 to 2½ points, brought about liquidation of industrial stocks in the last hour in which many of the earlier gains were cancelled or materially reduced.

Curb stocks closed higher today, after an easier opening.

Standard Oils continued to play a prominent part and all of the more active stocks ruled higher. Independent issues took a cue from the high priced shares and closed firm.

HOME BANKING INDICATIONS IN EXCELLENT SHAPE.

Home banking conditions continue as strong as ever with the gold reserve practically stable and very moderate increase in advances on the part of reserve banks, says Henry Clews and Company. The general ability of commercial banks to finance their customers with their own resources, combined with the comparatively low level of activity in the stock market, accounts for the existence of an abundant supply of money available for the borrower at reasonable rates. There seems now to be no reason to anticipate any change in this condition during the early future. So far as banking and finance are concerned, the chief trouble at the present time is found in the inability to extend even moderate accommodation to European buyers of American goods, due to the general tendency of European currencies to move down to lower levels. The situation as a whole is as unsatisfactory as it ever was and emphasizes the need of immediate rectification.

BUSINESS NOW INTERESTED IN AUTUMN TRADE.

Moody's Weekly Review of Financial Conditions in its current issue says in part:

"A vital question now is the extent of the autumn trade. If this seasonal business proves as good as usual, commodity prices should recover, railroad earnings break records, margins of profit improve, and every industry show new life. In the autumn trade, however, the buying of manufactures and merchandise by the interior and the rural districts is as important as the harvesting and selling of farm products. Much depends, then, upon the profits of the farmer.

"The current impression that the world's international trade is going from bad to worse appears erroneous. It is true that the 1923 trade balances of most foreign nations show only moderate improvement over 1922; but either the net balances or else the gross exports do as a rule show this moderate improvement. It is our own net balance that has become adverse. Comparing 1923 with 1920 it is found that the foreign trade position of almost every nation has greatly improved. Thus the world's business is slowly reviving in spite of the disastrous and world-wide failure of statesmanship.

"To America this means a betterment in the quality of our foreign investments; a slow but continual growth in those of our products wherein the United States is the natural source; and an ultimate return to something like the pre-war conditions in foreign trade. By this is meant that export business is likely to remain highly competitive, and that foreign markets which appeal to us merely because Europe's gates are closed may now be regarded as permanently lost in most instances."

President E. L. Doheny of the Pan-American Petroleum & Transport Company reported by the E. F. Hutton & Company wire to have denied that any new financing was contemplated by his company. He said that it expected to spend $26,000,000 in California, this year, but that thus far expenditures had been made out of current earnings.

$280,000 Said to Be Missing in Oil Promotion

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—A suit in bankruptcy charging misappropriation of $238,000 of company funds has resulted in the appointment of a receiver for the Joe B. Turman Oil Syndicate No. 2, said to control six acres in the Santa Fe Springs field and capitalized at $500,000. The suit was filed in behalf of E. C. Deitz and others of the syndicate's 5000 stockholders, who allege that no effort was made to recover oil after a series of circus tent lectures and similar "high powered" sales methods had induced thousands to purchase shares.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 21.—T. J. Cannon, president of the Cannon Drilling Company, oil operator of Texas and California, was arrested here today on a charge of having violated the California corporate securities act by selling stock of the C. O. Jaggers Company, Inc., February 28, 1922, without a permit from the state corporation commission.

Also named in the complaint were C. O. Jaggers, J. B. Browning and R. F. Calvin, formerly president, director and secretar, respectively, of the Jaggers Company.

Jaggers and Browning could not be located but Calvin and Cannon were arraigned in a township justice court and released on their own recognizance, pending a hearing, the exact date of which will be set later.

The Jaggers Company went out of business some time ago. Cannon was its vice-president at the time of the alleged offense.

Italy Planning To Reduce High Cost of Living

Steady Advance Past Year Is Followed by Seven Proposals by Government.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Wholesale prices in Italy have notably increased during the past year, according to index numbers compiled by the Chamber of Commerce of Milan. In June, 1922, taking average prices for 1913 as 100, the general index stood at 504.18, and in June, 1923, it had risen to 539.24. The group showing the largest increase is textile materials, which have risen from 556.41 to 653.91. Minerals and metals have also increased considerably. Food products, which have for a long time been at high levels, show a further increase from 513.05 to 564.66.

In view of the continued high cost of living, according to Commercial Attache H. C. MacLean reports to the Department of Commerce, the Italian government has decided on the following measures to reduce the high cost of living: (1) Further reduction in duties or exemption from duty on staple food products, such as oil, rice, butter, etc.; (2) facilitation of ocean and railway transportation by increasing the rapidity and reducing the rates; (3) the organization of public markets in the cities having a population in excess of 200,000; (4) limitation of licenses for the sale of food products, the establishment of stands for the sale of meat, and the reduction of the number of wine shops; (5) encouragement of the fishing industry; (6) to increase the number and efficiency of experimental agricultural stations; (7) propaganda for the adoption of bread composed of wheat and corn flour; (8) recognition by the state of those who have performed active service in reducing the cost of living.

When the Declaration of Independence was signed, and in the days of the "Boston Tea Party," income-producing property owned and operated by men of good repute was considered prime security for first mortgage loans.

Today, bonds backed by the same security and offered by bond houses of known reliability and financial strength are equally desirable to investors seeking safety for and income from their surplus funds.

AMERICANS HAVE GOOD CHANCE TO GET CHINA TRADE

Trade Conditions Are Now Good; U. S. Shippers Must Change Credit System.

Specialization along selected lines appears to be an essential factor in further trading in China, says Commercial Attache Julean Arnold in his annual report to the Department of Commerce for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1923. Costs of conducting business in this field have increased very materially during the past twenty years and the present trend points to a significant change from the old time general import and export commission houses to more specialized business.

One of the best methods of securing permanent connections in this market is to concentrate sales and service efforts on a few carefully chosen lines. The intimate contract thus secured, at a reduced cost, will be of inestimable value, as the Chinese favor those concerns which bring them into closest touch with the manufacturers.

Competition in China is daily becoming keener and the ability to secure business often depends upon the financial accommodations offered. It is necessary for American manufacturers to extend credit terms similar to those offered by our foreign competitors.

EXPORT BUSINESS GOOD.

Political disorders have been serious during the year, and financial conditions have been stringent, but in spite of the embarrassment of the Central Government, there has been no inflated currency, the country continuing on a specie basis as it has for centuries due to the non-acceptance of anything but hard money by the masses. Silver exchange was steadier throughout the year than during any similar period since the war. Trade for the calendar year reached new high points, imports amounting to about gold $700,000,000 and exports gold $475,000,000. The Customs Revenue increased gold $3,000,000 over the high revenue of gold $44,-000,000.

TRADE PROSPECTS GOOD.

The potentialities of China in trade and economic developments should not be minimized, Arnold declares. The people are industrious, peace-loving and inherently as capable as any other peoples. The country is now undergoing a transition, in passing from a mediaeval to a modern economic society. Political and economic conditions will probably be more assisted through the building of railways and through giving the country adequate internal economic communications than in any other manner. The Chinese appear to be more receptive today to foreign capitalistic assistance, involving foreign control over certain sources of revenues, including railways, than ever before. Brigandage and famine will be very materially reduced when wealth producing avenues in China are extended and nothing will help more in the connection than the construction of China's badly needed railways. The reflex action of such a program upon general trade will be stupendous.

North Atlantic Lines Cut Rates

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 21.—Steamship lines in the North Atlantic conference, announced a reduction of 10 cents a barrel in export rates on apples shipped to ports in the United Kingdom. Local exporters said they expect a heavy movement of export apples through this port the next few months.

Marine Lawsuits Hold Attention Of Shipping Men

Two Suits Filed in North Courts Interest Men of Entire Pacific Coast.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 21.—Two marine lawsuits will engage the attention of Justice Martin at a sitting of the admiralty court here September 5.

One is an action in which the Canadian Railway Company's coast steamer Princess Beatrice claims $15,000 damage from the Camosun, a steamer owned and operated by the Union Steamship Company of British Columbia. On behalf of the Camosun a counter claim is advanced for $15,000 damages. The two boats collided January 20 on McKay Reach, between Kingcome Inlet and Trivett Point.

The second action involves a claim by the Winslow Marine Railway Company for $4800 for repairs to the steamer Pacific at Winslow, Wash., last March. The claim is disputed on behalf of the steamer on the ground the repairs were not authorized.

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada is to leave Thursday for the Orient with about 700 passengers on board. There will be nearly 300 in the first saloon.

River Steamer Is Bought by Bay Cities Trans. Co.

St. Helena to Operate From River to Oakland; Business Doubles.

Purchase of the river steamer St. Helena was announced today by Al T. Gibson, president of the Bay Cities Transportation Company.

The St. Helena will be reconstructed into a barge and used in the trans-shipment of intercoastal cargo between Oakland and San Francisco. Growth of intercoastal shipping makes necessary greater facilities for trans-bay traffic, Gibson states.

To keep pace with shipping expansion, the Bay Cities fleet has been doubled during the past two years. Seven barges and two Diesel tugs are now being operated, according to Gibson, the new equipment involving an investment of $75,000.

Australia Lumber Market Falls Off

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 21.—After many weeks of heavy buying of lumber by Australian importers, the demand has fallen off shaply. Inquiries coming in now all refer to possible October and November purchases. The Australian buyers report that they have stocked up and will not need additional lumber for at least two months. A steady string of sailers, motorships and steamers have taken lumber from here to Australia during the past two months. A number of vessels are loading here now for Australia. Although there have been no heavy buying flurries in the Orient during the past few weeks, regular buying, mostly by parcel lots, has kept up a good demand for northwest lumber. August Oriental lumber shipments will probably total 32,-000,000 feet from Portland.

The steamer Charles H. Cramp, with 2800 tons of steel and other freight aboard, arrived here today. The vessel has 300 tons of steel rails and other equipment for discharge at Longview for the Long-Bell Lumber Company.

Only a small amount of prunes will remain here for shipment after the British Royal Mail Steam Packet Line steamer Cardiganshire sails with 7000 boxes of the dried fruit, destined for United Kingdom ports.

Marine Mishaps Occur in North

SEATTLE, Aug. 21.—Fog today caused two marine mishaps in channels leading from the eastern end of the strait of Juan de Fuca.

The cruiser Seattle, flagship of the United States fleet, which proceeded to the Puget Sound naval station, Bremerton, Wash., after having gone ashore at Marrowstone Point on the west side of Admiralty Inlet, the channel connecting the strait with Puget Sound, is to go on drydock tomorrow for a survey of the damage. This was reported tonight to be negligible.

Captain C. Jensen and Carl Horenson, engineer, of the fishing boat Decision, which was run down and sunk by the Canadian Pacific steamer Princess Charlotte in Rosario strait, leading north from the strait, arrived here tonight. The body of Ray Hoffman, a Seattle fisherman, on the Decision, who was drowned in the collision, was not recovered. A cargo of freshly caught fish valued at $4000 went down with the Decision.

Lumber Schooner Given Up as a Loss

After inspection of the steam schooner Rainier, which was rammed by the Japanese steamship Mandasan Maru in the strait of Juan de Fuca July 28, it has been deemed impractical to repair the vessel, and her owners will have the craft dismantled.

The fact that the deck of the Rainier had been forced out of position four inches and more in some places rendered the work of repairing the ship impracticable as well as a highly expensive undertaking. As a result the machinery and boilers of the vessel, which are in excellent condition, are to be removed and installed in another vessel likely to be built by the Atlas Steamship Company, owners of the Rainier, in the near future.

The Rainier was built at Hoquiam, Wash., in 1900 and is of wood construction, 204 feet long with a beam of 38 feet. She has been operated continuously on this coast, having made several voyages to Alaska during the gold rush days, but most of her activities have been confined to service between California and Northwest ports.

Dakotan Towed To Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22.—Leaking badly, her rudder post damaged and with a heavy list to one side, the American-Hawaiian freighter Dakotan, which went aground off Cape Lazaro, Monday, was being towed here today by the Nevadan after being pulled off the rocks late yesterday, according to radiograms received at the harbor. The Dakotan, of 11,000 tons, will be repaired here, it was said.

THREE CORNERED SHIP BID FIGHT LOOMS ON COAST

Dollar, Admiral Line and Rolph-Fleischacker After U. S. Tonnage.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(By Consolidated Press. Special to Oakland TRIBUNE.)—Keen competition has developed over the acquisition of two fleets of passenger and freight steamers owned by the government and being operated on the Pacific coast by managing agents. Robert Dollar, veteran shipping man and head of the Dollar Steamship Lines, and his son, Stanley Dollar, president of the Admiral Oriental Steamship Company, now are on their way to Washington to confer with Shipping Board officials. They are expected to submit final revised bids for several Shipping Board craft.

It is understood from one good authority that the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the Rolph-Fleischacker interests which bought over one hundred wooden ships from the board about a year ago, will bid both against the Dollar interests and the Seattle Steamship men who also are represented in Washington. Los Angeles capitalists also are deeply interested in the disposal of the 535 foot liners.

Interest in these activities has been intensified by the joining of the United American Lines and the Houlder Weir and Boyd, Inc., interests in establishing a weekly intercoastal service from Baltimore and New York through the Panama Canal employing from 12 to 14 vessels. Included in the list of vessels are two owned by the Weyerhauser Timber Company. Another factor in the situation is seen in the recently incorporated California fruit ship line which proposes to put five 11,000-ton refrigerator ships on the run between California and Atlantic ports.

With this trend toward the development of intercoastal waterborne traffic plainly in view, rail carriers handling transcontinental traffic have sought or are preparing to seek permission by the Interstate Commerce Commission to reduce rates to a point which will permit them to meet Panama Canal competition. Among the roads expected to take such action are the Southern, Union and Northern Pacific systems.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN
I take this method of expressing my sentiments of appreciation to Dr. Wong Him for the wonderful cures he has effected in cases where several members of my family, including myself, were afflicted with various maladies.
I also desire to be the means of guiding anyone who is in need of medical advice, as he will find Dr. Wong Him to be a thoroughly reliable health specialist and absolutely conscientious. Through an occurrence experienced by a member of my family I can, with the greatest regard for sincerity, state that after a consultation, unless Dr. Wong Him is convinced that his herbs will effect a complete cure, he will under no circumstances accept the case.
Very truly yours,

A FRIEND IN NEED

Oakland, August 18, 1923.
I suffered from terrible burning, itching, and swelling due to poison in my blood. My eyes were almost blind from inflammation. My condition was such that I was unable to sleep for many nights. When I failed to get relief elsewhere, a friend took me to FONG WAN, because it is widely known that he has cured numerous diseases. FONG WAN cured me in nine days, after which, however, I took treatment from him for backache for another week. I am now completely free from both my ailments.
M. FERNANDEZ, 238 Broadway, Oakland, Cal.

FOR YEARS the Most Successful Herbalist in Oakland
In 1918, the Fong Wan Herbalist drove in his automobile to 60 homes, in which Influenza sufferers had been given up as hopeless cases. Without a single exception, he was able to give speedy relief and every one of these cases was saved.
There are in Oakland many cases of Heart Trouble, Paralysis, and Rheumatism, the sufferers from which are unable to give to Fong Wan's office. Although Fong Wan is busy from dawn until dark with those who throng his office, in the evening he frequently drives in his auto to visit these bed-ridden sufferers. A herbalist without an automobile that he can drive himself is neither up-to-date nor 100 per cent efficient.
The foregoing case was due to the blood poisoning. So it was far more serious than a case of eczema or skin disease, or locally infected on the skin by foreign substance. Skin diseases or eczema are disagreeable but they are not dangerous.
FONG WAN HERB CO.
UNPARALLELED HERBALIST
This company guarantees that the FONG WAN HERBALIST has relieved more sufferers in the East Bay Cities than many other herbalists combined.
548 Eighth Street, cor. Clay, Oakland, Calif.

To Be a Leading Herbalist

one must satisfy the following requirements:
FIRST—He must prove his ability by relieving sufferers.
SECOND—He must have a liberal education.
THIRD—He must be honest and of good character.
FOURTH—He must write a master treatise in regard to Herbal Science.
FIFTH—He must make his work so noteworthy that it will result in feature articles in the newspapers.
Y. L. Chan long ago satisfied all of the above principles and is NOW qualified as "America's Leading Herbalist." Moreover, he speaks the English language fluently which is one of the many reasons why he meets with such consistent success in treating Americans.
Diseases of the stomach, heart, liver, lungs, blood, kidneys, bladder, throat, eyes, head, ears, legs, the nervous system and female trouble all have been treated by him.

LAD CRIES FOR 'DADDY' AS HIS MOTHER WINS HIM

Dramatic Story of Differences Told Before Mrs. Von Uhlit Granted Divorce.

Four-year-old George Von Uhlit, JJr., prefers his father to his mother, but his love ran counter to the decrees to justice today, for he was awarded to his mother in the trial of his parents' divorce suit in Superior Judge Mortimer Smith's court. Despite his preference he was carried from the courtroon by his mother, crying meanwhile for his "daddy."

A dramatic story of how he was placed between his two parents and told to choose which one he would prefer to go to, was recounted to Judge Smith during the trial today. Lula A. Von Uhlit, the wife, had filed the suit. She was awarded a decree.

Von Uhlit did not contest his wife's suit. The story of how the child was told to make his choice between his parents was told by Von Uhlit when he was called to give testimony as to the child's custody. At that time the boy was in the custody of the father and the court desired to find out why.

BOY PREFERS "DADDY."

"When I left home," said Von Uhlit, who broke down and cried during the recital, "we put the baby on the bed between us and told him to choose which one he wanted to go with. He ran to me and threw his arms around my neck and said, 'I want my daddy.'"

Despite the preference of the child Judge Smith awarded the little one's custody to the mother, who carried him from the court room while he was crying for his father.

Testimony offered by Mrs. Von Uhlit was that her husband continually found fault with her. "If I said black he was sure to say it was white," declared the witness.

Regarding her husband's alleged habit of keeping her waiting on all occasions, but particularly at dinner time, she said that her objections were met with the remark that "other people's time is more valuable than yours."

FAULT FINDING TOLD.

"When I did do things to suit him and tried to please him he did not mention it. I told him of this, and he said that if things did not suit he would let me know fast enough."

The witness said that her husband's habit of finding fault with her card playing was so notorious among their friends that when they were invited out the hostess would invariably say, "We are going to play cards, Mr. Von Uhlit, on the promise that there will be no post mortem."

Mrs. Von Uhlit complained that on numerous orcosions her husband slapped, kicked beat and cursed her.

A somewhat different picture of the marital troubles in the family was given by Miss Alma Young, University of California student, a sister of Mrs. Van Uhlit, who lived at the Von Uhlit home for over a year. Under questioning by the court Miss Young said that it was "a fifty-fifty matter as to who started the fights. First one and then the other. Both swore and both kicked and slapped."

"Then the one who cried quits first lost, is that the way?" asked Judge Smith.

"Nobody ever cried quits," said Miss Young.

Beside being granted the decree and custody of the child, Mrs. Von Uhlit was given $25 a month for the little one's support.

PROWLER GIVEN 60 DAYS.

RICHMOND, Aug. 22.—Although he cried bitterly and begged mercy of Judge C. A. Odell, Sam Deacona will be obliged to serve a sixty-day sentence for vagrancy in Martinez. He is accused by the officers of having been found wandering about the inner harbor district at 3 o'clock in the morning. He gave his residence as San Francisco and his age as 52 years.

Tragedy in Funland

100 CLOWNS WILL FEATURE CIRCUS HERE AUGUST 30

Circus day with its calliope and camels, peanuts and traditions of pinkish refreshments is to be featured this year with a special contingent of 100 clowns, each possessed of a new bag of tricks. The day is to be August 30, and the entertainers those of the combined Ringling Bros.-Barnum & Bailey organizations.

The secret of the clown business as it is passed on from the biggest clown of the circus, is that new tricks are essential every year, but that many of the old ones positively cannot be done away with.

The clown say that people ask them why they use some of the old stunts over and over again, year in and out. The answer is, they say, that the tricks have become traditional adjuncts of the circus, just like the elephant and the bearded lady. What would anybody think of a circus that didn't have at least one clown kicked by a mule? Answer, according to the clown: Nothing.

Another important rule about clown tricks is that they must be free from suggestiveness of an undesirable nature. The idea is to make fun and any seasoned clown is entitled to try for that result in any way he likes. If his act does not go he abandons it before the management can take a hand because, the clowns say, there is nothing so discouraging to a clown as to fail to produce a laugh.

Swedish Ore Field Tapped By Trolley

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The electrification of the most northerly railroad in the world has just been completed and inaugurated. This electric railway has a length of 285 miles, and is the second longest in the world, being surpassed only by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad in the United States.

The Swedish railroad links the iron ore mining districts of Lappland with the Svartoen and Narvik ports in the north, and, before being completely electrified, had carried 75,000,000 tons of iron ore valued at nearly $260,000,000.

OAKLAND SCHOOLS SHOW BIG GAINS IN REGISTRATION

Corrected Figures Point to 2276 More Children Than Year Ago.

Corrected figures on school registration for the new term show a total increase of 2276 over last year, and this number is still going up, owing to the delay in the return of students working in grainfields, canneries and fruit orchards.

Educational officials assert that they expect an increase of nearly 3500 in the Oakland schools before the school term is over. The total enrollment to date is 37,280 as against 35,004 at the last term.

In order to accommodate the rush of new students, the school department has been shifting portable buildings about the city for the past month. By mistake, a portable for Chinese students in a West Oakland school was taken away and the young Chinese, starting for school, found their school absent. Complaints were sent to the educational department and a portable school was rushed on a truck to the Chinese.

PRISONER OVERCOME.

Breaking away from Policeman P. B. Simmons, after he had been arrested on charges of being drunk and disorderly, Mike Slattery created a disturbance last night at Seventh and Clay streets, but was re-captured by passers-by. According to the police, Slattery resisted so vigorously that he had to be removed to the Emergency Hospital after he had been overcome by numbers. He was charged with resisting an officer.

ST. GEORGE SONS URGE LOYALTY TO AMERICAN IDEALS

Tribute to Harding Also Paid By Convention in Session Here.

To continue to work in the field of American patriotism and carry on, as heretofore, the work of educating new arrivals from Great Britain to the need of loyalty to America and acceptance of American customs, is the keynote of the three-day convention of the Pacific jurisdiction of the Order of the Sons of St. George, as sounded at yesterday's session. This theme was set forth in a talk given by John Munns, grand president of the order.

Other features of yesterday's meeting, held at St. George hall, 2436 Grove street, included a ceremony in memory of the late President Harding; receiving delegates from the newly formed lodges of Stockton, Grass Valley and Fresno; reading of a letter from Supreme President George Tucker, in which the American spirit of the order was emphasized and in which renewed loyalty to the adopted country was urged.

A luncheon was served by the Daughters of St. George and the afternoon session was devoted to routine business. A sightseeing tour of San Francisco bay was enjoyed by the delegates today.

Further business sessions will be held tomorrow and the convention will close with a banquet tomorrow evening.

Barricaded Man Fires On Oakland Policemen

An argument concerning high-powered rifles led Roy J. Ward, a cement worker living at 3418 East Tenth street, to barricade himself on the front porch of his home last night, and to open fire on the Oakland police when members of the force came to arrest him after he had created a disturbance.

Shots were exchanged between Ward and Policeman Walter Wieben, but though the entire neighborhood was alarmed, there were no casualties. Ward was subsequently arrested, together with Albert and Arthur Chisholm, who live at 3240 East Tenth street.

The trouble started when Ward, who was passing the evening with the Chisholms, hold of his prowess with the rifle and offered to give a demonstration. He went to his home, the police say, and returning with his rifle boasted of its accuracy in sighting, of its calibre, and of several other good points of the weapon. Then, to give an ocular demonstration of his marksmanship, he fired two shots in the ceiling of the Chisholm home.

Neighbors notified the police that there was a shooting in the district, and when the officers went to investigate they found Ward barricaded in his own home, and were met with a volley. Policeman Wieben returned the fire, and Ward subsequently surrendered, his rifle being turned over to the police by a woman resident in the house.

Put your car in the extra value column

The car that costs $1,000 new will be worth $230 five years from now. That is the average figure — it means that some cars will be worth more and some less than the average. The cars worth more than $230 will be the cars that have the right kind of lubrication — perfected lubrication. National automotive authorities estimate that perfected lubrication extends the service from the car by one-third. Even if you don't keep your car five years, the value of a well conditioned car is higher at any time.

One of the three important ways to secure perfected lubrication is by regular use of Cycol — the perfected motor oil.

Cycol is perfected by the new Mexeon Process, used only by us. This process makes Cycol free from destructive "sulpho" compounds. As a result Cycol does not break down nor thin out rapidly under engine heat. It retains its lubricating value under severest operating conditions. It maintains the essential lubricating film between moving parts and reduces friction wear to a minimum. Let it help extend the life and value of your car.

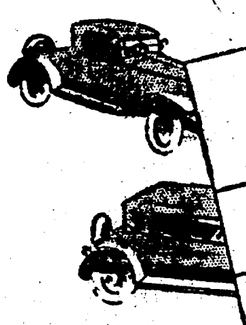
1. Clean the crank case thoroughly every 500 to 1,000 miles and when changing from one brand of motor oil to another.
2. Flush the crank case only with fresh motor oil — never with kerosene or so-called "flushing" oils.
3. Lubricate with correct grade of Cycol — the perfected motor oil, as shown on the Cycol Recommendation Chart.



AUTOMOBILE VALUE EXTENSION CHART

| This column shows value of car new | Average "turn-in" value after 5 years service with ordinary lubrication | Estimated value (½ more) with perfected lubrication |
|---|---|---|
| $ 500 | $ 80 | $ 107 |
| $1000 | $230 | $ 306 |
| $1500 | $325 | $ 433 |
| $2000 | $500 | $ 667 |
| $2500 | $625 | $ 833 |
| $3000 | $750 | $1000 |
